Men of Draft Age to Get Training Without Affecting Status

Washington, Aug. 21.—A favorable report was voted to-day by the House Military Committee on the administration manpower bill...

Another amendment by Chairman Dent provides that the fact that a soldier has not reached 21 shall not bar him from a commission.

A section added at the request of the War Department provides that men of draft age may be sent to colleges for technical training in uniform...

The creation of the 18 to 20 classification had been opposed by General March before the committee on the ground that it would delay the draft and prevent the junior registrants from the military training...

This amendment, adopted on motion of Representative McKemie, Republican of Illinois, will be opposed in the House by Representatives Kahn, Crago, and Greene of the committee...

Chairman Dent presented his report immediately after the House convened and obtained unanimous consent to have it taken up to-morrow with right of way over all other business.

SPRINGER MEET 'TAKE THE LEAD'

They Have Nerves of Iron and Real Red Fighting Blood

Vital force is the material from which leaders in all walks of life are made. It is well worth getting and holding.

The health and nerve of the athlete is what Nature intended every man and woman to have.

The blood of an athlete is pure and red, a strong heart pumps and drives it through his body.

A leading doctor says, "Everyone should feel this way. That if you are not red-blooded, are nervous, all run down and on your last legs, for you should build up your blood and nerves with exercise, fresh air, nourishing food and nature's great prescription, Phosphated Iron, a real blood and nerve builder."

Then you will be there with vim and push to easily do the work that you now do on your nerves alone.

He also says, "Phosphated Iron feeds the blood cells with iron and nerve force, and that leading specialists are now using it successfully all over the country, that it has sprung into almost instant popularity with the better class of doctors as one of the few remedies they can depend on to produce results."

Special Notice—To insure physicians and to their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute any pills or tablets.

WARDAMAN IS FAR BEHIND IN SENATE RACE

Representative Harrison Ten Thousand Ahead in Mississippi Primary

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 21.—Defeat of Senator James K. Vardaman for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator from Mississippi by Congressman Pat Harrison in yesterday's state-wide primary appeared assured early to-day on the basis of returns from all except fourteen of the eighty-two counties of the state.

Representative Harrison on the basis of these returns had a majority of 5,691 votes over Senator Vardaman, the former Governor E. F. Noel, the other candidate. Tabulations made here showed:

Harrison 37,433 Vardaman 27,238 Noel 4,498

More than state interest was manifested in the primary owing to a letter written by President Wilson in which the President said he would consider the re-election of Senator Vardaman as a condemnation of my administration by the people of Mississippi.

General opinion is that the President's letter added materially in the defeat of Senator Vardaman. Many of his former supporters in the rural districts refused to vote after the publication of the letter from Mr. Wilson declaring that they could not vote against Senator Vardaman.

Both Harrison and Noel made their campaign on a "loyalty-to-the-administration" basis. Senator Vardaman in his speeches declared he had not been disloyal, but said he and the President "often disagreed."

NORRIS LEADS FOR SENATOR

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 21.—Early returns from the state-wide Nebraska primary election held yesterday indicated that George W. Norris, present senator from Nebraska, was well in the lead for the Republican nomination for senator. John H. Moorehead on early returns led his four rivals for the Democratic senatorial nomination. Governor Keith Neville, incumbent, seemed to have outdistanced his rival for the Democratic nomination, William J. Bryan.

NO CONFIRMATION OF GERMAN PROFESSORSHIP

RINGS MISSING AFTER FIRE

Considerable excitement was created in Market Square about a clock last evening when the electric system of a roadster owned by John Speakman, of Boston, who was touring through the city, caught fire. When the fire had been extinguished, a pocketbook containing two rings missing from Mrs. Speakman was found. A reward for their return to the police station was offered.

DOCTOR PRESCRIBES VINOL

Vineland, N. J.—"I am a school-boy. I was of age, and typhoid fever left me weak and debilitated, so I had to stay out of school three months—my doctor prescribed Vinol. It has built up my strength and now I am feeling fine."—S. E. Bunce.

The reason Vinol was so successful in this boy's case, is because it contains the liver-softening, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened, run-down system, make rich, red blood and create strength.

HICKOCK IS HOPEFUL BUT TELLS THE FACTS

Fuel Administrator Points Out What City's Winter Needs Will Be and What Has Been Promised

Ross A. Hickock, the fuel administrator for Dauphin county, is watching carefully the local situation. Replying to an inquiry by the Telegraph as to outlook, he says:

"It is very difficult for me to give you the probable conditions that will arise this winter in Harrisburg in regard to the fuel supply. The United States Fuel Administration have thoroughly gone over the probable amount of anthracite coal that will be mined during the coming winter, and have allotted a certain tonnage to each state. The state fuel administrator in turn has made an allotment to each county. The county fuel administrator has in turn allotted each community a certain amount."

"The increase allotment for the state of Pennsylvania amounts to eighteen per cent. The increase allotment allowed Dauphin county by the state fuel administrator was twenty and one-half per cent. The increase allotment allowed Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, was twenty-five per cent, which would give Harrisburg 163,000 tons of domestic size anthracite coal."

"From all reports available to this committee, Harrisburg never received in the past more than 130,000 tons; so I feel that if shipments are made in this allotment, Harrisburg should be comfortable, if they take the proper means to properly bring to the attention of the citizens the necessity of economizing in every way possible."

"This can be done with the help of the local press, by requesting the citizens to close up all unnecessary rooms and to look out on the same, by proper firing of boilers and heaters, by having their heating equipment examined by repairmen, to see that the grates and flues are in good condition, and by abstaining from starting the furnaces until later in the fall than is their custom to start same."

"However, last winter we had a very severe winter, and it was not only difficult for the railroads to properly handle the coal cars, but also most difficult for the coal loaders to make deliveries on account of the deep snows."

"I would, therefore, advise that the householders at this time lay in a small amount of bituminous coal, briquets or wood, which would act as a reserve on which they could draw if we have a repetition of last winter."

"Very often last winter, for periods of two weeks, certain of our streets were so drifted with snow that no delivery wagons could enter same. The state fuel administration would have their office thoroughly systematized so that I am thoroughly of the opinion that an allotment of coal will be supplied unless weather conditions and strikes, over which they have no control, interfere."

POST 58, G. A. R. LARGEST IN THE UNITED STATES

Two Delegations Leave For Annual Encampment to Be Held in Portland, Ore.

Among the members of this post since January. It has been remarked that while the majority of the posts of the country are named in honor of a distinguished soldier Post 58 sticks to the numeral as its mark of distinction. The post had adopted the name of General John F. Hartman Post, No. 58, but there was a rule that no post could take the name of a living soldier and the name was reluctantly discarded. Since then the names of a dozen heroes have been suggested, but in each case the motion to prefix a name was defeated. It is a matter of pride to which the members point that in the year of its existence the organization has not failed to hold a meeting on the regular meeting night.

War Songs Enliven the Kiwanis Weekly Luncheon

The weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Y. M. C. A. building went off with a bang to-day, owing in great measure, to the rollicking, baritone soloist, Robert C. Smith, whose renderings of "Keep Your Head Down Fritz Boy" and "Send Me Away With a Smile" called for a lusty chorus from all hands which echoed far as Market Square. Smith has a voice like a depth bomb when he uncovers it fully and the place to uncurel freely is at a Kiwanis luncheon. The Kiwanis Club, which meets at Zion Lutheran Church and with the P. R. R. Concert Association.

U. S. IS IN BAD SHAPE GERMAN PEOPLE TOLD

Of Course First Quarter Million Men Sent to France Are Good, but Wait, Begs Hun Writer Alarmed by Fears of German People

Amsterdam, Aug. 21.—An antidote to the opinions of Generals Von Blum and Von Lottner, who see a menace in a large American army on the western front, already has appeared in the Cologne Zeitung. To calm the German public, the Wednesday edition of the Zeitung contained a long article attempting to prove by statistics that America cannot possibly send 300,000 men to Europe in a month. The article declared more than forty troops already have been sunk. It continues:

"If the Americans at the front are fighting well that does not need to cause surprise, for it is the fine flower of American manhood which now is at the front—namely, the old Regular Army, plus about 40,000 of the most sturdy and most devoted" elements, which all nations have, who volunteered at the outbreak of the war. Then there will be the best educated and keenest fighters because their heart is in the business."

"So we get an aggregate of from 200,000 to 250,000 picked men, but once these are used up the picture will be altered, because they cannot be replaced."

The Zeitung believes compulsory military service is widely opposed and is being evaded in the United States, and it builds hope on the slender basis that American casualty lists will indicate that the American contingent in this alleged repugnance. The article concludes with these arguments:

"The Americans are not supermen militarily and less so than in other respects. America may build standard ships but she cannot turn out standard soldiers."

"America has done more than any other nation in America, but despite all she is not a superman. Her military power will not develop before 1919 or even 1920 still holds good."

One of the Startling Scenes in the "Birth of a Nation"

D. W. Griffith's master production, "The Birth of a Nation," will be the attraction at the Colonial Theater, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at regular Colonial prices, ten and fifteen cents.

The merest statement regarding "The Birth of a Nation," leaps to superlatives because there is no other form in which it can be written. Simple facts in relationship to its developments sound extravagant until you have seen the production and realized a title of its sweep and power.

American history, ranging through three centuries, actual battles are shown in tens of thousands of soldiers in the conflict. Seven thousand people participated in the telling of the story. Three thousand horses are used to give the cavalry the appearance of the wild dashes over miles of territory. Cities were built up to be destroyed by fire. The total cost of the entire production was in the neighborhood of $500,000. Five hundred costumers and extras worked for three months to make the costumes worn by the people. Ten thousand yards of cloth were worked into the costumes worn by the women, while 25,000 yards of white muslin were used up on the hair of the Klu Klux Klan members. And yet with all this a simple, human story of love and romance weaves through the vast spread of the action and grips the hearts of the audience. The narrative is filled with tears and smiles. A symphonic score accompanies the action and lends a potent force to the drama.

Corporations Warned Against Tax Dodging

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Corporations which attempt to dodge war taxes by increasing their capital stock to cover surplus and undivided profits are warned by the Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper that this would be of no avail since the capital stock is the basis for measuring taxable excess profits.

Furthermore, the commissioner pointed out, an increase in the amount of capital stock outstanding to cover such items as good will, value of patents, trademarks, copyrights, etc., not previously capitalized, must under the law be excluded in determining the invested capital of a corporation under the excess profits tax law. Reports have reached the commissioner that lawyers and private tax advisers have solicited corporations to employ them to direct the increase in capital stock which they claim will help the corporations to evade certain taxes.

Salvage Hope of Enemy; Huns Want Supplies

Paris, Aug. 21.—As in Tardenois, the German high command is fighting an energetic rear-guard battle in Picardy. It is trying to snatch as much of the material as possible from the Montdidier pocket from the Allies and probably to form on the north coast of the Somme a new halting position as it did on the Vesle.

But there must be enormous obstruction across the Somme passages, which are continually bombed by Allied aeroplanes.

YANKS OFFICIALLY O. K.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Since the name "Yanks" for American soldiers has been officially approved by General March, its use is rapidly spreading through the camps in this country. The name was given Americans by British troops, and was then adopted by the French. It has been pointed out that the term Yankee has been applied to United States troops in every war save the revolution. The word Yankee first stood for New Englanders, and typified one who was sharp and crafty.

Pauline Frederick Rises to Greater Heights in 'Fedora'

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, and when I was only forty-five years of age and had all the symptoms incident to the vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it speedily proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. Godden, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Playing the role of a Russian princess of great wealth and beauty in "Fedora" playing at the Regent to-day

"Fedora" playing at the Regent to-day and to-morrow at the Regent Theater, Pauline Frederick rises to greater heights than in any previous picture she portrayed. The man she loves is murdered by the husband of the woman he was secretly loving. Fedora follows this man to Paris, and after she finds out the wily trip to the murder and that it was justifiable, she in turn falls in love with her former lover's murderer and weds him. She has been the cause of the drowning of her husband's brother in a dungeon and when he finds out he tries to strangle her. She takes poison and dies at this feet, just as police officers enter the room to prove that she was responsible for the brother's death.

By the workings of a strange bit of circumstance, a woman comes to the attention of a man who is more than any other man in the world. The man she should care for and love is the object of the most intense hatred. And why?

Reason so potent that they seem almost irresistible, appear in the dramatic picture which is shown at the Victoria Theater to-day, "The Bride's Awakening," in which pretty Mae Murray stars.

An "eleventh commandment," which bids him "never be found out," is at the bottom of the whole trouble. Women will be especially interested in the "awakening," to which this pretty, trusting young wife was rudely subjected. The film will be shown to-day only, together with the nineteenth part of "The Eagle's Eye."

To-morrow King Kelly will vary the monotony of daily excursions to a mile or so up in the air and a some-what "auventille" earth via the parachute route, by ascending to the altitude of three distinct drops on his triple parachute drop, that is the aeronaut will use three parachutes and make three distinct drops on his way down from this perilous height. Kelly is willing to wager a bank roll of $10,000 that he will not be hurt by the aeronaut doing exhibition work to-day can duplicate this stunt and up to date no one has come forward to prove him wrong. Those who want to get their money's worth in thrills can do so by going to the park to-morrow and see this stunt.

At the park theater an excellent novelty act, "The Children of Confucius," is pleasing the park audiences immensely.
