WHOLE GERMAN ARMY IN MARNE SECTOR IS IN PERIL

REPORTS from Paris early this morning indicate that the counter-offensive of the Americans and French, in which they yesterday wrested more than a half dozen miles of territory along the Marne sector from the Germans...

By Associated Press New York, July 19.—Cabled dispatches indicate that the Americans and the French on a 25-mile front along the Marne sector have won a brilliant victory over the Germans...

Already the Americans and the French had taken more than 10,000 miles of territory in places over this 25-mile front and have not stopped. The prisoners have not been counted, but they will run up to thousands...

The next few hours will tell whether or not a large slice of the German forces which have been attacking Rheims, is to be cut off and either routed or captured. The whole Marne salient held by the Germans is in danger...

The allied staffs are now occupying the headquarters which the Germans held in the morning. The allies have reached, roughly, the line of Belleau, Courchamps, Rethel, Villers Herlon, Chaudon and the heights dominating Soissons...

The greatest progress made up to latest reports were about ten kilometers, or a little over six miles. After passing this objective set for the operations of the morning the Americans, in co-operation with the French south of Soissons launched a second powerful attack at noon...

Showing the effect of splendid training, the American troops went forward swiftly and fought with fury. Nothing seemed to stop them, especially in the region of Soissons and to the south of that city. Light and heavy pieces were moved up as the troops advanced and from each barrage ended shells from the American guns were deluging the enemy's rear areas...

The enemy early began to bring up strong reinforcements. Fresh troops have appeared at various points and a heavy counterattack will probably have to be withstood. Americans in Bashing Attack On the line south of Soissons the American troops carried all their objectives in the second attack with ELYSIA SUNK BY SUB By Associated Press An Atlantic Port, July 19.—The Anchor Line steamship Elysia, 6,377 tons gross, was sunk by a German submarine May 23 in the Mediterranean while carrying cargo from the East. It was reported that a passenger arriving on a British ship, the Elysia was one of a party of twenty-two vessels. The ship was saved.

HERSHEY PLANT

OPEN TO PUBLIC

More Than 4,000 People Are Guests of Company and Inspect New Building

The beautiful new South Cameron street home of the Hershey Creamery Company was opened to the public for inspection last night, more than 4,000 people being escorted through the big plant. The visitors were shown the entire process of ice cream and butter-making and incidentally they viewed what has been pronounced the most modern and best equipped plant of its nature in the state. The manufactory, it is said, ranks among the finest in the country.

The plant was opened to the public at 7:30 o'clock from that until the doors closed at 10 o'clock, visitors packed the building. Fifteen guides were kept busy the entire evening explaining the intricacies of the trade. The Stevens Memorial Methodist Church orchestra played during the entire evening.

The new building is located on the corner of South Cameron and Kitatinny streets. When the visitors arrived, they were first shown six huge ice cream freezers. In these freezers twenty-two gallons of ice cream is made every ten minutes. Each machine is equipped with a separate motor so that if it is desired to run one or two freezers they can be done without wasting power on the other freezers.

Passing through a corridor the visitors viewed the cream brick blending room through a window with three thicknesses of glass. The temperature of this room, it is estimated, ranges from zero to ten degrees below. The next sight is the cutting and wrapping of the bricks. The shipping and packing department where thousands of quarts of ice cream are prepared and shipped daily is an interesting sight. Here was seen an ice crusher which crushes a 300-pound cake of ice in five seconds. The salt elevator is another innovation. It is so arranged that the salt may be dropped in any quantity upon the ice when the cream is being packed for shipment.

4,000 Gallons of Cream In the last of the 1,000 gallon of ice cream may be hardened into brick at the same time. There are four rooms, each with a capacity of a thousand gallons of cream. The big sanitary can washer. "We stick a can in one end and in a few moments it is ejected from the other end, completely washed," the guide explained.

There is an immense air compressor and also two small compressors in the plant. The large compressor is driven by a 15-horsepower motor and has a flywheel fourteen inches in diameter. A huge boiler generating 150-horsepower is another feature of the machinery that attracted a great deal of attention.

Probably the most interesting thing on the first floor is the ice-making plant. "I've always wanted to see how ice is made," the comment heard on all sides. The Hershey plant has a daily output of thirty-three tons of ice.

There are two milk storage rooms on the second floor. Here milk is kept pure and sweet. That the employees of the company are given every opportunity to exceeding the institution and to meet its budget for the ensuing year. Pledges totaling $16,733 were reported to-day. Pledges from persons volunteering aid will raise the total and no doubt put it beyond the $17,000 figure.

That the campaign for the necessary funds has been successful was made known at to-day's luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. of the committee in charge of the drive. Pledges reported at the luncheon to-day totaled $2,315. Complete figures of the drive are: Finance Committee, William T. Hill, drop chairman, $8,100; Team 1, Arthur D. Bacon, captain, $1,151; Team 2, A. L. K. Thomas, captain, $1,509.50; Team 3, Flavel L. Wright, captain, $1,690; Team 4, Joseph H. Wallack, captain, $1,266; Team 5, Harry L. Leonard, captain, $1,016.50.

Reporters were commencement of drive $2,000. In order that money might be saved for the institution, the finance committee reported that its members had pledged. The debt of $7,000 will be paid off by part of this amount immediately after the next meeting of the board of directors. This will result in a saving of approximately $420.

With the announcement that the drive had been successful, Secretary Reeves of the institution made a few remarks extending his congratulations to the workers for their successful efforts. The oversubscriptions can well be utilized, he declared, in expanding the scope of the activities of the institution.

Highly gratified by the success of the efforts of the committee, Chairman Hill proudly whatever that "Harrisburg can do, whatever she wants, she needs only to get started." He announced that no further subscriptions would be asked by the institution until June 1919.

Ex-Mayor William J. Bowman, was one of the men at the luncheon and was highly gratified at the success of the drive. He has been active in the establishment of the boy's camp near Liverpool, when it was decided to have no State Y. M. C. A. camp, and is highly elated over the success with which the camp is being conducted.

He believes that the scope of the Y. M. C. A.'s camp could well be broadened he said. The camp might be made to extend over a greater period of time with more boys. It might be well he thought, to establish a camp for the men at some convenient location under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

The Harrisburg Rotary Club came in for an especially large share of praise from Secretary Reeves for the efforts they have put forth in behalf of the drive. Outside of the Y. M. C. A. board of directors, he believes there is not a group of men in Harrisburg that have done more hearty work to make the drive a success. President E. N. Hershey, of the Rotary Club, a member of one of the teams, when called on for a few remarks said that the Rotary Club has been only too glad to give its hearty support to the Y. M. C. A. and the cause for which it is working. "The organization will continue to give its best efforts," he said "towards any work that means anything to the welfare of Harrisburg and its citizens."

Paris, July 19.—Several South German papers, commenting on the American success in counter-attacks, demand that the German high officers publish the facts concerning "the American peril" as it is evident that they now hold the people in ignorance of the "new danger to German military success."

A majority of the principal German papers continue to ignore the existence of the American Army in France, dismissing the American successes with a few lines.

Snapshots at Camp Bowman, Near Liverpool

Here are a few snapshots at Camp Bowman, where the Y. M. C. A. boys are encamped, near Liverpool, the pictures made on the occasion of the visit of the Harrisburg Rotary club to the camp. The boys are having a great time. Last night they gathered around the camp fire for their final stunts this year, as they leave for home to-day. They have had a delightful time and are all enthusiastic over next year's prospects.

CLEAR OF DEBT Y. M. C. A. ENDS BUDGET DRIVE

Fine Showing Made by All Force Workers Meeting at Luncheon Today

The Central Y. M. C. A. will be free of debt and its budget for the ensuing year provided for.

Harrisburg citizens have subscribed and oversubscribed the $16,000 asked of them to pay off the indebtedness of the institution and to meet its budget for the ensuing year. YANKEES PRESS ON IN FACE OF THE ENEMY forced their line westward in the Roi and Courton woods, retaken Moulin d'Ardre and improved the line at Bouilly.

The capture of four cannon, machine guns and 400 prisoners in these operations is reported.

There is no mention in the official reports of fighting along the Marne east of Chateau Thierry or east of Rheims, in the Champagne sector.

The allied plunge against the German line south of the Aisne, so far as definitely known, advanced to an extreme depth of nearly six miles, the deepest penetration being at Buzancy on the west bank of the Crise river, southeast of Soissons.

The railroad leading south from Soissons to Chateau Thierry thus is under the direct fire of the allied artillery while the railroad leading from Courmelles to Longpont has been cut. Further south the allies have reached Chouy, within seven miles of Nanteuil Notre Dame, on the only other line of railroad upon which the Germans can rely for supplies for their forces along the Marne from Chateau Thierry to Dormans. This is the railroad communications of the enemy are placed in extreme jeopardy.

While it is much too early to consider the allied smash against the German lines as a great success, except insofar as it may well serve to complete the check of the German offensive, the results obtained during the first day's fighting may be reasonably compared with those reported by the Germans after the first day's fighting south of the Aisne in their great attack on May 27.

The allies advanced at all points to an average depth of a little less than three miles. They captured, according to unofficial reports, 13,000 prisoners and one hundred cannon. The number of men involved is not known. The Germans with 225,000 troops engaged, broke through the allied line north of the Aisne. They captured 15,000 prisoners, according to their own figures. Berlin did not report the capture of cannon in its statement on the first day's fighting.

While it is altogether probable that the allies did not face such strong positions as those held by the French along the Chemin des Dames, the results of the first day's battle compare very favorably with the German effort on May 27, when the Germans were not called upon simultaneously to face a major offensive against another sector of the line not many miles away.

There is a note of conservatism evident in the language of the French official statement and in the comment of the Parisian press on the newest phase of the struggle. It is evident the results of General Mangin's mighty efforts are awaited before anything more than a mere counter-stroke against the enemy is chronicled.

The next few days will determine the exact character of the operation now going on between the Aisne and the Marne. Even if it comes to a halt to-day, it seems probable it will have accomplished its purpose—the relieving of the pressure against Rheims, for General Ludendorff probably will not continue his offensive on the south while his right flank and rear are seriously menaced.

A matter of intense interest in the manner in which the Germans meet the new onslaught. There have been reports relative to the low morale of the enemy forces, but these must be proved by actual developments before they can be generally credited. If the Germans hold the allies after having been flung back with a rapidly that seemed like disorganization, the fighting qualities of the enemy troops must be considered to be as good as null.

So far as reports tell of the situation the German advance from Dormans to Rheims has come to a halt. This is the situation, likewise, east of Rheims. Raiding operations are reported on the Montdidier-Noyon and Neuvre fronts and also along the British lines.

ALDERMAN BRINGS SUIT

Alderman George L. Smith, of the Fourteenth Ward, brought action against H. F. Esterbrook, of the Dayton Cycle Company, charging him with false pretense. The alderman says he purchased an automobile tire from Esterbrook and that it was supposed to be vulcanized. He says that cement was placed in the tire. Esterbrook was released on bail for a hearing before Alderman James DeShong to-night.

GREAT VICTORY INSURES NATIONAL MEN WILL WIN

Realizing Sense That Table Is Turned on Foe and His Defeat Near

Washington, July 19.—The nation to-day came to a realization that its army in co-operation with the gallant soldiers of France had won its first great victory on European soil. The American people saw clearly that American soldiers, many of whom were in civilian life, 12 months ago, had received their first baptism of fire and in six hours had won more ground taken over prisoners and captured more war supplies from the enemy than did the Germans in three days of their most desperate offensive along the Marne early in the week.

The belief was expressed in official circles that the tables had been definitely turned. Events of to-day, however, were awaited eagerly. It was realized that under the Germans were completely demoralized by the surprise attack on the twenty-five mile front, stiffer fighting would ensue to-day.
