LABOR DAY IS CLOSED WITH BIG OUTING

Many Prizes Awarded For Winners in Interesting Contests

After presenting to Harrisburg its first parade of organized labor yesterday morning several thousand men with their wives and families went to Reservoir Park for a picnic which lasted through the afternoon

The scries of contests arranged by the committees in charge drew much interest from the onlookers. In the tug-of-war for five men teams, a quintet of husky blacksmiths easily succeeded in drawing a picked delegation across the line. This team included R. M. Adams, W. H. Knabe, L. J. Eisenhower, R. W. Fry and H. J. Fenton Each was awarded a stag handled knife. These prizes were the gift of the Harrisburg Telegraph as were all the prizes. A list of the other events with the names of the winners and the prizes awarded were:

SAVE OLD PAPERS Gives Birthday Party FOR RED CROSS

Harrisburgers Urged to Donate Old Newspapers and Magazines to Committee .

The Red Cross salvage committee states that there is a good market now for old newspapers and maga-Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones, chairman of the committee, asks that either the ward leaders or the individuals notify her at once of any that can be secured, and a collector will be sent around. A postal card can be dropped to Mrs. Jones at 105 Locust street, and it is hoped that there will be a response this week from hundreds of people. Get papers and old magazines ready and let the committee know. This form of income should be a steady thing from now until the close of the war, and both Mrs. Jones and the vice-chairman, Mrs. J. Sharon MacDonald, are working to this end. If people will save their old papers and give some specified day of the week or month on which they can be called for regularly, the committee will do the rest. Almost every person receives a couple of daily papers and there is no reason why the Red Cross salvage committee should not receive from this source several dollars every day. A goal of $10 a day has been set, but, if anything, it is too low. There is no reason why it should not be passed. It all depends upon the individuals. If the people of Harrisburg will save their old papers, the committee will attend promptly to their collection and sale. Send it word to-day if you have some. the committee know. This form of

An Infamous Falsehood

There was imposed upon the Telegraph last Saturday a story injuriously affecting Dr. J. E. Oxley of this city and Miss Idella Fisher, of Steelton, a teacher in the schools of the borough. The item was received through the mails in the usual routine of the day and was inadvertently passed in the social department without the customary investigation as to its authenticity. Upon attention being called to the item, which had reference to the alleged marriage of Dr. Oxley and Miss Fisher, the matter was investigated and the whole story found to be utterly baseless, a falsehood manufactured out of the whole cloth.

The Telegraph regrets this publication, but still more regrets that the malicious or foolish perpetrator in his or her infamous purpose to injure two very reputable persons, succeeded in using the columns of this in Little Son's Honor Social Diversions of Country Clubs Are of Altruistic Nature

> War time recreation day was celebrated at the country clubs of the city yesterday. Labor Day found many of the club members flocking to the clubs for diversion from the work-a-day world. The momentum of ten as witnessed by the fact that the recreative sports and Red Cross interests were combined in the programs of the day's doings.

The handicap golf tournament schduled for the Fort Hunter Cluby yesterday was played. The cup offered to the winner by the Vice-President, Walter P. Maguire, was won by Howard M. Bingaman, with a gross score of 90, a handicap of 14 points making his net score 76.

Miss Ruth Payne, Miss Dorothy Wallower, Miss Houston, of Philladelphia; Miss Mary Mitchell, Miss Elizabeth Knisely, and Miss Almeda Herman, sold gingerale, chocolates and various good things to eat from attractive Red Cross booths to the players and many people who were at the club. A sum of practically seventy-five dollars was netted from the sale of the "good things" and the entrance fee of the players.

Many took dinner at the club in the revening and enjoyed the, informal dance following. Among the host and hostesses at dinner parties were: Mrs. Russell Ealdwin, Mrs. Harry. Stine, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Her-

At the Colonial Country Club, there was the same idea of the Red Cross work suggested in the diversions. The golf tournament from which quite a large sum was netted for the Red Cross was captained by Samuel Nissley, and L. G. Owrey. The fees of the players were collected by Mrs. T. B. Wildermuth and Mrs. L. G. Owrey.

Tea was served to the players and members in the afternoon, with Mrs. C. P. Hench, and Mrs. M. W. Allen in charge of the tea tables. The auction of the Red Cross buttons to the members realized a goodly sum for the benefit. The highest bid for a button was five dollars and fifty cents. In the evening about 90 members and guests motored out to the club for dinner. Informal dancing with the Updegrove orchestra playing for the dancers ended the delightful program of the day's activities for the members.
