

SIBERIAN ARMY TO REORGANIZE BATTLE FRONT

Bulwark Against German Aggression Sought by People

Washington, Aug. 6.—Everywhere in Siberia the population, belonging to different classes, races, political groups, has manifested a great interest and sympathy with the organization of an army, which is intended to re-establish, together with the Allies, a battlefront against Germany; and the formation of this army is proceeding very successfully, the Russian embassy declared to-day in a statement explaining the political situation in Siberia.

The relations of the temporary government of Siberia, with the Czechoslovaks are stated to be friendly, and it is the intention of this government, the embassy asserts, to reform together with the Allies, the eastern front, to promote the unity of Russia and to recognize all the international treaties and agreements of Russia which were in force until the moment of the Bolshevik uprising.

Russians in Washington are highly optimistic and contented with the decisions of the United States, Japan and the Allied nations to send an expedition to the relief of the Czechoslovaks and to assist Russia in every possible way. The Czechoslovak army, it was learned authoritatively, will remain in Russia, having abandoned its intention of going to the western front, "being satisfied," it was declared, "to fight Germans and Austrians wherever they may be found."

No Sign From Bolsheviks.—The Bolsheviks in the American and Japanese action is expected to be hostile, but up to this time there have been no advices from Russia indicating whether the Lenin-Trotsky regime will recognize completely the instrument of the Berlin government in opposing the Czechoslovak and the American-Japanese forces.

The initial number of American and Japanese troops to be sent to Siberia while small, will be sufficiently strong to assist in re-establishment of contact between the Czechoslovaks in western Siberia and those at Vladivostok, but the ultimate size of the international force will depend, it was emphasized, upon the strength of the Austro-German resistance in Siberia and Eastern European Russia.

The State Department received a telegram from Ambassador Francis, dated July 24, and forwarded by the American consulate general at Moscow, saying the embassy was obliged to leave Volozda because its communications had been cut, and fear was in Ambassador Francis' mind concerning what might happen, as all news was cut off.

Cumberland, No. 1, will send 3; Adams, 2; Franklin, No. 1, 3, and No. 2, 8; Juniata, 1; Lancaster City, No. 1, 1; Lancaster county, No. 3, 3; Lebanon, No. 1, 15; Perry, 4. In all, 1,427 will go.

Wants Quicker Service on Soldiers' Letters

Washington, Aug. 6.—Senator Johnson, of California, declared in the Senate yesterday that the unnecessary delay in transporting letters between soldiers and their families not only was destroying the morale of the mothers of our country, but was injuring that of the fighters themselves.

Physician Explains Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

Practical Advice on How to Help Build Up Great Strength, Energy and Endurance

Commenting on the use of Nuxated Iron as a tonic, strength builder, and health builder by over three million people annually, Dr. James F. Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (outdoor Dept.), New York, and The Westchester County Hospital, said, "Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians prescribing iron preparations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real and true cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body something like corn through a mill, and the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind.

COMMISSION TO MEET TOMORROW

Agricultural Board Will Sit at Lancaster Tomorrow, Then Will Go to Chester

Members of the State Commission on Agriculture will meet tomorrow in Lancaster to hear reports on agricultural conditions in Southern Pennsylvania, especially the extension of the use of tractors and the labor situation. It is probable that the question of a chief for the bureau of markets may be settled at that time. The members will meet a number of Lancaster county people and the following day will motor through parts of Lancaster and Chester counties and visit the farm of Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton.

The Department of Agriculture's reports show a big expansion of the area planted in buckwheat in northern counties and many farmers trying it in Southern Pennsylvania. Reports coming here also tell of people needed in the fruit belts.

To Arrange Camp.—Details of the State Arsenal will leave here within a few days for Mt. Gretna to prepare for the annual state rifle matches to be shot off by teams representing organizations of the Reserve Militia. The matches will last the greater part of next week, most of the high officers of the Militia attending.

Times Are Abnormal.—Abnormal conditions now prevailing in regard to labor and material are given as the main reasons by the Public Service Commission for dismissing complaints brought against the Pennsylvania railroad in regard to station facilities in Cambria county and against the Latrobe Water Company operating in Westmoreland county. The decisions were written by Commissioner James Alcorn. In the complaint against the Pennsylvania it was asked that an agency station be established at Beverdale, a more convenient to many people than Lloydell, 2,500 feet away. Beverdale has developed more rapidly due to mining operations. It is suggested that it be better to have an extension of station and an agency situated with regard to the bulk of the population, but owing to the war the commission will not act. In the Latrobe case an extension of water lines was asked for and the company agreed if the persons to be served should pay the difference between the prices of labor and material now and in normal times. The complaint is dismissed with leave to renew in January, 1920. In the complaint of Byron C. Bair against the Bell Telephone Company, growing out of service at Sinking Springs, Berks county, it is held by Commissioner John Rilling that the company should not refuse service.

Compensation Award.—The state compensation board to-day announced that it had again awarded compensation in the claim of Eugene J. Glasser vs. J. N. Canfield, Philadelphia, a case which was remanded back to the board by Judge Sutherland of Philadelphia for a supplemental finding. The board goes into much detail of the case and holds that there is no testimony to substantiate even an insinuation of malfeasance and gives data as to the injury sustained by the claimant. The board awarded compensation in three other cases which had been the subjects of extensive study: Hall vs. Reading Paper Mills, Reading; Cromly vs. Everhart, Williamsport, and Cleland vs. Garrett, New Wilmington. The latter case was a complicated one in which the owner of a saw mill agreed to remain with the new buyer to show him how to operate it. After the sale had been made the boiler blew up and the former owner contended that he had remained as an employee and was entitled to compensation for injuries.

The defendant strenuously, in the language of the opinion, denied such an agreement. The board in considering the testimony of the claimant and a miller to whom he had spoken awards compensation.

In Executive Session.—The State Public Service Commission today began its first August executive session and will probably take action on the applications for approval of contracts and agreements on the extensions of the Philadelphia Rapid
