ALL NERVOUS WOMEN May Benefit by the Remedy Mrs. Little Recommends for Nervousness

Whitman, Mass.—"I suffered from a nervous, run-down condition and loss of strength so it was hard for me to get around and do my work. After other medicines had failed to help me Vinol restored my health and strength and I heartily recommend it to any one suffering from a nervous, run-down condition."—Mrs. R. M. Little.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body-building tonics. We strongly recommend it.

NEED MORE AIDS FOR BIG LABOR DEMONSTRATION

Committee Will Make Plans Tonight to Handle Additional Number in Parade

Additional aids for Harrisburg's big Labor Day parade will be appointed at this evening's meeting of the committee in the rooms of the American Federation of Labor and Building Trades at 211 Locust street. These appointments have been made necessary because of the greatly increased number of persons expected to participate in the parade. The Harrisburg Pipe and Pipe Fitting Company, the Harrisburg Manufacturing and Boiler Company and the Bethlehem Steel Company, have notified the committee that they will send much larger delegations than had been expected.

At this evening's meeting, expected to be the final one before the big celebration, the committee will announce its plans for the amusements of the day. The complete lists of prizes to be offered for the games and contests will be prepared. Included among these contests, all of which will be staged during the afternoon at Reservoir Park, where the picnic is to be held are: wheelbarrow race for men; sack race for boys under 16 years of age; peanut race; candle race; egg race; fat women's race; girls' fifty-yard race; standing high jump; running broad jump; boxing match; wrestling match; tug-of-war between two teams from the railroad shops.

Leutenant Robert W. Leshar, commander of the Harrisburg Recruiting District, this morning announced that he will detail nine men from the local station to act as Allied standard bearers in the parade. Men from the station have figured in all local parades during the past year and have been especially commended for their fine appearance in the processions.

Announcements have just been issued that the Harrisburg Post Office and the Hill and MacKay stations will be closed from 10 a. m. to 12 p. m., and that no rural deliveries will be made during the day. Letter-carriers will make only their first deliveries and only the first and night collections of mail.

SCHOOLS OPEN TUESDAY.—New Cumberland, Pa., Aug. 30.—On account of Labor Day coming on Monday, the schools will open Tuesday, September 3. There will be one change in the faculty.

Allies Sweep Through Foe's Lines at Will

bles, where there was terrific fighting during the German retirement a year ago last March.

West of Peronne, the British have captured the town of Clercy and they also have crossed the Somme south of Peronne.

Along the line farther south, which is held by the British, the night passed without change. There were counterattacks by the Germans against General Mangin's army between the Ailette and the Aisne, but these were repulsed by the French, who hold positions east of Pasy, which is less than two miles northwest of Soissons.

Huns in Desperate Plight

Along the front from the Somme south to the Noyon region and thence east of the Ailette, a sector which is vitally important at present, the enemy appears to have checked the French until he can extricate his forces from the perilous position in the salient between the Somme and the Oise.

Progress southeast of Arras would seem to be the most important feature of the news from the great battle. Canadians, it appears, slowly are advancing along the Arras-Cambrai road and are widening the gap in the famous line to which the Germans retired eighteen months ago.

It seems that any great additional British success in this region may shatter Germany's hopes of conducting a defensive campaign along this front to which it is probable, the Germans now are hastily withdrawing.

Foe Fights Desperately

On the extremities of the battle line the allies are moving ahead slowly against desperate German resistance. North of the Scarpe the British have retaken Greenland hill and maintain their other positions east of the Hindenburg line against counterattacks. The Germans here evidently hope to prevent the British from overrunning the Quentin-Derocourt line as they have the one to the west. South of the Scarpe heavy fighting is in progress in the region of Bullecourt.

North of Soissons the Germans have thrown in fresh troops to stop the advance of the French and Americans toward the heights dominating the Chemin des Dames, allied possession of which would compel the enemy to withdraw from the Vesle. The allies have the more favorable positions and have but one more plateau to overcome to reach their objective.

Stand Problematical

As the fall of Roye compelled the Germans to retire to the line of the Somme south of Peronne, the capture of Bapaume by the British made it necessary for the enemy to retreat north of the Somme. Where the enemy will attempt to make a stand here is problematical, but his best line would seem to be the Canal du Nord, which runs north-east from Peronne. The canal curves east five miles east of Bapaume and crosses the old Hindenburg line near Havincourt, seven miles east of Bapaume.

The Canal du Nord extends across the Picardy battle field in a general north and south direction and the fact that the Germans are offering stout resistance to the French south of Peronne where the canal parallels the Somme would indicate the probability that they may attempt to stand on the line of the canal. Noyon, the southern outlet of the canal was carried after heavy fighting and the Germans are contesting bitterly the possession of the heights north and east of Noyon. The French are on the southern slopes of Mont St. Simeon, an important height east of Noyon.

Look For New Move

General Mangin's move in crossing the Ailette and the Franco-American progress west of the Aisne may be the beginning of a move to outflank the heights east of Noyon and north of the Oise by a drive toward Tergnier.

There has been no further infantry fighting along the Vesle, although the American artillery is shelling the enemy positions heavily. The German claim of the capture of 250 Americans at Bazoches and Fismette Wednesday is denied by the Americans who have only a few men missing.

Since the beginning of the offensive in Picardy French troops have made the greatest advance. From Castel, on the Avre to Bethencourt, on the Somme, the French have moved forward almost twenty-five miles. The Hindenburg line is at St. Quentin, 15 miles due east. St. Quentin is 470 miles from Berlin westward and almost twenty-five miles from the Rhine. American troops east of Luneville are nearest of the allied forces to Berlin, which is 400 miles north-northeast, as the crow flies. In southern Alsace the Americans are 18 miles from the Rhine.

On the Ussuri front, north of Vladivostok, allied troops have repulsed an enemy attack and have begun an advance northward. South of China in east-central Siberia, anti-Bolshevik forces are moving northward along the Siberian railway.

County board No. 2 announced the following quota of five men: Charles McClellan Dare, Progress; John A. Shoudt, R. D. 4; George G. Gordon, Enhaut; Mason T. Bolty, Lebanon; Mark Labank, Enhaut.

City Board No. 3 will announce this quota to-morrow. County Board Nos. 1 and 3 will announce their quotas for this call to-morrow.

Stationary Engineer at Coxton Yard Declares Talc Has Given Him New Energy and Ambition

Mr. Millard F. Dietrich, stationary engineer at the Coxton Yards, is among the latest to come out with an endorsement of Talc. "Mr. Dietrich is well known here and lives at 1143 Exeter street, West Pittston," he said.

"Yes, I have paid out a large sum of money to get my stomach fixed up, but nothing did me any good until I took Talc."

"The first dose of Talc gave me relief, and I continued to improve. Talc first corrected my digestion. The sour stomach and heartburn disappeared. The headaches went and I can now eat a full meal without being afraid I am going to lose it."

"It turns on the steam, is the only way I can describe it," concludes Mr. Dietrich, for I seem to have more of it, anyway. My old-time energy has returned and makes my work easier."

* Talc is being introduced at the Gorgas' Drug Store.
