HUNS DEPEND ON RESERVES TO HALT FOCH MEN

May Have Thirty Divisions and 400,000 Youths at

End of Retreat

London, Aug. 20.-The situation on the main fighting front in France is summed up by the Reuter correspondent with the French armies as

"We have arrived at the stage in this battle corresponding to that which Germany reached at the end of March and early in June after long, bloody and exhausting advances on the heels of inferior opposing numbers. We counted firmly on the arrival of the moment when the reserves would be able to check the German advance and prepare the flank attacks which have by their success restored the initiative to us. "The enemy in turn is using that weapon against us. His reserves are not yet exhausted and, however he may grudge the necessity of having to waste them in a defensive battle which 'n the end can only be a prelude to a retreat, he may still possess thirty fresh divisions as well as 400,000 youths) of the class of 1920. Our success must be carefully planned and manfully won." this battle corresponding to that
