They all got what they wanted; but how they got it—that's what makes this such a wonderful comedy-drama. COME IN AND LAUGH WITH THE REST OF US!

years ago, and it has been altered so little that it still smacks of an expensive and lengthy performance. It is presented by people of real talent, and contains bits of comedy, serious laughs, Kinneard and Martin, the Harrisburg boys on the bill, are making neighbors at home. They have a real act. The bill at the Majestic will change to-morrow. "The Owl," a musical comedy girl offering, will be the chief feature. This is an unusual snappy offering, as far from being sleepy as the bird from which it derives its name.

Brilliant Norma Talmadge is the star of the big attraction, "The Safety Curtain," showing at the Colonial Theater to-day, to-morrow and Friday. It is said to be the type of picture practically in a class by itself, for it is not only lavishly mounted and presented by an exceptionally fine cast of players, but the work of the picture is of the highest order. Hereafter, Norma Talmadge ends not only the leading role in this picture, but every other role she has portrayed with the indefinable grace and charm which have made her the most popular actress in the world.

There are several strong attractions showing at the Regent this week. In the final Strong Attractions showing to-day, Elsie Ferguson, the famous Art-craft star, plays the leading part in Robert W. Chambers' "The Danger Mark." This play is a splendid dramatization of that well-known novel by the same name, and is extremely interesting and educational. The balance of the week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Cecil B. DeMills, the movie producer, the man who produced such famous photoplays as "Joan, the Woman," "The Woman God Forgot," "The Whirlwind," "The Sign of the Cross" and many others, will present "We Can't Have Everything," with a splendid cast. This picture, with a touch of romance in connection with the war. It is a big comedy drama.

ALLEES DAZZLED BY OUR ARMADA

Fleet of Transports, With 36,000 Men, Steals in During Night
American Port, Western France.
—Correspondence of The Associated Press.—
Twelve o'clock at night, all lights out ashore and aloft, heavy rain squalls sweeping out to sea and this great port dark and silent as the latest fleet of American transports and convoys—thirteen monster ships, ten destroyers, 36,000 fighting men, and 5,000 crew—creeps in from the Atlantic.

With an American Army escort, we had climbed to a high point on the seafloor to get a glimpse of this first process of the gigantic migration from America to Europe, the greatest the world has ever known, and then to follow it step by step in its vast and intricate activities unfolded up to the arrival of the men on the fighting front. The wireless station had received a cipher message giving warning of the approach of the fleet. It had been told the arrival would be in daylight, with flags flying, bands playing and the sun shining as the American fighting men got their first glimpse of Europe. But this is a dress parade, the admiral, and there is no time for stage effects.

And yet this midnight arrival in the darkness and rain is only one of the steady procession of great armadas coming every three or four days in the colossal American military influx, which Secretary B. H. Ladd estimates at 200,000 a single month. These 36,000 men just in are the population of a good-sized city; twice as many men as we sent to Cuba in the Spanish American War; about half the force Napoleon had at Waterloo when the destinies of Europe were in the scale. And while this is one of the record darkmarches, yet it is only a small part of that mighty stream coming in from the West. It is the unprecedented magnitude of such a military movement, across the ocean in the face of submarines, that has thrilled the allied world and broken the spirit of the adversary.

It was a stirring scene in the harbor the morning that followed as the transports unloaded their 36,000 men. The sky had cleared and the huge bulk of the transports loomed out of the mist, their funnels putting black smoke, their sides painted with fantastic camouflage and their decks rising like a forest of masts.

Red Cross Ships Much to Soldiers in France
A picture of the vast amount of work accomplished by the workers of the Harrisburg Chapter, American Red Cross, is given in the monthly report of the shipping department, which was issued this morning over the signature of Miss Anne McCormick, director of the Woman's Bureau. That the Red Cross workers are co-operating wholeheartedly and patriotically with their leaders in the campaign to provide comforts for the soldiers is evidenced by the fact that sixty cases of various Red Cross articles were shipped during the past month. A great variety of articles is included in the shipments, including in the list are abdominal bandages, absorbent pads, gauze strips, front line parcels, gauze sponges, irrigation pads, hospital gowns, including bed jackets, hospital shirts, pajamas, undershirts and underslips, sifibans, pillows, cases, bedspreads, comfort pillows, convalescent robes, draw sheets, heel rings, hotwater bag covers, property bags, shot towels and splint straps. Refugee garments and other articles for soldiers were included in the shipment.

SCHWAB PROTESTS DRAFTING OF HIS SKILLED WORKERS

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—Director General Charles M. Schwab, of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, last Tuesday sounded a warning against skilled workers being taken from shipyards for the draft. Last week 385 skilled men at Hog Island were taken from the yard and an effort will be made, Mr. Schwab said, to put a stop to it. "If we cannot have the men we cannot build the ships," Mr. Schwab said.

Withdrawal to Rhine Not Improbable; Men of Kaiser Grow Cold

Washington, Sept. 4.—So evident is the growing disorganization among the Germans shown in reports from the British front that some officers are inclined to think possible the enemy may be forced to a withdrawal to the Rhine this year. Others, however, feel that the skill the German leaders have displayed does not warrant any anticipation of any early collapse of the military machine. On all sides it is evident here that announcement of the formation of the first American field army and the fact that many American units which had been brigaded with the French or British for final training, have been withdrawn to be added to it have demoralized the German army. The Americans would attack during the present year. Ample time remains, it is said, for the organization of the force to be completed and the assault launched before winter interferences.

Mexican Federal Troops Are in Pursuit of Villa

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 4.—A force of 600 Mexican Federal troops is pursuing Francisco Villa as the result of an all-day engagement last Thursday when about 200 men were killed at Pilar de Conche, where the Villalists lured the regulars by a ruse, according to an American army officer here. The Federalists are said to have lost about 120 men.

Lord Reading Sees Prussian Dream of World Mastery Go

Chicago, Sept. 4.—The Prussian dream of world mastery has been banished by industrial achievements as well as by the courage of armed forces, the ambassador of Great Britain in a message read by Colville Barclay, British charge d'affaires here, at the United States government war exposition to-day, celebrated as British Day. "I feel certain that your exhibition adequately represents the immense efforts of the Allies and America's army and navy, and the completion of it will serve to illustrate to everyone the marvelous success with which inventors, manufacturers and workers turned from their normal occupations themselves to altered conditions when the call came."

Fraternal Order Pledges Ambulance For Red Cross

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—The annual state convention of the Order of Independent Americans met yesterday for the purpose of an ambulance for the Red Cross. Another measure decided upon exempts district councils which are paying dues for members in the service from paying a tax on these dues to the state council. Under the rules advancing the vice-councilor to state councilor, William Stewart, of McKeesport, succeeds John L. McCarragher, of Phoenixville. Other officers selected were: Vice-councilor, Charles R. Warner, Reading; secretary, William A. Pike, Philadelphia; treasurer, Charles A. Henderson, Pittsburgh.

Red Cross to Drive Hard in Yuletide

Washington, Sept. 4.—Christmas merriment will begin December 16 of the whole American people for membership in the American Red Cross was announced yesterday by Henry P. Davison, chairman of the organization's war council. Lists will be open for every American in every corner of the earth.

COAL EXPERT HERE MONDAY

Further Harrisburg casualties together with many other casualties reported through Pennsylvania, furnishing evidence that the Keystone Division is aiding materially in driving the Huns further on their way to the French border. The latest Harrisburg youth to be mentioned on the list is Private Charles Bowers, 1705 North Fifth street, who was severely wounded while in action on August 9. Official notification of Private Bowers' injury was received last evening in a telegram from the War Department to his wife, Mrs. C. B. Ruch, who is living with her parents at 33 West Lemon street, Lancaster. Private Ruch enlisted in 1915 with Company D, of the Eighth Regiment, of the old Pennsylvania National Guard. He saw service with this unit on the Mexican border, and took his training at Camp Hancock, Ga.

Tons of Bombs Drop on Rhine Provinces

London, Sept. 4.—The British independent air force within the past twenty-four hours has dropped fifteen tons of bombs on German military works in the Rhine provinces. Three raids were made on the German airfield at Buehl. Three hangars were demolished and direct hits were obtained on many other buildings. The railways for four miles northeast of Treves, were attacked from a height of 900 feet and every bomb scored a direct hit. The pilot was hit five times in an air raid on the German airfield at Vessenaux, Belgium, have caused great damage, according to an announcement made here yesterday. The pilot of a British two-seater was attacked by seven hostile machines. The enemy fired explosive bullets. The pilot was hit five times in the left leg, but succeeded in landing his machine behind the British lines.

Prince Rupprecht Reported at Odds With Ludendorff

Washington, Sept. 4.—Dispatches from Switzerland say Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, is in complete disagreement with General Ludendorff. The Crown Prince, it is said, opposed the last German offensive, holding that the Germans neither had the means nor the strategic positions to be successful. He wished to retire but the German command feared the discontent that this step would awake in Bavaria. It is suggested that this situation may explain why the Crown Prince has gone home on a long vacation.

Physicians Enrolling For Services in Army

The enrollment of physicians for medical service in the army if needed, was discussed at the Harrisburg Academy of Medicine last evening. This enrollment in Harrisburg and Dauphin county is in the hands of Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, city health officer, who says the doctors are responding generously with their tenders of service.

Kaiser Has a Relapse

Copenhagen, Sept. 4.—The German Emperor still is very ill, says the Berlin Vossische Zeitung. No complete recovery has supervened and she still is confined to her bed. There is no immediate danger of a fatal termination to the illness, the newspaper declares, but a serious relapse is feared. All engagements of the royal family have been cancelled.
