

18-TO-45 DRAFT FOR 13,000,000 IS IN CONGRESS

New Man-Power Measure Provides For Registration on September 5

Washington, Aug. 6.—The new man-power bill, fixing the draft age limits at eighteen and forty-five years, was introduced in both branches of Congress yesterday. The administration will make every effort to obtain its immediate passage.

In presenting the bill in Congress Secretary of War Baker submitted to the Senate and House a letter and memorandum from General Crowder, provost marshal, showing that class I of the present registration will be almost depleted on September 1 and that the new age limits could not be fixed at less than forty-five years and higher than eighteen if the program for an army of 5,000,000 men is to be carried out without calling men from deferred classifications.

In his letter and memorandum to the Secretary of War General Crowder announced that weekly registrations of men becoming twenty-one years of age must be held during September and until the new law goes into effect if the quota for September is to be obtained from class I.

The first of the registration days will be September 5, he announced. On that day all young men who have reached the age of twenty-one years since the last registration day, June 5, 1918, must register, according to General Crowder's plan. During the remainder of the month and perhaps for a longer period, General Crowder said, other registrants of men becoming twenty-one years of age will be held each Monday.

Won't Wait For Order Numbers

Those young men will fill out their questionnaires and be classified immediately after they have registered, said General Crowder, and those placed in class I will be sent to camp almost at once, without waiting to be assigned order numbers.

The need for class I men during September is so great, he said, it will be necessary to register all men as fast as they become twenty-one years of age and immediately send to the cantonments all who are entitled to deferred classification, if there is to be no interruption in the military program.

General Crowder informed, Secretary Baker there would be fewer than 100,000 men in class I on September 1 to fill the quota of 200,000 that has been decided upon for that month. That number includes those who registered on June 5 of this year, he said. The weekly registrations will make 50,000 men available for military service, he estimates, giving the War Department barely enough men, he said, to meet the September needs, through the addition of men by reclassification.

The new age limits will make 2,295,845 class I men available for service, General Crowder estimates. Of that number only 691,236 class I men will be between the ages of thirty-two and forty-five and 1,797,609 will be between eighteen and twenty. General Crowder estimates 13,200,644 additional men will register under the proposed new law, 10,028,973 between the ages of thirty-two and forty-five and 3,171,671 between eighteen and twenty years of age. The total number of registered men in the United States after the new law goes into effect he estimates at approximately 23,000,000.

Conservation of Foodstuffs Cuts Free Lunches Off Grocers' Picnic Program

No free eatables will be had this year at the eleventh annual Grocers' picnic, to be held on Thursday at Hershey Park. These are war times and we must conserve, the committee in charge announces.

For the first time since the custom was instituted, grocers of Harrisburg will not distribute samples of their wares, candy, chewing gum, etc., to the picnickers. In addition all of the picnickers will be compelled to carry their lunches with them as the Hershey restaurant will not be open on that day.

Six thousand grocers and their friends from Harrisburg will be in attendance at this affair, S. A. Schreckengast, chairman of the general committee on arrangements, announced last evening. Scores of stores in the surrounding towns, closing for their weekly half-holiday, will go to Hershey to spend the day.

Other effects of the war will be felt by the picnickers when most of them will be compelled to travel by trolley to Hershey instead of by special train. The committee today emphasized the fact that there will be no special trains to Hershey on that day, but that Felix M. Davis, of the Harrisburg Railway, has promised to put on as many extra cars as possible.

The dancing pavilion, with music by the Hershey orchestra, the park theater and other amusements will be free during the day. In the evening the Hershey orchestra will give an open air concert.

SOME DETAIL OF THE SUGAR SHORTAGE AND ITS EFFECTS

Conservation and Substitutes Will Tide Us Over in Comfort Until a Time of Plenty Comes.

SUGAR now takes a leading part in the conservation program. It is necessary to place severe restrictions on manufacturers of sugar and the distributing trade, and further developments may make additional restrictions imperative. Measures have been taken for equitable apportionment of sugar supplies in all markets of the country.

The household allowance through the month of July has continued as heretofore and sugar for canning may be had on the certificate plan outside of that allowance. At the same time households are urged to keep as far within the allowance as possible and to apply the rule in preserving of "maximum canning with minimum of sugar." It is pointed out that fruits may be put up without sugar and that fruit juices and pulps may be preserved without it, to be sweetened or made into jellies when the pressure for sugar supplies is easier than it will be for the next few months.

Sugar in countries where control of price and supply is not fully effective has cost around 20 cents a pound retail this year. In the United States the retail price by primary agreement and by rigid control of distribution has been held to 10 cents a pound.

Every cent to the pound amounts in the United States to $80,000,000 a year on the national sugar bill. The difference between control and unrestricted marketing in the United States is therefore equivalent to $80,000,000 a year in the cost of sugar to the people.

The attitude of the food administration toward prices is expounded in a letter by Mr. Hoover to United States Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, under date of July 8, in response to an invitation to submit his views.

Prices must be held high enough to maintain production. The cost of production and therefore the necessary price is not the same in every district, nor in every plant in the same district, nor in the same plant at different seasons. To cut the price to the point which will give no more than a fair return to those in the most favorable situation will cut off many whose production is needed. To offer prices that will give a profit in every case will permit inordinate profits for some.

A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS ASKED

Senator Sproul Speaks Plainly to Republicans of State Through Lancaster

A plea for the election of more Republican congressmen in Pennsylvania was made to Lancaster County Republican committeemen at the annual meeting held in Lancaster yesterday by Senator William C. Sproul, candidate for governor. It was a message to go all over the state.

Senator Sproul and Senator Edward E. Biddleman, were escorted to the court house by the committee headed by Congressman W. B. Grist and Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain. The presence of the distinguished visitors drew many of their personal friends and active Republicans to the place of meeting, and of the 123 county committeemen there was not one absent. When the candidates and their escort entered the court room they were greeted with hearty cheers. Former Congressman H. Burd Cassel, of Marietta, was called to preside, in view of the fact that new officers were to be elected.

Following the transaction of business both candidates made stirring addresses. Senator Sproul's declaration that he was proud to be a Lancaster countian was greeted with enthusiastic applause. His grandfather, Samuel Slocum, was chairman of the Republican county committee in Lancaster county for twelve years, and he said, "Uncle Ike also knew a few things."

"Our friends, the Democrats, seem to think we should be quiescent, but we are by no means inert. We're going ahead, both in the nation and the state, as a high duty we owe the people. We believe in constructive politics and the kind we know and feel builds up and does not tear down. During our great crisis of the past year the Republicans stood by the chief executive more firmly than did many of his own party, they stood for every move the president made that was for the country's good.

Albert E. Burkholder Dies of Burns Received When Naphtha Cars Took Fire

As the result of injuries received Saturday when he was wrapped in a mass of flames in the Pennsylvania Railroad yards here, Albert E. Burkholder, aged 40, died early this morning at the Harrisburg Hospital.

Burkholder was a brakeman on the Pennsylvania Railroad and had worked a month at his occupation. When two tankers containing crude oil and gasoline burst into flames Saturday morning, Burkholder was myself and the rest of the ticket, I feel sure, will get the largest majority any Republican candidates ever did in Lancaster county."

In concluding, Senator Biddleman paid a glowing tribute to Congressman Grist. "With men such as Grist at Washington at the president's call," said Senator Biddleman, "the people back home can rest assured that their best interests and the best interests of the world at large are in good hands—and we will go onward and upward until the entire world is safe for men, women and children." He took a final at the administration by declaring that if Taft had been president when the Lusitania was sunk there would have been war then, Russia would have been saved and the war would now be over.

A resolution presented by Dr. A. E. Leaman, unanimously adopted, pledged the candidates present and the entire Republican ticket the support of Lancaster county, with the promise of a record Republican majority in November. A resolution of confidence and best wishes for William E. Crow, chairman of the Republican State committee, was passed unanimously.

County Commissioner Samuel W. Diller, Lancaster, was re-elected county chairman; State Forestry Commissioner Robert S. Conklin, Columbia, vice chairman, and E. C. Seitz, Mountville, treasurer. The usual campaign committees were appointed.

Science Helps Them Out After Recklessly Abusing the Stomach

The most reckless man in regard to his health is the busy business man. At noon he rushes out for a bite to eat. He bolts his food without proper mastication, and heaps on his stomach an extra burden greater than it is able to carry without breaking down.

His overworked stomach is crying for help; it appeals to him for relief in various ways: Expulsion of sour gas, waterbrash, sour taste in mouth, heaviness after eating, shortness of breath, bad breath, etc.

One Mi-o-na tablet taken with or after each meal will help any sufferer from dyspepsia wonderfully. It aids the stomach in the work of digestion which it must perform.

Mi-o-na tablets are sold by H. C. Kennedy with a rigid guarantee to overcome dyspepsia and all stomach troubles, or money back. They make eating a pleasure.

Mi-o-na cleanses and purifies the stomach and bowels and puts vigor and strength into the overworked tissues. It is the surest stomach tonic in the world.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from our druggist a few ounces of Bisulphate of Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisulphate of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. G. A. Gorgas.

Burkholder is survived by two daughters, Mildred and Frances Burkholder; a son, Albert Burkholder; his wife, his mother and a brother. He was born and spent virtually all of his life in Harrisburg. He formerly was an employe of the Star-Independent, leaving that paper for a position on the Telegraph, where he was employed for eleven years.

He was a member of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church and was very active in religious work. Besides his membership in the church he was a member of the official board and of the choir. He was
