Real Estate As An Investment

Have you ever considered the stability of a real estate investment? Here is an actual experience of a friend of mine: When the war began in July, 1914, he held twenty shares of Pennsylvania Railroad stock, paying 6 per cent. dividend and valued at $1,100. He also held five $1,000 bonds of the Reading Railroad paying 4 per cent. interest and valued at $4,775. Also a judgment for $1,400 against a property on Sixteenth Street, Harrisburg (following a first mortgage), valued at $1,400. To-day the Pennsylvania Railroad stock cannot be sold for more than $880. (A depreciation of $220) The Reading bonds in the market are quoted at $4,100. (A loss of $675) And the judgment on the real estate was paid off a few days ago at $1,400 (full interest at 6 per cent. having been paid in the meantime). MOTTO: INVEST YOUR MONEY IN REAL ESTATE FOR REAL SAFETY.

Some nice corner lots on Sixteenth and Seventeenth Streets—paved, sidewalks, sewer, gas, water; all ready for the builder, at prices that have not been raised a dollar since before the war, but will jump as soon as usual building is resumed. Note: H. A. Sherk has just begun the erection of four dwelling houses on Herr street near Seventeenth.

MOTORISTS URGED TO STAY HOME SUNDAY

Members of the Harrisburg Motor Club have each received a letter from the officials of the club congratulating them on the voluntary observance of the "gasless Sunday" edict issued by the Government Fuel Administrator. The message is signed by Frank Downey, president, and J. Clyde Myton, secretary. It is as follows: "Motor Club members, you have again shown your loyalty to our government in the observance of the request that you observe 'gasless Sunday.' If stopping the use of passenger cars on Sunday will shorten, even by months, the murderous conflict in which we are engaged and save any number of American lives, there is no doubt of the answer that we will have."

FOUR MORE ARRESTED AT COWDEN STREET

Two women and two men were arrested at 16 Cowden street on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, last night. The house, with its twin, No. 17, is famous as a continual harboring place of lawlessness, and figures more than any other one locality on the police record of the police court clerk, Jane Craig, Marie Thomas, Charles Prater and John Moore were the latest "graduates" of the place. After drifting until they were disorderly, police say, they utilized the bottles to throw each other. Patrolmen McCann, Bathurst and Lowry made the arrests.

The police were summoned and Grayson was arrested.

WANTS $5,000 DAMAGES

Mrs. Mary Barnhart, through her attorney, Robert Stucker, to-day brought suit against the Pennsylvania Railways Company for $5,000 damages, because of an accident occurring on September 27, 1917, when a trolley car struck the automobile in which she was riding, hurling her from the seat.

A Battery of the Wonderful Moline Farm Tractors at Schell's Seed Store Now Ready For the "Wheat" Trenches. Away they go, every one of them to farmers of Dauphin county to reinforce others already at work. This wonderful all-purpose MOLINE TRACTOR is the tractor all the farmers will eventually use for it has electric starter, electric lights, and is so easy to operate that it is a real pleasure to operate it. Schell's Seed Store sells them and Mr. Schell says they are having more calls from the farmers for demonstrations on their farms than they can fill. All who have bought them are wild with enthusiasm over the way they do all the farm work that can be done, and more. On Tuesday one goes to Mr. E. B. Mitchell's Farm; Thursday one was put to work on Boyd's Bonnymeade Farm. Mr. Harry Dietrich of Shellville, is doing wonderful work with his "MOLINE." He said, "Now I can put out eighty acres of wheat instead of forty and make enough on these extra forty acres to clear my tractor."
