

CHARGE THUN FETED SINKING OF LUSITANIA

U. S. Officials Say He and His Guests Toasted U-Boat Captain

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—Ferdinand Thun spread a splendid banquet before his guests who gathered to celebrate the achievement of German Kultur that sent the Lusitania to her doom and drank toasts to the U-boat commander who murdered women and children on the high seas—this is the charge made yesterday by Samuel Rosenbaum, Assistant United States District Attorney, against the man suspected of being a German propaganda agent. Thun and Harry Janssen, another wealthy manufacturer of Reading, are jointly accused of financing and aiding in subsidizing certain periodicals and newspapers in various sections of the country. To clean out these nests of "kultur" raids were made simultaneously on Wednesday in various parts of the country. Todd Daniel, special agent of the Department of Justice here, and his aids confined their efforts to Reading and Lancaster. In the Berks county city Janssen and Thun are both rich mill owners, and their homes and establishments were searched by the authorities, assisted by the military and naval intelligence bureau. Other raids were conducted in New York and Chicago.

Successor to Bernstorff

Charles De Woody, chief of the office of the Department of Justice in New York, said yesterday that the records seized in raids upon the homes and business places of Rudolph Pangenstecker, William Kaup and Charles Unversagt had revealed that Pangenstecker, Kaup, Thun and Janssen were the direct agents of German propaganda in this section. He also intimated that they were the direct successors to Count von Bernstorff, Captain von Papen and Captain Boy-Ed, when those German emissaries were banished from the United States. Additional raids were made yesterday in Reading. Federal agents entered the rooms occupied by Elsie Reicher, a German enemy alien, and

Seized a Number of Notebooks

The woman is suspected of being a part of the enormous spy system that Germany built up in neutral countries. Otto Keiser, another German alien enemy, was brought to Philadelphia, to be questioned in regard to certain matters that are said to be definitely connected with the activities of Thun and Janssen.

Wanted Since U. S. Entered War

An interesting revelation by the federal authorities is that the places raided and the men suspected had been under surveillance since this country entered the war. This espionage was placed upon the suspects and their homes, it was further stated, because of the avowed pro-German sympathies that they are accused of showing prior to the day the United States became a belligerent. A partial examination of the papers seized, it was stated, seemed to indicate that the owners had been charged with carrying on the German propaganda after Count von Bernstorff and his assistants had been banished from this country. Thun and Janssen, it is held, were especially prominent in spreading being to handle the money that financed this sort of work. Huge sums are said to have been distributed, the principal benefactors, according to the authorities, being George Sylvester Viereck, publisher of the Fatherland, alias Viereck's Weekly, the publishers of The Spirit of the Age in Chicago and other periodicals whose intense pro-Germanism was rampant before the United States became active in the war. The home of Prof. Richard C. Scheidt, in Lancaster, said Mr. Rosenbaum, "was the agency that seems to have been most frequently used in forwarding funds to different points. In one instance we have found that Thun sent a sum of money to Professor Scheidt with instructions that he buy a bank draft before sending it to New York in order that it might not be traced."

Wounded in France

Hummelstown, Pa., Aug. 9.—Mrs. Annie Raush, of Poplar avenue, received a letter from her son, Herman Raush, of Company D, 112th United States Infantry, stating that he was in the hospital, suffering from a wound in the right hip by being hit with a piece of shell. He says he is getting along nicely and expects soon to join his company.

MEN FOR ARMY OR NAVY MUST COME FROM DRAFT LIST

Daniels and Baker Stop Enlistments Until Man-Power Bill Is Passed

Washington, Aug. 9.—Enlistments in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps were stopped yesterday. The restriction will prevail until Congress passes the new man-power bill enlarging the ages of military service. That action was taken in view of the proposal of Senator Wadsworth, of New York, to extend the selective service act so as to end voluntary enlistments in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps. If Congress decides that men for the three branches of service shall be called through the draft, voluntary enlistments in the United States will become a matter of history and
