

FOE'S ARMY CRUSHED BY TREMENDOUS BRITISH BLOW WHICH CRASHES CLEAR THROUGH MAIN HINDENBURG POSITION

Haig's Troops Give Enemy No Time to Rest but Press Rapidly On

ADVANCE NORTH OF LENS LINES

More Towns Fall to British Army as Huns Retreat

London, Aug. 30.—British forces east of Arras resumed their advance this morning and at an early hour had penetrated another 2,000 yards on a front of seven miles between Bullecourt and the Scarpe, according to advices received here.

With the British Forces in France, Aug. 30.—Blaches, on the south bank of the Somme and about a mile from Peronne, has been captured by Field Marshal Haig's forces.

British troops this morning passed forward in an easterly direction from Bapaume. The British have made further advances to the north of Lens. At one place they pushed forward a thousand yards.

Peronne high road, was reported to have been captured this morning. The Germans have been driven behind the river Somme everywhere along the British front.

Northwest of Peronne, however, after the river changes its course from the north to the east, the British swept in so quickly that the causeway over the Somme at Clerly was in the hands of the British on this side of the river.

Bridges Destroyed The Germans have destroyed all the bridges across the Somme, including the regular bridge and the regular bridge at Peronne.

Peronne Under Fire Peronne and the country to the rear of that city are well under the fire of British guns.

North of Peronne the Germans now are holding the road to Bapaume as far as a point opposite Comblies. North of here the advance of the British made the enemy retire again.

Peronne seems to have been captured without much resistance by New Zealand troops who were assisted by pressure from the English on the south. The town was entered from the north and east. There was only short street fighting and then the Germans who had been left behind surrendered.

Fires indicated the withdrawal of the Germans on the northern end of the British front, and especially in the Lys salient are burning. Many explosions have been observed behind the enemy lines.

DEATH FOR BRUTE OF BERLIN, NOW IS DEMAND OF CITY

Harrisburg United in Belief That Kaiser Should Pay a Personal Penalty

HE MURDERED CHILDREN Torture Said Too Good For Leader of Vandal Armies That Plundered Belgium

Before you read this story stop and meditate what punishment you would suggest for the brute of Berlin when the Allies capture him. You know what they did to Napoleon; you've heard of the third degree and the Spanish Inquisition.

Many of the punishments which Harrisburgers would visit upon the Kaiser appear horrible in print, but they only go to show the sentiment against the man who began the war and whose orders have resulted in the cruelest barbarities the civilized world has ever known.

What would I do to the Kaiser? Why cut about one inch of flesh every morning and give him nothing to eat until he's good and dead.

Dr. C. A. Smucker, pastor of the Stevens Memorial Methodist Church, was in no wise uncertain. "The Kaiser and his fellow-conspirators," he declared "are the arch-murders of this world. They should pay the penalty of death; the whole bunch of them."

Joe Aramento, boniface, had practical notions. "We ought to chain the Kaiser like a bear and march him all over the United States with an organ grinder to play. Then put him on show at my place; then hang him to the highest telegraph pole and"

Huns Make Supreme Effort to Check Americans in New Drive

FOE MENACED BY ASSAULTS

French Troops Gain Positions Beyond the Noyon Base

With the French Army in France, Aug. 30.—General Humbert's troops which yesterday took Noyon and advanced to Mount Simeon, to the northeast, resumed their attack this morning and are advancing up the difficult heights north of the Oise.

With the French Army in France, Thursday, Aug. 29.—The Germans are making a supreme effort to maintain their positions on the plateau north of Soissons. They are throwing fresh troops against both the French and Americans and are disputing the ground foot by foot.

After the unsuccessful enemy attempts a few days ago to retake the heights west of the Soissons-Coucy-le-Chateau road, known as the Orme du Montecouve, prisoners taken by one French division included men from three different divisions of infantry and two battalions of crack mountain troops.

The loss of this height and a further advance made it all the more necessary for the Germans to prevent the allies from gaining ground on the plateau in the region of Juvigny where are the last heights defending the valley of the Allette.

To-night the villages of Rouy-le-Grand and Rouy-le-Petit, east of Nesles, are in the hands of the French while south along the canal they have Breuil, Moyencourt, and La Panterrie. North of Nesles, where General Humbert's troops also are approaching the Somme, the Germans launched a counterattack against Morchain without success.

After the capture of Noyon, French advanced eastward to the southern slopes of Mont St. Simeon.

Where Germans Are Retreating Before Allies

J. D. CAMERON, GREAT FIGURE IN PUBLIC LIFE, DIES

U. S. Senator From Pennsylvania For Two Decades; Once Cabinet Officer BORN IN MIDDLETOWN

Noted Republican Leader and Took Active Interest in Affairs of Harrisburg

James Donald Cameron, for two decades a United States senator from Pennsylvania, secretary of war in the late '70s, and who succeeded his famous father, General Simon Cameron, as the leader of the Republican party of the second state in the Union, died this morning at 4 o'clock at his country home, Donegal, Lancaster county. The senator, as he was known to thousands, had been in failing health for several months. Members of his immediate family were with him when he died.

Senator Cameron, following in the footsteps of his father in public affairs, was also a notable man of business, widely traveled, possessing a wonderful acquaintance and a strong following, and a lover of Pennsylvania. Born at Middletown, May 14, 1833, he often said the lower Susquehanna valley was the fairest part of the nation and men of international fame were often his guests at what he liked to call "The Farm."

In his early life the senator, through his banking and iron manufacturing interests at Middletown, where Cameron Furnace was the main industry for years, became intimately connected with the life of the United States Senate he upheld the Cameron name and kept Pennsylvania before the people. It was an odd coincidence that the late Senator M. S. Quay, who succeeded to the Cameron power in politics, had his country home close to Donegal.

HUNS FLEE OUT OF PICARDY TO AVOID CAPTURE

Village After Village Falls to Field Marshal Haig Who Begins to Roll Up Entire German Force; Advance of Allies Is Very Rapid

Moving forward with sustained power, the British armies east and southeast of Arras appear to have crashed clear through the Hindenburg line. Dispatches received to-day seem to indicate that now they have begun to "roll up" the German forces on the front to which the enemy is retreating along the whole Picardy front.

Bullecourt, which was on the Hindenburg line, was taken this morning. Hendecourt-lez-Cagnicourt, to the northeast of Bellecourt, has also fallen before Field Marshal Haig's men. South of Hendecourt and slightly to the east Rincourt has been captured by the advancing British. East of Arras astride the Scarpe, further gains are reported.

Great Line Is Endangered The Droocourt-Queant "switch line" now is within striking distance. Farther south the British have taken the village of Com-
