Furniture Dealers to Save Gasoline For War; Give Up Annual Trip

Frank R. Downey, president of the Harrisburg Motor Furniture Dealers' Association, announced today that the association will not take its annual vacation trip this year. It has been the custom of the members of the association to combine business with pleasure by taking a motor trip to a large furniture factory and inspecting it. This year the association members feel that the use of the gasoline would not be in line with the individual desires of the members to save gasoline for the government, so the trip has been called off.

In a letter recently received, one of the largest optical houses in England stated that they do not accept any new accounts and every customer's order must take its turn, regardless of the order or the customer; and that it is considered prompt service to turn out simple spherical lenses in two weeks, because more frequently the customer waits six to eight weeks.

How long it will be before we are confronted with similar conditions here, although not so severe, is a question. Every day the delays in getting lenses and mountings grow larger and no doubt will get worse as the scarcity of help in the factories becomes more acute.

The safe plan is to insure help in the factories becomes more acute.

The safe plan is to insure against delay by having an extra pair of glasses on hand, in case of breakage or loss. At present I have a large stock of lenses and mountings which were bought before the sharp advances took place. I am giving my patrons the advantage of my foresight, and am only charging the prices that prevailed when I placed my orders.

Now is the good time to get eyeglasses at an advantage in price and time.
