

NATION'S LABOR UNDER OFFICIAL RULE AUGUST 1

War Industries Are Warned to Employ Through No Other Agency

Philadelphia, July 15.—Government control of common labor throughout the country will become effective August 1. After that date the United States employment service will be the exclusive agency through which common labor may be employed by war industries having on their payrolls 100 or more persons.

While common labor only is specified in the preliminary statement issued by Edgar H. Felton, federal director for Pennsylvania, similar regulations governing employment of all skilled labor probably will be issued in the near future.

Pennsylvania's labor distribution will be handled from the employment service headquarters, on the second floor of the Finance building.

Agencies Already Praised Preliminary to actual operation of the government service there have already been established in this city seven employment agencies.

Labor Scouts One of a Job on and after August 1 all war industries employing a total of 100 or more persons in need of common labor will be required to make application therefor to the United States Employment Service.

Other Agencies Co-operate Acting in conjunction with Mr. Felton's office are the United States Employment Service, the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry and the Pennsylvania Commission of Public Safety.

Preliminary plans contemplate systematic distribution of labor. Each firm will be required to place its requisition for common labor with the nearest office of the United States Employment Service.
