

ROOSEVELT NOT TO RUN IN N. Y. FOR GOVERNOR

Mind Dwells Continually on Problems of Conflict; Conditions Forbid Candidacy

By Associated Press
Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 23.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt issued a statement last night in which he declared that under no circumstances would he accept the Republican nomination for Governor of New York.

The former President made his announcement when he sent a telegram to Attorney General Merton E. Lewis, of Albany, in reply to a message which the Attorney General sent several days ago offering to withdraw from the race if the Colonel would become a candidate.

In his telegram Colonel Roosevelt said: "My work is for the men who are fighting in this war. My mind dwells continually on the problems of the war, on the international problems of the peace which is to close and justify the war and on the tremendous problems, social and industrial, with which we shall be faceted after the war is ended. This being so the very fact of my intense appreciation of the magnitude of the New York state interests with which the Governor of New York state must deal forbid my undertaking a task to which I could not bring the whole of whatever strength and thought and ability I possess."

Dauphin County Boys Hurt in Motorcycle Accident

Linglestown, Pa., July 23.—John Warfel, aged 16 years of Manada Hill, is in a critical condition at the Lebanon Sanatorium with a fractured skull, fractured jaw and double fracture of the left leg as the result of a motorcycle accident at Shavilleville. Walter Runkle, of Linglestown, is said to have driven the motorcycle on which he and Warfel were riding, into the automobile of John C. Brown, superintendent of the local plant of the Lebanon Valley Iron and Steel Company.

Young Runkle, also seriously injured and was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital.

OTTING AT CREEK
Camp Hill, Pa., July 23.—The annual picnic of the Presbyterian Sunday School was held at the rapids along the Conodoguinet Creek near Oyster's Point, on Saturday. About fifty persons attended. Games and contests furnished the amusement for the picnickers.

MECHANICSBURG CONTRACT IS UP

Street Lighting Agreement Comes Before the Public Service Commission

The Public Service Commission will hold hearings in Harrisburg only two days this week—Wednesday and Thursday, going to Allentown, where, in the court house, a hearing will be held in the numerous complaints against the Clear Springs Water Company.

Application of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for approval of the construction, operation and maintenance of a crossing at grade at a point where the industrial siding to connect the G. Senor and Sons crosses the public highway known as Harrisburg avenue and Mulberry street in Lancaster, a disputed case, will be heard here Wednesday. Contract between the United Electric Company and the borough of Mechanicsburg for street lighting will be up for approval also Wednesday.

Young Runkle, also seriously injured and was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital.

REPUBLICANS IN CONGRESS THINK TAXES TOO HIGH

Disposed to Insist New Bill Should Call For Six Billion Dollars

Washington, July 23.—Prospects of higher taxation than war necessities is revealed in the administration's financial program, compared with actual expenditures of the past fiscal year and the estimated expenditures of the present year.

The expenditures of the year which ended July 1, amounted to $13,500,000,000 in round figures.

The total appropriations and authorizations for the year aggregated in excess of $18,000,000,000.

The appropriations and authorizations for the present year, according to a statement issued by Chairman Sherley, of the House appropriations committee yesterday, aggregate in the neighborhood of $30,000,000,000. It is declared by Mr. Sherley, however, that this does not mean that the actual expenditures will amount to nearly so much.

It is now contended by Republicans that it is physically impossible to spend more than $18,000,000,000 during the present year. They therefore insist the tax bill, which is planned to make productive of $8,000,000,000 in revenue, should not be made to produce more than $6,000,000,000.

The administration is proceeding upon the sound principle of providing not less than one-third of all expenditures from taxation. There is no opposition to this program, but there is serious doubt of the accuracy of the administration's estimates of probable expenditures.

The total estimate of $24,000,000,000 announced by the treasury, is regarded as most nearly representing the amount the country will be able to spend.

More Money Than Needed
Congress appropriated and authorized expenditures for last year aggregating nearly one-third more than it was found possible to spend, notwithstanding that a great deal of money was wasted. The same portion of excess in the appropriations and authorizations for the present year, would bring the aggregate down to close to the estimate submitted by the Republicans.

The figures show that the government actually has received more money from Congress than it could spend.

This policy, it is recognized, must be continued until the war has been won, but the country is in the very fortunate position of being able to furnish more money than is needed. It is contended, however, that the government cannot spend more than $18,000,000,000 there is no economy in proceeding with a scheme of taxation based upon a contemplated expenditure of $24,000,000,000.

The first real controversy over the question of increasing war taxes has been started in connection with these varying estimates. While they have formulated no positive plans, the Republicans are strongly disposed to insist that the new tax bill should not be framed to produce more than $6,000,000,000. The Democrats will be guided by what the administration wishes, but they agree that it would simplify their labors if the administration would admit that it cannot spend as much money as it is asking for.

Letter to the Editor

PROFITEERING
To the Editor of the Telegraph:
Sir: Being in the neighborhood of your office on Saturday, I walked around to read your bulletins on the war and then to a nearby market where I asked the prices of potatoes. I was informed that the prices were 25 cents, quarter of a peck; 50 cents, half peck and $1 a peck. Thinking I was misinformed I called at several other stores but got the same quotations.

On Tuesday of last week I was in Baltimore and bought the same grade of potatoes for $4.75 a barrel, the freight charges being 38 cents. What do you think of this for conscientious profiteering? I am ready to make affidavit to the above facts. As an old Civil War man I never thought I should see such extortion and robbery. We have a class of people here who mistake liberty for license. Send a reporter around and see for yourselves. I refer you to the Lancaster Trust Company, the Lancaster Farmers' Trust Company, of Lebanon or Alexander Brown & Sons, of Baltimore, as to my integrity and you are at liberty to publish any part of this letter.

LUTHER G. SHERMAN,
Late 209th Pa. Vol., Lancaster.

A Telegraph representative calling on Donald McCormick, Dauphin County Food Administrator, was referred to F. L. Cook, who has supervision over retail affairs. Figuring up at $1 a peck, a barrel of potatoes would bring a total of about $19. Subtracting from this the price paid by Mr. Sherman, in Baltimore, $4.75, and adding 38 cents freight, would leave a balance of net profit amounting to $4.87.

"That," said Mr. Cook, "would certainly be profiteering; nearly 100 per cent. But the fact is that Baltimore gets potatoes much cheaper than we do here, it being nearer the South whence we are having most of our new potatoes. The local output is as yet small and by all tokens, owing to blight, it will be far from normal."

"Now the facts are that in Harrisburg this morning new potatoes are selling for eighteen cents a quarter of a peck, and seventy-two cents a peck. This means $7.20 a barrel and as a barrel costs approximately $1 more here than in Baltimore I cannot see that this retail rate is extortionate. In serving small quantities the customer generally asks that the measure be heaped up, and many heappings take from the contents of a barrel. The potato market has been fluctuating in most peculiar manner. Before new potatoes came in the price per barrel was low as $3.50. When new potatoes arrived the price took an awful jump to $7.50 a barrel. At present we are still depending on potatoes grown in the Carolinas and Virginias."
