

YANKS BRUSH PAST MACHINE GUN NESTS

Men of 112th Infantry Took Brave Part in Great Offensive Against Ludendorff's Invading Army; Huns Cry "Kamerad" When There is No Mercy

Sturdy Pennsylvania boys from "the oil country" had been pursuing the retreating Hun from Chateau Thierry to the banks of the Vesle river. Always on the heels of the enemy, they pushed forward in the face of German barages and rear-guard fire from hidden machine guns.

When the Pennsylvania boys reached the south bank of the Vesle, the Huns were still in Fismette, on the north bank. Lieutenant Arthur Nelson, of Kane, with Company B, 112th Infantry, comprising these "oil country" boys, has returned home, and tells this story:

"The Germans in Fismette seemed to be moving around pretty boldly. I don't know whether they held the Americans in contempt or what was the cause of their foolhardiness. At any rate, on the 11th of September, I went upstairs and one of our men was sitting at a window in a Morris chair.

He had his rifle sighted toward the Germans in the village. I asked him how he was getting along. "Fine, so far," he replied. "I've got two. Just say here and you will see something."

"Just then a Boche came out of a house and sat down on the doorway. "Get up, you damn Hun," he said. "No brains at all. It's a shame to take the money, but here goes!" He blazed away and the Boche rolled over into the street.

As the 112th was pushing forward Drive the Liquor Habit From Your Home Can Be Done Secretly.

NEW YORK.—Physicians and druggists unhesitatingly recommend Tescum powder for the liquor habit in craving and make whiskey and other alcoholic drinks. Druggists will tell you Tescum is selling better than any other remedy for the liquor habit. A druggist says: "I have seen this. It is because it gives better satisfaction. One physician says: 'I can stand in front of my home and throw a stone into a neighbor's yard to whom I gave Tescum powder for drunkenness and he was completely cured. Have also cured a large number of other patients.'"

"I saw one German with a hole shot in his neck and decided to kill him. But he could speak a little English, and he told me he was only 17 years old. 'Please don't kill me,' he cried, 'for I am too young to die.' So I let him go. "The other day we went into an oil barn and looked out on a field and saw a Hun in a shell hole. I took a shot at him and at the same time he took a shot at me. We both missed. I was a little quicker and got the next shot in before he got his gun loaded and hit him in the neck, but didn't kill him; just a flesh wound.

"Then another German with him jumped from the shell hole and started to hit the high places. But he didn't go far before he hit the dust for a home run, shot through his stomach. Poor fellow, he never knew what hit him."

"The Germans are shelling us heavily, but down here in my dug-out I seem to be safe," writes Thomas Sharkey, 508 South Twentieth street, Philadelphia, previously reported missing, but now back with his company. He is 19 years old and is assigned to Company M, 112th Infantry, (Captain E. J. Stackpole, Jr.), which suffered severe casualties in battle July 30. Sharkey was reported missing after the action.

Daniel Morrow, 609 South Hancock street, Philadelphia, another member of Company M, who had been listed as missing since July 30, is now in a hospital recovering from wounds, according to a letter received by his father. He describes his wound as a "lucky shot." He is 19 years old and enlisted a year ago.

AMERICAN TROOPS AT ARCHANGEL TO FIGHT SOVIETS

First U. S. Expedition Arrives on Murman Coast During Red Terror Flareup

Washington, Sept. 12.—Announcement by General March, chief of staff, that the first American Expedition had landed at Archangel to help the Allied operation against the Bolshevik in the Murmans coast, was made last night a few hours after apparently authentic dispatches reached the State Department that Petrograd was burning and that people in the streets were being massacred indiscriminately in a flareup of the Russian Red Terror.

For military reasons the number of soldiers landing was not revealed, nor was it made clear when they had embarked. It was assumed, however, that the soldiers had been sent from English camps, where Americans are training.

General March's announcement was made public through the committee on public information which issued this statement: "By order of General March, the safe arrival of American troops at Archangel is announced."

After the Allied forces landed on the shores of the White Sea several months ago, there were reports that American troops were co-operating with them, but it subsequently developed that the forces were marines from American warships. The troops, the arrival of which is now announced, are the first from the United States to be sent into Northern Russia.

Most of the troops are from states where the winters are like those in Russia. Their voyage was quick and tranquil. The men suffered few discomforts, except there was a heavy list of seasickness, said dispatches from Archangel announcing their arrival. Many of them speak the Russian language fluently.

Raise Fund to Fight Trolley Fare Increase Before Utilities Board

Following on the heels of a protest by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor addressed to Chairman W. D. B. Alney, of the Public Service Commission, declaring against the proposed increase of street car fares from five to six cents, the Harrisburg Railways Company intends putting into effect October 1, two businessmen have made initial contributions to a fund designed to be spent in engaging counsel to legally combat the scheme of the corporation.

The men, Irving E. Robinson, of Robinson's Women's Shop, 20 North Fourth street, and Max Reiter, pawnbroker and jeweler, 18 North street, have sent amounts of $50 and $5, respectively, to Charles P. Quinn, secretary of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, whose office is in the Commonwealth Trust building, offering the same as a nucleus wherewith to wage war on the increased fare proposition. Mr. Quinn has agreed to become treasurer of the fund.

Discussing the matter yesterday, Mr. Quinn said: "The question involved in the protest is not only the increased costs of operation and materials, but one that was put up. But it is one of ridding the company of stock not represented in physical property. This is a big question and one that was put up to the last Legislature in a bill that proposed wiping out all water stock in railroad and street railway properties by a system that would have worked no hardship on the innocent holders of the watered stock. This was for the companies to purchase in this stock with money used as dividends from American warships. The troops, the arrival of which is now announced, are the first from the United States to be sent into Northern Russia."

WORKERS LISTED WELL IN ADVANCE

Major Murdock Looks For Prompt Reports to Be Made by Local Boards Tonight

Some of the local draft boards of Pennsylvania have registered a fair percentage of men employed in iron and steel, shipbuilding, munitions and other plants and on railroads, according to reports coming to Major W. G. Murdock, state draft officer. In Pittsburgh local boards have been registering men for several days who have been away from home or who are engaged in big establishments so that there will be no necessity for any suspension of operations.

"We look forward to about 1,100,000 Pennsylvania men registering today. Boards have been getting ready for days and I think will do what the government asks in fine style," said Major Murdock. "I hope that as soon as possible the Board will report their totals to this office by wire. They should report the totals; the details can come afterwards."

Arrangements have been made for registering men who are in prisons by local boards. War has brought about a reduction of about forty per cent. in the prison population of Pennsylvania, declares Bromley Wharton, secretary and general agent of the State Board of Public Charities, in a report made to the Board. Mr. Wharton has completed a tour of many prisons and institutions under state supervision and says that the military and industrial conditions have unquestionably brought about this situation. In a number of counties where prisoners are very few, they are being used to clean courthouses and similar work, while in others where the number makes it worth while they are employed in farming and on road repairs.

Kindness to Horses Lands Them in Jail

Grand Forks, B. C.—Because they do not believe in working animals nine Doukhobors are spending six months in jail here. The Doukhobors were convicted or having entered a barn, turned loose the horses, stolen the harness and then set fire to the building.

At the trial the men refused to give their names, saying they are "sons of God." One of them recently burned his title deeds to his property, suggesting it was his intention to "give it to Jesus."

Germany Must Renounce Pan-German Ideas to Win Peace, Berlin Recognizes

Stockholm, Sept. 12.—As the first step toward peace, Germany must renounce the pan-German ideas in the opinion of Professor Hans Delbrueck, of the University of Berlin. In an article in the magazine Prussian Year Book, he declared the pan-Germans not only bear a portion of the responsibility for the war but also the chief responsibility for its prolongation. He says: "The world demands and has a right to demand that the German people give a guaranty that the pan-German spirit, the spirit of superiority, of might, of hegemony isn't the German spirit. The best method of showing the world that the German government has definitely and irrevocably shown the pan-German endeavor the door would be for the government to collect all of those ante-bellum pan-German incitements and demonstrate by means of our enemies' literature how greatly they have conducted damaged us and helped to light the fires of this catastrophic war."

Chicago, Sept. 12.—In the face of the early returns from yesterday's state-wide primary Medill McCormick has defeated Mayor William Hale Thompson for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous "Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken For Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat. "Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly of thick coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in the stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind, and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician. Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is inflamed and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest it. This condition soon breeds acid, and carries the infection throughout the system. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer. In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach with the bisurated magnesia, an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover, the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten the food. It is a natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative. Bisurated Magnesia is pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bisurated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure bisurated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose. G. A. Corlies.
