Advertisement for MARY SACHS, 210 North Third Street. Features a 'Rush New Goods' illustration and text: 'We're rushing things here all we can. But we've been delayed in getting our store fixtures. Uncle Sam's orders these days get the preference, as they should, and we're willing to wait. The contractors tell us, though, that everything will be ship-shape in two or three weeks, so we're being patient and going right ahead with our preparations. Those who find it necessary to do early buying will find much of interest in our new frocks and bonnets which may be inspected now in our temporary quarters on the second floor.'
