Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—In a letter to his wife, Colonel George E. Kemp, commander of the 110th infantry, tells how he narrowly escaped death in France when an exploding shell killed his second in command, Lieutenant Colonel W. H. Fetzer, who was standing by his side. Mrs. Kemp lives at 2020 South Sixteenth street. Her husband says:

"The command post, a fine brick house, was blown up. There were seventeen killed at that time, including two captive German captains who were being questioned. My jaw was a litle sore the next day, just as though I had received a punch.

"Lieutenant Colonel Fetzer, who was standing at my side, was killed his and the light of the part of them had been killed and thirteen had been killed and thirteen had been severely wounded. I commanded in stantly. The first shell fell in the yard and threw dirt on us. The next one hit the building and killed three orderies. Then we concluded to move, and had just got outside when the next shell came alons.

"I heard it whistle and called that another was coming, immediately

"Some Germans may throw down their arms and yell 'Kamerad!' when they get in a tight place, but not the Prussian' Guard." said Lieutenant Nolan in his letter. "Those Prussian Guards fought like tigers. They stood up like men, killing and being killed, until they were wiped out. If our boys had not been as quick, as well trained and as brave as the Guards, we would have lost out.

"I would like to wring the necks of those war correspondents who have been writing this 'Kamerad' stuff. It fooled our boys for a while, everybody expecting the Boches to beat it when we charged down on them. Maybe some of the weaker

As part of the "speed up" program at the Central Iron and Steel several string addresses were made this morning at a mass meeting held in No. 2 mill. George W. Miller, a New York orator, connected with the United States Shipping Board and Sergeant Major DeWitt, who was gassed on the western front while serving in the Red Cross section of the American Army, were the speakers on hundred per cent. Americans.

To-day for the first time a large flag was unfurled at the plant to signify that this establishment is an auxiliary of the United States Shipping Board. On Saturday another meeting will be held for the men at which time Captain Harris, of the Australian Army is to talk.

WONDERFULLY GRACEFUL WITH THEIR SYMMETRICAL LINES AND EFFECTIVE TRIMMINGS

These hats are reflections of the season's best styles with many little refinements and innovations that make them unusually attractive. They're the best developments we've seen yet of the prevailing tendencies both in large models and in turbans.

We have carefully applied ourselves to the task of selecting millinery that measures up to the standard desired by women who discriminate in the niceties of dress. For years Bowman's Millinery Department has enjoyed an enviable reputation. To maintain that reputation we have again chosen from the best makers such fashionable Fall Millinery as is authoritative and can be sold at a reasonable price.

LARGE DROOPING HATS of Beaver Cloth, Velvet, Satin combined with Velvet or Hatter's Plush, are trimmed in a manner of elegant sim-

WINGS are a favored trimming-sometimes they are placed at dashingly smart angles, other times they form the entire hat.

HAVANA BROWN, an alluring Sapphire Blue and a mellow rust shade of Red are among the new colors, but Black predominates.

CHENILLE, Burnt Feathers, Tinsel Thread and Ribbon, exquisite bits of Embroidery and tiny Tips are among the newnesses in trimming.
