streets, to accommodate all the lines entering Harrisburg. It is believed that some such arrangement is inevitable in view of the sorroundings of the Capitol and the erection of the great viaduct at State street. A union station as proposed would be in entire harmony with the whole plan.

Another thing to which the city Another thing to which the city will be urged to give prompt attention is the establishing of a zone between Walnut and North streets, through the Paxton Creek valley, in which all buildings shall be limited to a given height.

All buildings still standing in the park extension area are to be removed without delay.

Studio Quartet Heard in Concert Under Auspices of Scouts of Troop 20

Last evening in the Fifth Street Methodist Church a fair-sized audi-ence was entertained in a delightful manner by the Studio quartet, com-posed of Miss Katherine Dubbs, so-manner by the Studio quartet, composed of Miss Katherine Dubbs, soprano; Miss Louise Baer, alto; John Fisher, tenor, and Edward Hassler, bass, accompanied by Mrs. John W. Phillips, and assisted by Mr. Malsh, violinist, and Miss Lavina Buckwalter, reader.

It would indeed be difficult accurately to determine which of the solo numbers excelled. Most of the numbers were old-time ballads. The program follows:

"The Yellow Rose," quartet; reading, Miss Buckwalter; solo, "Invictus," Mr. Hassler; violin solo, "Cavatina," Mr. Malsh; solo, "Tim Rooney at the Fightin," Mr. Fisher; "Kentucky Babe," quartet: "Scouting," J. Fredrik Virgin; "Rainbows," Miss Buckwalter; sextet from "Lucia," quartet.

"The Raff "Cavatina" played by Buckwalter; sextet from "Lucia," quartet.

The Raff "Cavatina" played by Mr. Malsh was beautifully given and the concerted numbers particularly pleasing. The sextet from "Lucia" was given in an enthusiastic and finished manner.

One of the delightful features of the entertainment were the readings of little Miss Buckwalter. The scout executive of the city, J. Fredrik Virgin, gave an inspiring address on "Scouting." The entertainment was preceded and followed by an ice cream festival, largely attended. The scouts of Troop 20, under whose auspices the entertainment was given, expressed their appreciation of the generosity of the artists.

District Boards and Coal Miners

State draft headquarters to-day issued a circular calling upon all district boards "to thoroughly investigate and exercise their soundest judgment in granting deferred classification" to coal miners. Boards are reminded that they may reopen a case up to the very hour and day of induction and may reconsider and reclassify men from their districts. The headquarters quotes a telegram from the office of the Provost Marshal General stating "We must look to district boards almost entirely to adjust the needs of the Army with industrial requirements" and urges that cases of coal miners be given careful attention so that the output careful attention so that the output of coal shall not be curtailed.

Reserves Will Go to Elizabethville

To-morrow morning Major H. M. Stine will go to Elizabethville with a detail of officers and men of the Harrisburg Reserves to give instruction to men of draft age of the upper end who will gather at Elizabethville. The party will leave at 10.45 to-morrow morning in automobiles.

This evening the Reserves will participate in the flag presentation ceremony and will meet at the arm-ory at 6.45 o'clock and march to the

HELD FOR CAR THEFTS

E. L. Bailey and William Eveler, employes of the Adams Express Company, were held under $2,000 bail each by United States Commissioner Roy J. Wolfe last night on the charge of robbing a freight car in the P. and R. yards of silk dresses valued at $100. As the car was engaged in interstate commerce, the offense is a federal one.
