tention of Making Hard Fight For Legislators

"Our first duty will be to see that all voters who favor 'dry' candidates are properly assessed and registered. feel that the most fertile field this is the churches, for if we the church vote lined up, we have made a great stride to-d victory". We get t will ward victory. This is the gist of a letter sent out to "dry" amendment advocates yes-terday by H. B. Saussaman, acting for the Dauphin County Ratification Committee for the Dauphin County Ratification Committee. The letter is the opening gun of the fall campaign for the election of "dry" legislators in Dauphin county. The committee announces that it in-tends to make a vigorous effort to procure votes for "dry" legislators regardless of party. The letter in full is as follows: "As you well know we are now approaching the period when we must prepare to elect men to the State Legislature, men who will vote for the ratification of the Prohibi-
