

DANCING DUO WIN MUCH APPLAUSE

Novel Acrobatic Offering and Girl Minstrels Also Feature Majestic Bill

Dance numbers by a pair of lively entertainers on the Majestic program for the weekend brought hearty applause last night because of the many intricate and eccentric steps.

—The Floorwalkers.—Another good chaplin film, but it is showing the effects of much use.

Zeda and Hoot.—This is an effective electrical acrobatic offering with more attention being paid to sensation than to the unusual.

Hinkle and Mae.—Can you make other folks laugh at your way of laughing? The male character in this act has the system worked out, and coupled with a bit of other nonsense, pleases the crowds.

Paddy's Pensions.—The audience appreciated some of the humor in the sketch, but failed to respond with laughter last night.

Stanley and Birnes.—Eccentric dancing by this pair certainly met with public favor, and the audience by hearty applause showed appreciation of the difficult eccentric steps.

The Petticoat Minstrels.—Some good songs and a violin number are included in the program of these fall entertainers. Dottie Claire is interlocutor, with Emma Broderick and Belle Tynes as the tambour and bones.

Notice to Druggists Price Advance

For over a year now we have succeeded in maintaining our old prices, principally by virtue of a big increase in sales, which reduced our overhead cost.

For our fiscal year ending July 1, 1918, our sales amounted to over a million dollars—an increase of 35% over the preceding year.

We had hoped to bridge the war period without a change in prices on but we find that our economies do not keep pace with our rising costs. It is with sincere regret, therefore, that we are forced to announce an increase, effective August 1, which will make it necessary to retail VapoRub at

HEAVY SENTENCES DEALT OFFENDERS

Judge Kunkel Sends Burglars to Penitentiary; Nine Pleas of Guilty Heard

Nine pleas of guilty were heard by President Judge Kunkel in criminal court this morning, and sentences ranging from three to eighteen months were imposed on eight defendants. The remaining one was discharged.

Of six confessed thieves, five said that drink was the cause of their misdeeds.

Thodore Williams, alias Anderson and Kid Flowers, colored, were sentenced to pay fines of $5, costs and to serve not less than one year nor more than one year and six months in the Eastern Penitentiary on the charge of burglary. They confessed entering the home of Harry M. Shope, Swatara township, and stealing a pocketbook containing $55 and a watch. Showing that there is nothing in the atake that there is honor among thieves, Flowers kept all but five dollars, telling Williams the purse contained only $10.

Charles Temple was sentenced to pay a fine of $5, costs, and to serve six months in the Dauphin county jail for loading a two-ton wagon of coal belonging to the United Ice and Coal Company and selling it for $4, even delivering it in the company's wagon on the company's time. He was employed by the United Ice and Coal Company thirteen years.

Frank Moyer was sentenced to pay a five-dollar fine and costs and serve six months in jail for stealing a copper kettle and brass fittings from the bunkhouse on the Rely farm near Fort Hunter, where he had been employed. He disposed of them at a junk dealer in this city.

To Pen For Shirt Thefts

Grover Fowler, charged with stealing two silk shirts valued at $8 each from a market street outfitting store a few hours after he landed in Harrisburg, was sentenced to not less than a year nor more than fifteen months in the Eastern Penitentiary and a fine of $5. While a companion diverted the clerk's attention, he stole the shirts. The companion then informed the police and the shirts were recovered from Fowler.

Carl N. Schomer, charged with stealing a woman's suitcase from the Pennsylvania passenger station, also confessed to stealing a companion's suitcase at Mt. Union, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and serve three months in jail.

Lorenza Bryant, who confessed he stole Pinkstein's automobile for his own use, and who drove it to Chicago, where he damaged it to the extent of $200, was sentenced to ten months in jail and to pay a fine of $5. He entered a plea of guilty previously, declared that he was not guilty, and then entered the plea of guilty to-day.

Clifford Spencer, aged 20, arrested at Middletown on a serious charge was sentenced to be committed to the Huntingdon reformatory. Silas Williams, charged with surety of the peace, was discharged.

Counsel for Park D. Yost, charged with nonsupport, and Mrs. Yost agreed that he should pay Mrs. Yost $20 a month and enter $300 for security.

A petition by Byron W. Broun and Annie M. Broun, his wife, for a revocation of the adoption decree making Dorothy Marie Broun the daughter and heiress of James K. May, will be considered by the court after an investigation has been made to discover whether a revocation of the decree would establish a precedent.

DOCTORS HAND OUT LIVE TIPS

They Take the Public Into Their Confidence

Prominent physicians claim people fall in life because of "nervous hunger," that is the active, bright-eyed, strong-nerved man or woman who is "there" at work or play.

Strong, well-nourished nerves is the great secret of success, health and happiness.

Men and women try to live regardless of health, strength, ambition, energy and hope, they exceed their speed limits, wasting nerve strength and energy and fail to store up reserve force, afterwards they only exist. Life has no joys.

PAXTANG PARK THEATER Vaudeville Specialties.

Under the banner of Charles Boyer, the well-known producer, seven young women have formed what is known as "The Petticoat Minstrels," a vaudeville act of unusual grace and quality.

At the Majestic, a vaudeville act of unusual grace and quality, now appearing at the Majestic is "The Petticoat Minstrels," a vaudeville act of unusual grace and quality.

Another big achievement is placed to the credit of the Colonial Theater. "The Still Alarm," the great comedy, is being presented to-day and to-morrow.

"The Still Alarm" is a comedy of dramatic spectacle, taken from the melodrama of the same name, which has been considered one of the strongest dramas since back in the eighties.

"Missing" is said to be a master production from every standpoint. The story deals with the fortunes of a British officer and his bride. He is reported missing, but subsequently he gains the British lines, his mind and body wrecked by shock and mental suffering, and ultimately is restored to health when his wife sings a certain love song, which they had often sung together during their courtship days.

Miss Maud Daniels, who manages "The Rising Generation" Company, that is the feature attraction at the Paxtang Park Theater, has probably trained more than any other person, man or woman, in the show business. Children are Miss Daniels' specialty. She takes them and teaches them the ways of the stage and the actor with far less trouble than the average mother has in teaching her offspring to read.

Her Price.—This screen play will have a particular appeal to girls, and young women for the reason that many of them who are talented and ambitious leave the protecting influence of their homes to go to the big cities to make a name and mark for themselves. The road to success is hard, rugged and rocky, exacts its price. This remarkable feature tells whether it is really worth the price. The picture is well worth seeing at her best in this feature.

Arrangements have also been made with several of the restaurants whereby sandwiches and coffee are furnished the boys, but this is only done upon advance notices from the committee.

30,000 SOLDIER BOYS CHEERED BY CANTEN SERVICE

Harrisburg Red Cross Branch Furnished Refreshments to Many Enlisted Men

Thirty thousand soldier boys have been furnished refreshments gratuitously at the Pennsylvania and Reading stations by the Harrisburg members of the Bureau of Canteen Service, American Red Cross, since the local committee was organized the first of the present year.

The people generally of this city have but little knowledge of the wonderful good that is being done by these women for the benefit of the soldiers, sailors and draftees of all classes; irrespective of race, color or conditions.

The system is so perfected that there are no duplications; as for instance the boys that are not yet in uniform, and other committees do not meet the same day in Harrisburg; thus favors are equally distributed, although in several instances have met six and seven times a week, and on Monday last gave supplies to 300 colored men from Philadelphia.

System Perfected

The committee is part of a state organization with headquarters in Philadelphia. By reason of an arrangement with the railroad companies notice of the time of the coming of the boys is received in advance.

Perhaps of all the articles that are given the boys the postal cards are the most appreciated. They are stamped by the local committee without cost to the boys, and since the committee has taken up this work in this city, 25,000 of these stamped postal cards have been furnished the boys.

PUBLIC AWAITS NEW SCHEDULES

Changes Will Be Many; Travelers Must Move to Suit Government

Rumors of new schedules for both Pennsylvania and Reading lines are still in circulation. That some trains will be eliminated is not denied. It is also said that with the new timetables, the traveling public must travel to suit the railroad.

Through trains from New York to Chicago will be continued. There is a probability that the far west will be reached with better facilities. A dispatch from Chicago says: Chicago a War Station

Visions of Chicago as a way station on the line from New York to San Francisco, with transcontinental trains merely hesitating at this point instead of passengers being compelled to transfer from one road to another and stay over here perhaps for hours, were dashed by the trip of inspection made to Chicago's railway terminals by Secretary McAdoo to-day.

One of the big ends emphasized as desirable to be attained by reorganizing Chicago's terminals was agreed to be continuous operation of through trains from East to West without the delays and transfers incident to the present system by which eastern and western roads terminate at different depots here.

"I am just beginning to understand the problem," said Mr. McAdoo. "I have known for years, of course, that the Chicago terminal situation needed improvement, but there are great difficulties to be overcome. However, I hope we shall be able, with the present facilities, to work out a plan which will give better service."

Less Duplications

The action of the Federal railroad administration in eliminating duplications in service on lines between Philadelphia and Atlantic City will not affect the trains between Reading and Philadelphia, according to local authorities. The changes consist mostly of rearranging trains running at the same hours, and distributing the service over both roads.

STOCKS FIRM AT TODAY'S OPENING

Market Strong Under Influence of Encouraging War News

By Associated Press

Stocks were firm at the opening of today's trading but immediately developed pronounced strength under the influence of very encouraging war advices. U. S. Steel rose a point to 111, its highest price in some weeks, and similar gains were made by Canadian Pacific, Mexican Petroleum, American Can and United Cigars.

Trading during the morning was larger and wider of scope than at any time in the past fortnight. Investment rails participated at gains of 1 to almost 2 points on reports of an

Alkali Makes Soap Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.
