"Stylish Stout" Sveltline System Corsets

Simulating Slimness — the stout woman has come into her own — the plump, pleasant, buoyant, healthy woman is in the ascendant.

She knows about a good many things to-day that her mother and grandmother didn't dream of. One of these is the science of dressing stout women becomingly, charmingly and attractively.

To-day the wizards of designing have brought to the stout woman the reducing effect of scientifically arranged lines in dress by the appearance of slenderness when none exists.

A woman need not necessarily look stout because the scales say "she weighs over 200 pounds."

By the artful use of certain lines it is possible to give to the stout figured woman that grace and poise long envied in her more slender sisters.

If the stout woman considers her figure lines with care and discrimination, she will find that the proper selection of her corsets is the absolute essential.

Above all others, the stout woman must be perfectly corseted, and, as the importance of this fundamental principal of correct figure building is realized the vexing problems of being "stylish though stout," solves itself.

The elements that go to make perfect corseting, ease, grace and symmetry of line are found only in the "STYLISH STOUT" Sveltline corsets.

We invite you in for a free fitting. Satisfaction absolutely guaranteed in both front and back-lace models.
