JAPAN STIRRED BY PUBLIC WISH TO ENTER RUSSIA

Political Parties in Heated Meetings and Government Action Imminent

London, July 18.—Discussion of the question of Japanese interven-tion in Siberia has become general in Japan, and is occupying the at-tention of the officials and public to the exclusion of all other topics, says a Tokio dispatch dated Tuesday, to the Daily Express.

The impression is growing, the message says, that Japan is about to take action. Japanese business interests are chary regarding intervention and the stock market in Tokio on Tuesday was depressed, an early decision in favor of sending of an expedition being expected. The various Japanese political parties have held private meetings to consider the attitude of the Kensei-kai and Seiyu-kai groups, both these parties having hesitated to take a definite stand regarding the question of intervention. They are more inclined, it is said, to oppose than to accept the above move, but party feeling usually disappears when a national decision is reached.

Viscount Kato, former Foreign Minister, in an address to the Kensei-kai, while not opposing intervention and declaring that if the entente allies were in agreement and relied upon Japan's good fatth, Japan must not refuse, said, nevertheless, he doubted the possibility of an expedition reaching the Ural mountains and feared an advance only as far as nessage says, that Japan is about to utsk, would not achieve the ob-tive for which intervention would undertaken.
