PUBLIC GENEROUS TO WAR WORK

Gratuities Are Numberless, Says Chairman of Hostess House

"Every time my phone rang this morning," said Mrs. Edward F. Dunlap, general chairman of the Civic Club hostess house, "I thought it was another offer of a water cooler." Judging from that statement it is obvious how very kind the people have been to volunteer their services and gifts to make the hostess house work of the Civic Club and local Red Cross count for so much.

The chairman made a plea for an old-fashioned water cooler through the medium of the press columns last evening and with attested results according to the reports of the committee this morning. A water cooler has been donated by Mrs. Albert M. Eamer, of Second and Herr streets, and Cowden and Company has given another. In addition to the water cooler, the committee have acknowledged other gifts from the Cowden Company such as water pitchers and crocks for making the hostess house the good housewives of the city.

The Stieff Piano Company have moved the piano loaned by the Harrisburg Chapter, D. A. B., from the Y. M. C. A. hall to the clubhouse. The Victrola records have been contributed by numerous persons.

Co-operation in the interesting work is being shown in every way and the committee feel that the success of the project is certain for the work is a community interest and both individuals and clubs have responded heartily to the various needs in the entertaining of the soldier and sailor lands.
