Washington, Aug. 2.—Striking tribute to the valor and fighting efficiency of the 42nd (Rainbow) division of the American army by General Duport, commanding the French Sixth Army Corps in Lorraine to which the 42nd was attached up to the middle of last June, is contained in general orders issued by the French commander bidding farewell to the Americans when they set out for the battle front on the Aisne-Marne lines where they are to-day proving their mettle in attack.

INSPECTING THE MARINES NEAR THE BATTLE FRONT

Perfect order of uniform and equipment is a rigidly enforced rule in the Marine Corps as in the other branches of the service. Even in action a certain amount of inspection is carried on by the officers. Another and cleanliness are other requisites of every fighter. Photo shows officers inspecting a portion of a marine squad near the battle line.

PANTANG PARK THEATER Vaudeville Specialties.

The mysterious witchery of "Crystal Gazing," whose peculiarly fascinating nature charms the sports of the indulgers to the mythical Majestic lands of tallmen and fairy queens, forms the entrancing plot of "Hello, Egypt," and holds an uncommon and unexpected interest in miniature.

Emily Stevens, the popular Metro star, will be seen to-day and to-morrow at the Colonial Theater in "A Man's World."

The inner workings of New York's art colony and reveals the "famous Washington Square society" in true light. The screen version of this well-known stage success is even more compelling than the speaking version.

Pleased crowds saw dainty Enid Bennett in "A Desert Wooming" at the Regent Theater yesterday.

In this photoplay Miss Bennett portrays the role of Aviee Bereton, a young society bud, living in the East, whose mother is in straightened circumstances.

Mrs. Bereton places her daughter in the marriage market to be disposed of to the highest bidder, in order that she may secure funds with which to carry her high social plans in execution.

Aviee is loved by Dr. Van Fleet, a rascally physician, who seeks to use her only to advance his social aspirations. There enters into her life Barton Masters, a multi-millionaire from the West. He is instantly attracted towards Aviee and his attentions are encouraged by Mrs. Bereton, with the result that the two are married.

Aviee accompanies her husband to his western home, together with Van Fleet and her mother, in a triple-wheeled motor car, and is fascinated by the masterful nature of her husband and soon learns to love him.

A spirited play of the gay side of life, together with deep human emotions is this story that gives to Miss Men's Daughters."

Hyland more opportunity for big work than she has ever had in her screen career. In the action, she plays keeps her going at a rapid pace from the first flicker on the screen. The high spots in the tale, of which there are several that lead to a gripping climax, are heart robbers. Will be shown at the Victoria to-day only.

The children enjoy the wonderfully well-trained dogs in Pennell's Canine Circus at the Pantang Park Theater this week.

This is the sort of act that children take a keen delight in. Much that one sees on the stage nowadays is wholly uninteresting to the little folks, or, perhaps, what is worse, not fit for them to see. But here is an act designed especially for the benefit and delight of the youngsters; something that fits into their world along with giants, fairies and the animal tales of "Uncle Remus" that furnish the innocent thrills and joys of healthy childhood.

MEN KNITTERS START LEARNING THIS EVENING

New Drive For Camp Service Started by Red Cross Today

Interest of patriotic men of Harrisburg is to-day focused upon the first class in knitting for men to be held in the Red Cross workrooms in the basement of the Public Library to-night. Basing their estimate upon the number of inquiries already received in regard to the new class, officials in charge of the instruction say there will be a large number of men present at to-night's class.

The new classes for men are designed to meet the pressing demand for socks and socks and more socks. The winter season is approaching and it is particularly desirable at this time that more knitters enlist for regular service with the Red Cross. The women knitters are doing their best but men have done practically no work, outside of desultory knitting by a few.

"We want the men to get to work too," the Red Cross workers said. Mrs. John W. German, Jr., who is instructor in the Red Cross rooms for several months. She has devoted much of her time to Red Cross service and has volunteered her services for further instruction.

Another Drive Starts In connection with patriotic service on the part of men, announcement of another drive was made public to-day. Men are wanted for camp service. The statement contained in a recent issue of the Official Bulletin, follows:

"Men are needed for active Red Cross field service in the military and naval camps in this country. This work includes: Rendering emergency relief of every kind upon request and with the cooperation of the military authorities.

Helping soldiers who are worried about their families and affairs by communicating with their homes through local Red Cross organizations in every part of the United States.

Sympathetic touch with men in hospitals, communications with families of patients, necessary, and the furnishing of emergency supplies if called upon.

Supervising distribution of all Red Cross supplies such as sweaters, socks, comfort-kits, etc.

Qualifications For Places "The qualifications demand high-grade men beyond draft age, acquainted with business methods, and with ability to deal successfully in a personal manner with other responsible men; they should be possessed of tact, forbearance and discretion, energy and good personal appearance. Red Cross representatives in the camps have the status of officers.

While volunteers are desired, all expenses incurred by reason of Red Cross service will be paid and where necessary a small salary in addition will be allowed. Acceptance of these positions will involve a pecuniary sacrifice to any man who is qualified.

Field For Patriotic Service "This call is urgent and offers a peculiarly desirable field for constructive patriotic service as the volume of business transacted is very large, and is rapidly growing. If you are interested, write the Bureau of Camp Service, National Headquarters, American Red Cross, Washington, D. C.

"Will you serve?" "All men called by draft board No. 2 will be furnished with kits and sweaters by the Harrisburg chapter, American Red Cross, on Sunday when the men are called for final instructions by the board."
