COURT RULES IN JUDGMENT CASES

Judge McCarrell Hands Down Opinions in Three Suits; One For $7,157

down to-day by Judge S. J. M. McCarrell in mi-

In the suit of James H. Brenner Samuel Gold, proceedings for ner vs. Samuel Gold, proceedings for an amicable action in ejectment to get possession of a property had been started. Because of a dispute ever the terms of the lease the court decided it had no jurisdiction to rule on them and opened the judgment, suggesting that a suit for jury trial could be arranged between the parties.

A claim for $7,157.59 in a suit brought by William D. Markley against William F. Bushnell for payment for the erection of houses was ordered stricken from the rec-ord by the court because it had been improperly filed.

In the third suit, C. W. Hockley In the third suit, C. W. Hockley vs. W. D. Zeiters, the question of whether a lease was in effect was in dispute, and the court ruled that the evidence in such cases should be submitted to a jury.

A preliminary injunction restraining C. Duncan Cameron from starting any ejectment proceedings on an addermanic judgment order giving him the right to the property at 1807 State street, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Everts was granted to-day by the county court. The Everts allege that Cameron secured judgment for the property before Alderman Kramme, but that they hold a lease to it assigned to them by the person to whom the place was originally rented. It is also contended that Cameron is attempted to oust them or raise their rent to $35 a month. The first hearing will be held next Monday morning.

This is the verdict of one high in authority, who allowed himself to be beguiled from the position of conservatism that is the official attitude of our military departments.

This comment was made after the receipt of a message detailing the recapture of SE Agnan and La Chapelle by French and American troops, and reciting that the Germans had been so well mauled that they were unable to renew a general attack and confined their efforts to swell local increases into what could be narrated in their home reports as e narrated in their home reports as Grover C. Bower, who has been injured in the hip during the great German drive around Chateau Thierry, is probably in a base hospital in France. He is a brother of Gfles H. Bower, and is the first Wormleysburg boy to receive injuries in the war.

Bower was wounded in the counter attack of the Marines which drove the Germans back across the Marne and stemmed their advance on Paris. His relatives have not received any details and do not know how seriously he is injured.

Bower is a member of Company 5 of the 45th United States Marines. He has been-serving with the Marines for six years. He was in the Cuban and Haitien campaigns and went to France a year ago in June. His captain was killed in the attack in which he received his wound.

The Moline Universal attaches direct to the cultivator, and forms a compact unit with it that is controlled from the seat of the implement, where the operator must sit to do good work, dodging individual hills by shifting the cultivator gangs with his feet.

The position of the operator directly behind the right wheel of the tractor gives him an unobstructed view ahead. All he has to do is to keep the right wheel of the tractor a certain distance from the outside row and the whole outfit will go properly. An electrical governor permits the engine to be slowed down to a snail's pace for turning at the ends of rows, or for cultivating the first time over.
