

HOOVER TELLS FOOD LEADERS OF U. S. PROGRESS

Call Next Year to Be Less, Giving More Ships For U. S. Soldiers

By Associated Press
London, July 23.—The conference of food controllers of the allied governments was formally opened this morning by John Robert Clynes, the British food controller. Herbert C. Hoover, the American food administrator, attended the meeting, as did the food controllers of Italy, France, Belgium and other countries. Mr. Clynes was accompanied to the session by Waldorf Astor, the new Parliamentary Secretary to the British Food Department.

The American food administrator spoke of the great problem of agricultural substitution, which he said, was dominated by two critical and related factors, the first of which was time and the second expenditure in fodder and land productivity.

"To increase our beef production," continued Mr. Hoover, "would require from three to five years. On the other hand, we could bring about an enormous increase in our meat and fat production through swine, within nine to twelve months. After announcing that all anxieties had passed, Mr. Hoover continued:

"We are all building ships as a part of our submarine defense. We now have built up our food reserves in the nearest market as a further defense. The call for ships for food next year will be less than last, and consequently we will have more ships for American soldiers."

K. O. P. STANDS FIRMLY FOR WAR

Full Support of Fraternity Is Behind Nation During Struggle

Members of the various colored Knights of Pythias lodges of the state stand squarely on a platform which advocates the prosecution of the war to a finish. This was indicated this morning in the statement of a prominent member of the order made to a Telegraph reporter.

"We are backing the government as much as we can," the official commented. It was made public this morning that B. J. Collier, grand chancellor of the state grand lodge has purchased Liberty Bonds to the amount of $2,000 for the order.

From the ranks of the eighty-five lodges of the state, sixty-six men have stepped forward with ranks of commissioned or non-commissioned officers and are now doing their bit fighting for humanity.

The morning session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania in twelfth annual convention, at the Chestnut Street Auditorium, was featured by the appointment of a number of committees to aid in the government of the sessions. The committees appointed are:

Laws and supervision—George W. Mitchell, Frank R. Seward and Arthur Thomas.
Finance—R. C. Fox, J. Kidd, Simon John, Fred Hopkins and C. W. Devonshire.
Appeals and grievances—George Grant, P. C. Moore, George Holley, Frank Claisen, R. L. Johnson.

State of the order—Isaac Stewart, R. W. Henry, J. E. Taylor, E. Gunn, Fred A. Lew.
Officers report—John P. Turner, J. P. Jones, William Rodgers, Wilfred Holmes, Giles T. Young.
Resolutions—Thomas N. Brown, P. H. Hughes, Fred Steward, George W. Mitchell, Wilfred Holmes, W. D. Clinton, N. D. Peach, E. A. Summy.

Mileage and per diem—W. D. Clinton, Jesse Harris, Charles Berry, Necrology—R. W. Williams, John T. Price, W. H. Wilson, H. C. Vasser, E. C. Antoine.
About 200 delegates are present at the convention session. They represent eighty-five lodges of the state. In connection with the convention of the Grand Lodge of the state, the sessions of the state convolve of the Order of Calantha and of the Uniform Department are also being held here. The Order of Calantha, the women's auxiliary and the Uniform Department includes knights of the order in full uniform. The sessions of the Order of Calantha are being held in the Odd Fellows Hall, Fifth and Briggs streets, and the encampment of the Uniform Department is being held on the Island.

At the public reception accorded the colored Knights of Pennsylvania, at Technical High School Hall, last night, Sir B. G. Collier, the grand chancellor of the Pennsylvania jurisdiction, was the principal speaker, in responding to the address of welcome delivered by Mayor D. L. Keister. "Chancellor Collier said: 'It is with very great pleasure that I rise to accept your words of welcome to the colored knights of Pennsylvania, and I not only voice the sentiments of myself, but of this splendid body of knights and members of the various Courts of Calantha. And, gentlemen, I not only have pleasure in accepting your generous words of welcome on this auspicious occasion, but I likewise have pleasure in being able to indicate the onerous and arduous sentiments of a race that possesses neither traitor nor slacker, and we have proven our loyalty and fidelity to this American Government, and that, too, against the great evil possibility of the color line which we have pleased in saying that charges of treason and disloyalty and anarchy have been heaped upon our shoulders, and that we have fought against this black race of ours. [Tremendous applause.]

"The colored sons of Lincoln, if we are his children, without a doubt, I regret to say, that it is not fair that we should be driven from the walls in order to make room for strangers. Yet, it cannot be denied that it is the colored knights who have helped to make it what it is. The people of this country, notwithstanding their unpopularity and rejection, will yet embrace us and repossess us again. [Applause.]

"When President Wilson put upon paper the fourteen principles for which we are fighting, we are all of us fighting for liberty, and the world must also be made to know, and this is our opportunity, that we are fighting for the liberty of 12,000,000 colored Americans. [Tremendous applause.]

"I would also have the President and the people of this country to know, and it is for this we are all working and fighting, I feel that the white man has not got all that is in him. In every conflict we have been with you in every struggle for either your or my freedom, and we have fought with you and for you from Maine to Mexico, from Cuba to Carlisle, and I feel that we are all working and fighting, I feel that the white man has not got all that is in him. In every conflict we have been with you in every struggle for either your or my freedom, and we have fought with you and for you from Maine to Mexico, from Cuba to Carlisle, and I feel that we are all working and fighting, I feel that the white man has not got all that is in him."

"We are with you in this mighty struggle for democracy, nor will I give up until every man is a citizen, and I bid you, brethren, to-night don't despair if this government should fail to buy Liberty Bonds—buy them; if the Red Cross joins it with their own money, why will you not buy them as men and as citizens, and when the world's democracy shall be full of men, we will have won the right to full rights and citizenship."

"Again I thank you Mr. Mayor for your words of welcome, and I feel that your privilege you have so generously accorded, and while in your midst we will not hesitate to do a good deed, as will reflect credit upon your splendid city."

Lykens Miners Ask Big Increase in Wage Scale
Lykens miners, in company with others affiliated with the United Mine Workers of the Ninth district, will soon make some new demands on their employer, including advances of 100 per cent. The demands will be presented within thirty days, John C. Zisner, of Lykens, representative of the Ninth district to the international convention, announces.

The miners will demand that their wage increases go into effect on April 1, which will involve the payment of $3,000,000 in back wages in the district. Six thousand miners are involved. The installation of the "check-off" system, which provides that each miner's wage is automatically taken from the mine, is also asked.

The miners will also demand that the price of coal to the public remain the same. The amount of production will be raised 50 per cent, the miners believe the operators will still make much money. The operators are now gaining big returns on their operations, despite the fact that the price has been fixed by the fuel administration, the miners believe.

FOE UNABLE TO STOP PROGRESS OF AMERICANS

The enemy counterattacked heavily from the direction of Vandieres but these onslaughts were beaten off. Allies Make Steady Progress

On the front between the Marne and Rheims the British have captured the Petichamp wood, near Marfaux, with 200 prisoners and fourteen machine guns.

Well-informed opinion in London regards the situation on the battle front as going well for the allies. It is not expected, however, that the advance will be so rapid as previously, the Germans having now had plenty of time to get their reserves into position. They are also displaying a disposition to fight for all they are worth.

Germans Stiffen Resistance

In their fighting along the Marne the French are reported to be experiencing great difficulty in making a passage of the river at some points, being stubbornly opposed by the German infantry, well supported by artillery and machine guns.

The Germans are stiffening their resistance between the Ourcq and the Aisne rivers and are bringing up guns.

The French at 9.15 o'clock this morning began a new attack in the region northwest of Montdidier, according to advices received here shortly after noon to-day.

The French have captured Outchy-le-Chateau. The Americans on the front south of Soissons have captured the town of Bazancy.

Gain First Mile

At 11 o'clock this morning the French were reported to have advanced a mile on a front of four miles.

It was thought, on the basis of the advices that the attack in the Montdidier region might be on a wider front than the one mentioned.

French Take Villages

The French, not content with the work they have done in the southern battlefield, attacked along the front of Montdidier, in the Somme sector, last night and occupied the villages of Matly-Rainval, Sauvillers and Aubvillers, which are situated on the edge of the Vesle river and immediately to the north of the French success earlier in the month, when they captured valuable positions over a three-mile front south of Soissons.

The new attack was over a front of about two and three-quarter miles and the occupation of Aubvillers shows there apparently was a penetration of German positions to a depth of a line and a quarter. Prisoners numbering 250 were taken by the French.

There are indications that the German preparations for retreat have not been completed. Large fires are reported burning at Eze-en-Tardenois, near the western flank of the German salient, and also at Eze-Purdennes, and a number of German lines southwest of Rheims.

Hold at Soissons

The Germans, however, have succeeded in holding up the allied advance on the line south of Soissons and have gained time for the withdrawal of their impeded legions, which now appear likely to be effected in safety.

The enemy may choose a line along the Ourcq for further defensive operations, but the presence of allied troops to the north of this stream may compel a retirement at least as far as the Vesle river. This is said to be indicated by concentrations of German troops at Fismes and other points along the Vesle.

Dominant Other Sector

The local success of the French north of Montdidier improves their line there. They now have secured positions which dominate the Vesle valley for several miles along a vital sector.

Further north the British have advanced their line slightly south of Hebutort, where they recently attacked and moved forward to the adjacent front over a mile. South of Merris and Meteren, in the Lys sector, in Flanders, the British lines also were improved and local success in the Hamel sector north of Albert aid in front of Amiens are reported.

Desperate Efforts of Huns Slow Up Allied Advance
Army headquarters moves ahead gradually as the line advances. The enemy airplanes have been active on observation work but the shells fired by the German artillery in an attempt to search out the allied rear indicate the airman failed to spot the allied positions. Many shells have dropped along the Marne at irregular intervals and little damage has resulted.

Hun Lines Levelled
Throughout the day the heavy guns of the allies bombarded the enemy lines with excellent results, according to aerial lookouts. Over all the territory retained the damage wrought by American and French guns shows the positions formerly held by the Germans suffered much more than the allied lines, notwithstanding that the volume of fire from the Germans was greater.

Further large numbers of prisoners were taken from the Germans yesterday.
