

WOMAN SPEAKS TO N. Y. REPUBLICANS

"Politics Is Patriotism on the Job," Says Miss Helen Varick Boswell

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 18.—"Politics is patriotism on the job," declared Miss Helen Varick Boswell, executive secretary of the organization of Republican Women of the State in delivering the women's "key-note" speech at to-night's session of the Republican state convention.

"The men of New York have ceased to restrict the women to the four corners of the kitchen, the children, the cooking and the clothes. They have accepted and will use to the advantage of the state our aptitude for governmental as well as for home work."

"Now we are in the war and our one effort is to win it. The Declaration of Independence stands for most of us for something greater than the freedom of the body, it stands for the freedom of the spirit, and that is what we are fighting for. Because of that desire for the freedom of the spirit, comes the passion of patriotism which will be put into effect as regards unskilled labor on August 1, was announced to-day by the Department of Labor."

"A majority of the principal officials of the plan announced to-day calls for the formation in each state of a state advisory board of the employment service, composed of the state director of the employment service and two representatives each of employers and workers. The state boards will supervise the apportionment among communities of quotas of the number of workers to be supplied. The community boards, having the apportionment among the communities, will be organized on the same basis as the state boards. The representatives of labor in each case will be named by labor organizations and the employer members by employers' associations."

Paris, July 19.—Several south German papers, commenting on the American successes in counterattacks, demand that the German high officers publish the facts concerning the American peril as it is evident that they now hold the people in ignorance of the "new danger to German military success."

London.—Germans who are sent back to Germany after having been interned in England, are shocked at the treatment they receive and at conditions prevailing in their fatherland. This is shown by letters received by friends of some of the prisoners who have been repatriated.

Five men from the Harrisburg recruiting party left to-day for training camps where they will undergo instruction for commissions. Four men, who were sergeants on the recruiting party, will go to the Field Artillery Officers Training Camp at Taylor, Md.

For the first time in years Harvard has no athletic coaches under contract or salary. Athletics here are at an absolute standstill and no information can be obtained regarding the future.

Eleven old baseballs are going to keep some United States soldiers warm next winter. It can't be done? A few weeks ago a woman in the East wrote E. B. Johnson, President of the American League, asking if old baseballs would do for a year to make sweaters. He summoned his stenographer, Miss Dorothy Hummel, who is an expert at knitting. She took 16 balls to town, washed and spliced the yarn and put together a sweater of extreme weight and texture. It is twice as heavy as the ordinary kind.

LABOR TO HAVE VOICE IN U. S. SPEED PROGRAM

Each State Will Have Advisory Board in Directing Forces of Workers

Washington, July 18.—Admission of employers and workers to the counsels and operation of the government's labor recruiting and distribution service which will be put into effect as regards unskilled labor on August 1, was announced to-day by the Department of Labor.

Members of Council, at a conference to be held this evening, will attempt to decide finally what action to take on the proposed ordinance. Weeks ago the ordinance, combining all of the present city regulations, of the equipment of the various streets, and other rules, was introduced by Mayor Keister. The speed limit was fixed at fifteen miles an hour.

Some members, at the time, said they would oppose the ordinance if it was declared it would be impossible to handle traffic in the city with the proposed limit. Increasing traffic in the business district may result in the use of the equipment.

Motorists, using the city highways, declare that the semaphore system prevents misunderstandings which occur between traffic police and automobiles when arm signals are used.

During the excitement attendant upon the receipt of the news of the American victory last night, Hayes said to have refused to take off his hat during the playing of the national anthem. A party of patriotic citizens passing ordered him to remove his hat, and when he failed to do so it was knocked from his head. Police say when he stooped to pick it up he struck one of the women in the crowd who had ordered his headgear removed.

A conference was held to-day to determine what action will be taken regarding his status on the police force. The chief of police was unable to say without advice from the Mayor whether the patrolman will retain his position as a member of the city police force.

Dye denied the assault on the Brown woman, and declared that he would bring a serious charge against "two women and a doctor." He said he would secure permission, if possible, to reopen the case against the trio which was ignored by the grand jury at a criminal court session a few months ago.

New York.—One of the methods practiced by the German authorities to Germanize Belgium is to force the German language upon Belgian children. This is indicated by an article in the Cologne "Gazette," a copy of which has been received here.

London.—As a basis for calculating the amount of food which must be provided for the human system the inter-allied scientific food commission has found that an average man of 14 pounds working eight hours a day requires food having an energy value of 3,300 calories.

AROUND THE BASES

Promoters had begun negotiations for staging a match between Carpentier and Bink McClosky, the Philadelphia light-heavy, who recently outpointed Albert Lurie, a promising French heavyweight, in a bout at Boston.

The financial conditions confronting the majority of the larger eastern college and university athletic associations are causing considerable careful accounting in an effort to keep a balance in the treasury. The lack of football games, the chief source of revenue, has cut deeply into the surplus of treasuries, and where heavy fixed charges obtain, there is danger of a deficit unless the situation changes.

Under the direction of a one-armed captain and coach, the rifle team at the State University of Iowa has won the target championship of America. Coach Don Price, who is handicapped by the loss of his left arm, was declared individual champion in Boston.

They are telling one on a Boston promoter who raged because his boxer-fighter fell down on the job. "I weighed in alright before the fight," protested the pug.

COMEDY BILL AT MAJESTIC

Plenty of Laughs For Audiences; Enjoyable Dancing Offering

Comedy offerings take leading places on the bill at the Majestic for the weekend. A good dancing act opens the program and three of the others are fine laugh makers.

"Behind the Screen."—Charlie Chaplin needs no recommendation in film comedy and this picture is like many others by him, full of original stunts which are sure to cause many laughs.

Mac Art and Marlene.—These centerliners open the bill with a "fast and enjoyable dance novelty which could also be called a dance sensation."

Merritt and Bridewell.—The audience liked these girls so well last night when they first came on that an encore was necessary after many bows. Their song program is varied and sure to please.

"The Submariners."—Listed as a big laugh sensation Quinn and C. Bakers, whose ludicrous antics keep up a perfect furor of laughter during the time they occupy the stage. As a "nut" comedian, there are few who surpass the untouch Jim Harkins, who is assisted by the dapper Merton, a pot pourri of comedy and song that finds a hearty welcome.

"The Scarlet Road."—In which Miss Gladys Brockwell is the heroine. It is into this life that Victoria Mabel Holloway (Gladys Brockwell) walks when she comes from the country to the city. Attracted by the glare without realizing the temptations.

Double attraction at the Regent to-day and to-morrow, both worth while pictures. "Fatty" Arbuckle and "Fatty" and "Chas. Ray" funny when he is at the Regent.

The story of "The Family Skeleton" deals with a child who is orphaned by his own selfish guardian that he has inherited his father's craft. A whole-some chap never existed.

There are two good reasons why the Puxtang Park Theater is popular in the city. One is because the Park Theater playhouse is one of the coolest and most comfortable in the city.

Patrolman John S. Dye, 257 Forsyth street, a member of the city police force, who was arrested on a serious charge brought against him by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Harrison Brown, 1182 Christian street, yesterday morning, was held under $500 bail after a preliminary hearing before Alderman Nicholas this morning.

A conference was held to-day to determine what action will be taken regarding his status on the police force. The chief of police was unable to say without advice from the Mayor whether the patrolman will retain his position as a member of the city police force.

WILL GET $1,150 FOR OLD BRIDGES County Commissioners to Sell Abandoned Structures in Steelton Two old iron bridges crossing the canal in Steelton at Conestoga and at Treweek streets, have been sold to the County Commissioners to Williams & Freedman at a bid of $28,800. It is estimated that there are forty tons of iron in the structures and by the sale the county will receive about $1,150. The bridges crossing the canal behind Front street, as the city has no longer used them, will be sold to the County Commissioners to Williams & Freedman at a bid of $28,800. It is estimated that there are forty tons of iron in the structures and by the sale the county will receive about $1,150.

War Work Draws Many From Local Post Office Since the beginning of the war many of the older men in the forces of the Harrisburg post office have dropped out for one reason or another. The most recent resignation was that of George Tippett, superintendent in charge of the MacLay street station, who will accept a position with the Harrisburg Foundry and Machine Works. Mr. Tippett has been in the postal service for 25 years. There has also been a considerable change in the force of carriers through the demands of the war. W. H. Cockle, a well-known carrier, died this week.

Receipts From Fines Are $3,000 More Than 1917 Receipts at the prothonotary's office for the first six months of 1918 for fines, costs and jury fees total $2,000 more than for the same period in 1917. The amounts paid in fines and costs are turned over to County Treasurer Mark Mumma every three months. Prothonotary Charles E. Pass paid into the treasury $5,850.20, which had been received at his office from January 1 to July 1 this year. Last year during that period $5,823.94 was received and paid into the county treasury.
