MURDERERS BREAK DOWN Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 18.—Told for the first time today that they had been directed by Governor Brumbaugh to be executed during the week of October 21, Henry Sallada and James Sallada, of Sacramento, convicted murderers of Henry Schlegel, a Coal township, Northumberland county merchant, collapsed. The men had hoped that they would be released to enlist in the world war, and had written repeatedly to the Governor asking for a pardon, so that they might enlist. Schlegel was shot down in cold blood last January and his corpse robbed. The Salladas admitted the crime, but said they were given to understand that the specific date of the alleged killing of Sallada was not stated in the information and that the conviction was mostly on hearsay evidence. Game warden Charles D. Maddenford was the prosecutor.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Euring's (double strength) and add it to a pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is a pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

CAMP COLT WILL BE MOVED SOUTH

Transfer of Training Place For Tankers From Gettysburg to Raleigh, N. C.

Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Gettysburg will lose Camp Colt for the winter months. This has been determined by the War Department, which will open a new camp of Tankers near Raleigh, N. C. to be used as the winter base for this branch of the service. A committee of Gettysburg citizens went to Washington to try to have the camp prepared for winter use, so that the troops might be kept here all the year round, but were informed by the authorities that the men would be moved as soon as cold weather sets in. It was stated that permanent barracks had been built at Raleigh, that they were for winter use and that there could be no changes in the plan to send the Camp Colt soldiers there. Gettysburg will continue to be used as a summer camp, they were given to understand, but it is too late in the season now to begin the construction of barracks suitable for winter occupancy. The committee pointed out that Gettysburg and Tobyhannock were the only camps in this state, and that both were very small compared to the big ones in the other States. The fact that it was entitled to more consideration was emphasized.

PATRIOTIC LEAGUE AT COLUMBIA

Columbia, Pa., Sept. 18.—The Young Women of Columbia, under direction of Miss Ada M. Forry, a teacher in the public schools, will hold a meeting in the auditorium of the high school on Friday night to organize a patriotic league, the purpose of which is to engage actively in war activities. A number of women headed by Mrs. Carrie W. Rasbridge, collected nearly two hundred dollars along the streets with which they will purchase a large American flag for the town hall.

FLAGRAING CEREMONY

New Cumberland, Pa., Sept. 18.—An American flag was unfurled last night in Center Square, being a donation of the Citizens of New Cumberland. The presentation speech was made by the Rev. Francis J. S. Morrow, of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, during the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" the flag was pulled to the top of the pole. The speaker, who was largely instrumental in securing this new emblem for the Square, thanked the band, of Marietta, for furnishing the music.

PAINTER ELECTROCUTED

Northumberland, Pa., Sept. 18.—Charles McGinley, aged 28, of Danville, was instantly killed, when his hand touched a cable carrying 22,000 volts of electricity. He was a painter and was working on an electric tower when the accident occurred. The body writhed and twisted from the electric shock, and was telephoned to Milton to shut off the power. His wife and four children survive.

Advice to the Lovelorn

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX AN INDIFFERENT LOVER DEAR MARY FAIRFAX: I am 22 and I have known a young man nine years my senior for five years. He has been very kind and kind to marry him. Two months later he gave me an engagement ring, and we were to have been married last March. During this time I have been working very hard, earning a good salary and respected by all who knew me. Lately my fiancé has changed his mind, says he does not want to marry me, and another two years, sometimes he says in six months, but does not think I have anything to say in the matter. I find that I have been losing confidence in him and I have been ill, because of his conduct. He has asked me to go back to my work, which was bookkeeping, but I find I have lost interest in it. Please advise me what to do. My friend earns a fair salary and I have a little money myself, besides my trust fund. But he evidently I wait for another two years and save more money. This I find very hard to do.

SUFFERING MIND

I do not like the attitude of your mind. If he were really generous I suggest your going back to work when you have been ill and evidently need a rest. This sort of selfishness seldom improves after marriage. Why not stay away from work until you get stronger and try to think of something else than marriage and this man? You have a little money saved, it seems to me that it could not be put to better advantage than in helping to restore you to health. When you feel better, some other solution of your difficulties will doubtless occur than marriage with a man whose sole idea seems to be that you save more money.

RED CROSS ASKS TON OF CLOTHING

Mechanicsburg Will Conduct Campaign For Belgian Aid September 28-30

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Under the supervision of the Red Cross, a clothing campaign for the Belgians will be held September 28 to 30, and the people of Mechanicsburg and vicinity are urged to cooperate heartily. Every household has spare clothing, worn or out-of-date, of little use here, but desperately needed by the destitute there. Again the Red Cross must be the line of communication between plenty and want. Ten million people in occupied Belgium and France are facing shame, suffering disease and some of their death for lack of clothing this winter. They must be helped. We, who are well clothed, can hardly appreciate in what dire need these people are for lack of necessities. Stocks of clothing and raw material are long since exhausted. But every person can contribute of their accumulation at home here. The Mechanicsburg chapter of the Red Cross is asked for one ton of clothing as their quota and it is earnestly hoped that the committees will find a ready response from the people, so there will be no difficulty in oversubscribing the allotment. Committees will be appointed in the near future for the work, which is considered of utmost importance.

IMMENSE MUSHROOMS FOUND

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 18.—Mrs. Henrietta Fitz, Blue Ridge Summit, has come in possession of what she claims to be the largest mushrooms seen in the Blue Ridge mountains in many years. She gathered two of the mushrooms on her farm one of which measured 48 inches in circumference while the other measured 36 inches. Both were pure white inside and outside. Mrs. Fitz presented them to the family of Dr. H. M. Thomas, of Baltimore, who are occupying a cottage at the Summit for the season.

FARMERETS PICK APPLES

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 18.—Several young women of this city hiked to the large apple orchard of Edward Nicholson, Zullinger, yesterday morning, where they are engaged in the picking apples. They were attired in the chic khaki-colored suit of the farmerets. They expect to stick to the job until the crop of apples are gathered. Their number will be added to every day as there are a number of women of Waynesboro who have signified their intention of engaging in the work.

CASE OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 18.—The home of John B. Schlichter, of Lettewny township, was quarantined yesterday on account of their daughter, Edna, who has developed infantile paralysis. His legs are affected. A suspected case is under observation in Chambersburg. A case of this disease has developed in Hagerstown—the first one there for some time.
