It is a well-recognized fact that everyone is delighted with the new "Darktown Follies" which are now so popular throughout this country and are called "Follies." This music is said to have originated in Louisiana where a colored boy, on a sugar plantation, was a most prolific dancer. He entertained his fellow-workers at the noon hour with his dancing pranks and played his own accompaniment on a mouth harp. This young lad's nickname was "Jazz," and the popular name has been extracted from his mouth harp and has become a word used by everyone around the plantation swaying to its most fascinating rhythm. The syncopation was named "Jazz" after its originator, and it has taken the country by storm. The famous "hot" "Follies" are the largest colored show in the world. It will appear at the Orpheum to-night "broadwaying" the city.
