BROTHERHOD HAS 250 IN SERVICE

Grand Circle of Lodge Meets in Harrisburg For Annual Convention

"With 250 members in the service of the government and two golden stars in our service flag as memorials to two brave boys who have given their lives to the cause of democracy, the Brotherhood of America is making every effort to aid in the successful prosecution of the war."

This statement by a member of the Brotherhood of America's grand circle of Pennsylvania summarizes the attitude of the order on the world war. The convention of the grand circle of Pennsylvania is now being held in Cameron Hall here.

The session opened this morning with an address of welcome by Mayor Daniel L. Keister, in which he extended a warm welcome to the city for the members of the fraternal organization. John Ruhl, Philadelphia, supreme secretary, replied to the address of welcome, and the convention went into executive session.

Officers Report

Reports of various officers of the order were heard. John A. Stover, York, who holds the office of Grand Chief Washington, outlined in his report his activities during the year. A similar report was given by C. A. Long, York, grand scroll keeper. The report of Charles Zaiser, grand treasurer, showed a balance of $2,330.17 in the hands of the treasurer at the close of the last year. He reported receipts from the grand scroll keeper of $3,332.44 and expenditures of $3,371.50. Approval was given to the report by the board of trustees, which includes the following members: Charles A. Staier, H. M. Cramp and R. H. Yeager, Philadelphia.

The report of the committee on laws contained matters of interest to the members of the order. The members of this committee are Frederick Eitelyerg, Philadelphia; Marcellus Slough, Philadelphia; Norman S. Erney, Quakertown.

Payment of dues by members of the order in the service was ordered remitted at the last session of the convention held in York. This fact was contained in the report of the boar dof officers. John Held, Robert H. Yeager, Harry M. Cramp, Charles A. Staier and C. A. Long, all of Philadelphia, compose this board.
