

TARDIEU GLOWS WITH PRAISE OF YANKEE TROOPS

Sharp American Ambassador, Points to Example Set by the French

Paris, July 30.—American soldiers in the fighting on the Marne salient showed themselves equal to the best

TRAFFIC OFFICER RECOVERS HEALTH

Now Has Voracious Appetite and Is Full of Energy

Tanlac is certainly the finest remedy on the market for stomach trouble, says Harry J. Winower, the traffic officer, stationed at Queen and Chestnut streets, Lancaster, Pa.

"I hadn't eaten any breakfast in years. I slept poorly.

"Now I am hungry for breakfast when I get up. I can eat and enjoy my meals. I sleep fine and wake up fresh and rested and full of energy and ambition.

"Tanlac has done wonders for me and I shall recommend it at every opportunity. Tanlac is now being introduced here at Gorgas' drug store.—Adv.

French troops, declared Andre Tardieu, French high commissioner to the United States, at a dinner in his honor last night at the American University union.

"The dark days are over, but there are hard months ahead, Captain Tardieu said.

"The first great battle in which your own troops have participated extensively has been a great victory. The part taken by your soldiers is well known in France. Every one at the front, including the enemy, knows well what the American Army is worth and what new power will be let loose in the course of the next few weeks under the folds of the Star Spangled Banner.

Hard Months Ahead

"The war is not over yet. Hard months are ahead of us, but we already have taken the initiative. As far as numbers go the critical times are over with us. Under the strong leadership of a chief who is worthy of France—Premier Clemenceau—we have held our ground. To-day, after some time on the defensive, the time for a victorious attack has come and the dark days are over.

"While greeting the completion of the first million American troops in France we have greeted the first success. In common with you Americans we and our gallant allies are standing ready for the supreme effort. The faith which is inspiring us will not falter."

Will Help to the End

William G. Sharp, the American Ambassador, in response said: "American soldiers could not help being brave after such examples of magnificent courage as displayed by the French troops. The first million is here. Another million will follow with as many millions more as are necessary to bring the cause of democracy to victorious peace."

Major Perkins, European Commissioner for the American Red Cross, and Prof. Paul Van Dyke, of Princeton, spoke of the determination of the United States to carry on the war until victory.

hotel. "But the hotel's not opened yet," reiterated Louis A. Sholtes, assistant construction manager, who happened to answer the telephone. "He said he intended to stop at the Penn-Harris. He always does what he says, so I know he's there."

The last brick in the walls will be laid late this afternoon, it is predicted by R. E. Hawes, general construction superintendent. The only brickwork to be done after this will be the building of chimneys and of the huge bake oven. This is to be fourteen feet square and is being built under the supervision of an expert baker. Here the toothsome delicacies for the epicureans who eat at the Penn-Harris will be prepared. Three floors are practically finished and are waiting for doors. Doors for the structure were shipped last week and it is expected that they will reach Harrisburg by tomorrow. Plasters are hard at work and are now plastering the dining room.

In every department of the work rapid progress is being made and men in charge predict that the big building will be ready for opening in October.

valley, along the easterly side of the front, towards the village of Aubilly. A certain amount of ground likewise has been gained near the center in the neighborhood of Villers-Agron-Aiguizy.

French Win Ground at Grand Rozoy The main advance on the westerly side of the front seems to have been at Grand Rozoy, about five miles northwest of Fere-Tardenois. The French here are progressing north onto the crest of the plateau between the Vesle and Ourcq.

There has been heavy fighting near Buzancy, five miles south of Soissons, and also in Plessier wood about five miles further south. In this latter locality, 45 prisoners were taken belonging to three divisions of the enemy now engaged in the Marne salient. There are seventy-one such divisions, of which ten belong to the northern army of Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria.

The enemy's withdrawal is reported still orderly and military opinion in London discounts the possibility of any rounding up of Germans in the salient.

MILLION MEN THROWN INTO GREAT BATTLE

began on July 15. The increase in the number of divisions engaged in the battle would appear to indicate he had since that time drawn heavily on other army groups. It also would seem that this action on his part reflects the importance of this battle in the eyes of the German high command.

Yanks Driven Back Through the German counter blow the Americans were driven back from Clerges, southeast of Fere-Tardenois, while to the northwest of Fere, the Americans also have been forced to retreat. The line which they had penetrated after passing through Grand Rozoy.

Buzancy, situated on the west side of the Crise river, above five miles south of Soissons, also has been the scene of heavy fighting, and the battle appears to have been general along the line south of that point, notably in Plessier wood, near where the front turns abruptly to the east.

On the other end of the battle line there have been sharp engagements, but reports from the front are making an advance at Aubilly in the Ardre Valley, west of Rheims. They also forced ahead farther down to ward the bottom of the pocket, at Villers-Agron-Aiguizy.

Blow of Great Violence

While these counter blows against the allied lines are general and of great violence, it is not believed in London that the enemy intends to make a real stand south of the Vesle river. Paris, on the other hand, seems to believe the Germans may have fixed upon the present location of their armies as the field upon which they will turn at bay.

There have been patrol operations along the British front, but nothing significant has occurred there. Little has been reported to amplify the Copenhagen dispatch to the effect that Turkey had broken relations with the British government. Amsterdam advices, however, indicate Turkey intends to pursue an aggressive policy in the Caucasus region, the field supposedly set aside for German exploitation. This may carry a measure of confirmation for the rumor that the quadruple alliance has broken over the division of spoils subsequent to the peace treaties with Russia and Rumania.

Lighting Kills Boy and Horse

Evanton, Wyo.—The death of a lightning bolt of Frank Koonitz, eleven, son of Edward Koonitz, a ranchman of the Bridger district, is the fourth from this cause in Wyoming in ten days.

The Koonitz boy was working with his father and a horse, snaking logs out of the timber, when the bolt struck. Recovering consciousness a few minutes later, the elder Koonitz found the horse dead and his son dying, the lad expiring before the father could succor him.

Fortunes of War Lead to Retirement of Well-Known Passenger Head

The merging of railroad facilities at Hagerstown has resulted in the removal of the general freight and passenger departments of the Cumberland Valley from Chambersburg and the retirement of H. A. Riddle, for many years general agent of the Cumberland Valley. Perhaps there is no other railroad man so widely known as Mr. Riddle. He had grown up with the passenger department of the Cumberland Valley and was at the front in its passenger traffic when the building of the business was in its infancy.

Not only in the railroad world is Mr. Riddle well known. There scarcely has been a single Presbyterian gathering in this section in which he was not active in his capacity as one of the elders of the historic Falling Spring Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. Dr. John Grier, president of the seminary, was once pastor. Not only has Mr. Riddle been earnest in church work, but Mrs. Riddle and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Riddle, as well, the latter being actively identified with mission work within Carlisle Presbyterian and a delegate to gatherings in Harrisburg frequently. The last time war activities were the themes of discussion and sacrifice.

Heiress Drives Milk Wagon During War

Marietta, Ohio.—Dorothy Dawes daughter of Beman G. Dawes, millionaire president of the Ohio Cities Gas Company, has decided to leave a luxurious mansion in Columbus and "do her bit" by driving a milk wagon in this city.

Miss Dawes is the first of the Columbus younger set to take up labor as a war necessity. James Devol, her employer, was crisp when reporters interviewed him.

"Miss Dawes wanted the job and I hired her," said he. "There is a scarcity of men for the work. Miss Dawes will receive the regular pay."

TURKEY OPENS ITS ARMS TO CAUCASUS

by the treaty, what was more natural for us than to take into consideration the necessities of this new situation created on our important eastern front? Could we close our ears to the appeal of the government of a people largely of the same race and same creed as ourselves?

"We are aware of the place and its present progress, to action under German control Tills and Bakur. This is a logical consequence of the duplication of the Brest-Litovsk treaty. How could this treaty be taken into consideration in the affairs of the Caucasus, seeing that the Bolshevik government has not even been able to return to us, in accordance with the treaty, our eastern frontier and that in the Caucasus influences entirely independent of the Bolshevik government have arisen.

This reported attitude on the part of Turkey may account in part for the report received through Copenhagen that Turkey and Germany had severed relations.

Washington, July 30.—No official advices of the reported break in relations between Turkey and Germany have reached Washington but the government would not be surprised if Turkey has been driven to an open rupture, as there is a well-founded background for the report. It has been known for some months that a deep and growing feeling of dissatisfaction has existed in Turkey over the treatment by the Germans. Reports that a Turkish mission recently had been trying in Switzerland to cultivate friendship with some of the allied governments have been received here. It would be natural, officials said, for the Turkish government to endeavor to find some new friends among the powers before breaking with its old associates.

Utah Is Passing Up Sports For Farming

Salt Lake City.—Outdoor sports in Utah to-day include only such pastimes as planting, hoeing and other farm work, according to a sporting authority who has made a canvass of sport activities throughout the state.

Baseball parks are used for grazing purposes, according to this authority, who says that in some instances the growth of grass is so high that grazing cattle or sheep are hidden. There seems to be not even a mention of sports in university circles. Fishing, however, still has its friends, but that is not strictly an athletic sport.

WITH FINGERS! CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off without pain

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy, so simple. Why wait? No humbug!

VALOR ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH TO WIN THE WAR

Chamber of Commerce Hears That Economic Conditions at Home Aid Victory or Defeat

"This war will be ended on an economic basis." So declared Dr. Clarence J. Owens, Washington, managing director of the Southern Commercial Congress, in his address at today's membership luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the Board of Trade Building. His subject was "The Importance of the Chamber of Commerce to the Winning of the War."

Wars have never been ended by valor, by courage, nor by sacrifices alone, he said. "Every conqueror nation has fought valourously, courageously and made sacrifices, but they have been settled by the breadlines. And breadlines will settle this war," he added.

The Chamber of Commerce in Harrisburg and in the whole United States, he believes, must be organized to prevent the institution of bread lines in the United States. Their organization with various departments devoted to various sources of activity, will do much to establish such an economic basis that breadlines will never form in the United States to bring with them military disaster, he maintains.

The Chamber of Commerce can aid in winning the war by helping the countryman, too, he said. It should be so organized that it may cooperate closely with the countryman so that their efficiency may be placed upon as high a plane as possible.

The farmer as an asset to the world and as a person to be aided by the Chamber of Commerce, he emphasized by telling the story of the farmer, who, after the doctor, the lawyer, the banker, the merchant and others told what they had done and were doing, said:

"And I feed the whole durned crowd."

"And it's almost true," Dr. Owens commented. Speaking on the Federal Farm Loan, in which he was instrumental in having passed, he said: "Some day that trade follows the flag, but trade follows the loan."

High tribute to the Yankee soldiers was paid by Dr. Owens. The Yankees, he firmly declared, are to be the weight which will swing the balance in this might conflict.

"Joffre stopped the Germans at the Marne, the Italians stopped them at the Piave, but the boys in khaki have stopped them at the Marne, crossed it too, and are driving the Huns on and on, he said. "They are going to continue to drive them on towards the capitals of the Central Powers in Europe until the conflict ends," he maintains.

This mighty war will be of benefit to America, he contends, for it is a war of ideals. In our great history of 142 years there have been five great wars, he mentioned.

It is resulting in new ideals of independence in Dr. Owens' mind. "It is teaching that we must internationalize the co-operative efforts of nations and communities of the earth," the luncheon were told.

Two great Revolutions have been ended by the united efforts of the nations against the Hun. The first revolution was ended some months ago, he said, when, as the boys in khaki from the north and from the south, marching side by side, were proudly saluted by President Wilson on the reviewer's stand.

Another Revolution was brought to an end, Dr. Owens told his audience, "when the boys in khaki from every section of the United States, in London, passed in review and were saluted by King George at Buckingham Castle."

Previous to introducing the speaker of the occasion, President Andrew J. Patterson, of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that preliminary plans were being laid for a Chamber of Commerce picnic.

This picnic, President Patterson said, will be in charge of a committee which includes Mercer B. Fate, chairman; Boyd M. Ogilby, H. H. Bowman, J. C. Thompson, and H. Floyd Hopkins. The picnic, Chairman Fate announced, will be held at the cabin of John W. Reilly, near Rockville, on Thursday, August 15. Members will be charged for themselves and each of their guests at the rate of $1.50 each.

During the luncheon the first number of the new but bright bulletin of the "Harrisburg" the official bulletin of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, was distributed among the luncheoners.

War Is to Raise Tax on Amusement Patrons

Washington, July 30.—Doubling of the war taxes on admissions to places of amusement and on club dues was decided upon to-day by the House ways and means committee considering the new eight billion dollar war revenue bill. Majority sentiment of the committee was said to favor more than doubling the present taxes on tobacco but final decision was deferred until additional information could be had from the Treasury Department, which had recommended only twice the present tax.
