

Little Talks by Beatrice Fairfax

"A man's work is from sun to sun. But a woman work is never done," says an old proverb.

The worthies who administer elections—I've forgotten their splendid titles—evidently do not agree with the proverb.

"Occupation—None." Well, the one that said that of workmen's wives must be innocent in the head.

When men do that, even for a few days, automatically they become "changed men," with a deeper respect for housework.

A great light breaks upon them, they begin to see where all the time goes that women spend in the business of keeping a family fed.

"Occupation—None." It is an economic description of a woman who does her own housework.

The wife of a wage-earning man works an unlimited number of hours and receives no cash return for her labor.

HER DAUGHTER WAS SAVED FROM OPERATION

Mrs. Wells of Petersburg Tells How.

Petersburg, Va.—"For two years my daughter suffered from a weakness and pains in her right side.

Every girl who suffers as Miss Wells did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, headache, dragging down pains, influenza, or ulceration would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial.

suppose I ought to be sorry. But, as I've remarked before, blood is thicker than water, so we cousins hang together.

"Well, John Moore is my first cousin," the matron said, slowly. "So his children are my first cousins once removed, and that makes them your second cousins, don't it?"

"There!" Clifford exclaimed triumphantly to the girl. "You know now what the relation between us is. You are my second cousins, aren't you? Acknowledge it, my dear."

"The girl tried to laugh. 'We are going to be late to the show if we don't start,' she parried. 'That is the only thing I acknowledge at the present moment.'"

"Thank you!" he exclaimed. "The car started, and he stepped aside to allow it to pass. Elizabeth looked back as they reached the gate."

"Good-night again, Mr. Butler," she called clearly. "The girls in the crowd were going walking with him instead of driving with Clifford Chapin. She wished it even more when her companion turned to her with a laugh."

"I meant every word of what I told you just now," she murmured hastily. "Really I did."

"Thank you!" he exclaimed. "The car started, and he stepped aside to allow it to pass. Elizabeth looked back as they reached the gate."

Fill Empty Bottles

Most of us have been told from childhood the story of the young prince who searched the world over for a buried treasure and at last found it under his own doorstep.

Many women are already forming neighborhood salvage clubs to assemble the empty bottles, glass and earthen jars, and boxes that ordinarily would be thrown away both at home and in the stores, and are redistributing them to women who have not enough other containers to hold their winter's supply of preserved and canned goods.

Jars—If screw-top glass jars are used, place cardboard and wax paper in cover, and dip in melted paraffin after lid is screwed on. Earthen jars in which fruit butter is held have fitted lids and may be sealed with sealing-wax.

Waterline Greens should not be blanched in hot water. This picture shows a simple method of blanching in steam, by placing them in a colander in receptacle with tightly fitting cover. There should be not more than an inch or so of water on the bottom of the receptacle and the water should not touch the greens.

Advice to the Lovelorn

THE TRUTH! DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I have been engaged to a young man for some time. Long ago another young man whom I had only thought of as a friend asked me to marry him. I refused, and he went on as though nothing had happened.

HOW DO YOU STAND? DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: A and B are both in love with me and they would both make good husbands, B making the better, being more generous and considerate of others.

COUSIN MARRIAGES DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am very much in love with my cousin and am sure she loves me also. We've been talking about getting married, but someone told me that it was not proper for us to be married.

Canning Without Sugar

The United States Food Administration is asking every one to buy for household use no more sugar than is absolutely necessary. This is asked in order that there will be some for canning. But fruits should be canned without sugar if possible.

Make Fruit Leather Mash ripe fruit (berries, cherries, figs, apricots, peaches and blue plums may be used) to a pulp, spread on lightly-oiled platters and dry in the sun or dryer. When dry, sprinkle with sugar, and pack away in jars or very tight boxes lined with wax paper.

Chance For Drill For Selected Men Through the selective service boards there is to be provided some system for instruction of men to be called into the service. Cocoa Nut Oil Fine For Washing Hair If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified coconut oil, which is pure and entirely greaseless, is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
