AMERICAN FLAG GIFT FOR SOCIETY

National War Aid Holds Its Opening Fall Meeting; the Rev. Dr. Bagnell Speaks

The National War Aid Society held the first open meeting of the season last evening in the Tabernacle. Mrs. William Jennings, the president, presided. After business was transacted a large silk American flag was formally presented to the society. The flag, which is the much-admired one carried at the head of the mothers' unit in the big Red Cross parade last May, is the gift of William Jennings. Owing to the fact that their were no public meetings during the summer the formal presentation was postponed until last evening. Mrs. George Kunkel made the presentation speech and also was the spokesman for a basket of flowers, the gift of the society to Mrs. Jennings.

The main number of the program was an address by the Rev. Dr. Robert Bagnell on his experiences in France. Special music was furnished by a sextet of soldiers who are stationed at Middletown. Sergeant Fuey, of the Aviation camp, sang several popular war-time songs. Miss Agnes Hess presided at the piano.

The hall was decorated with flags and with a large vase of flowers, the gift of Mrs. Charles Uttley, which was especially appreciated.

Mr. Allen expects to return home on Friday evening.

TO FIGHT WAR OUT TO A CLEAN FINISH, BAGNELL TELLS THE KIWANIS CLUB

The message of the American soldier in France to the home folks is that of a clean finish, declared Dr. Robert Bagnell, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, recently returned from France, who addressed the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at noon to-day. Dr. Bagnell told of his experiences in visiting the front lines and trenches. Vivid human interest stories of the work of the troops abounded in his talk. One night after a lecture to colored troops he heard them sing "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and other negro lullabies and he contrasted it to the firing of the big guns on the front. Many other tales of interest to all his hearers were related. "The most delightful thing I saw on the whole trip was New York harbor when I came back," he concluded. The meeting opened at 12:15 o'clock. Rabbi Louis J. Haas, of Ohev Shalom Synagogue pronounced the invocation. Through the courtesy of George Sellers, the Pennsylvania Concert Company sang a number of war-time melodies. George H. Reed was the winner of the attendance prize, two Baby Bonds given by E. B. Chenoweth. Pencils were distributed by E. K. Porto of the Atlantic Reining Company.

STATE PLANS BIG DEMONSTRATION

Announcement Made of Plans For the Orchard Work and Midwinter Show

In addition to the state demonstration of tractors as a means of plowing to increase the wheat acreage of Pennsylvania to be held near the Quartermaster Depot farm near New Cumberland next week, the State Department of Agriculture is arranging for an orchard drainage demonstration on September 28. The latter demonstration will take place at Wycombe, Bucks county, and state farm advisers will be in charge. A tractor ditcher will be used to show that it is possible to finish a ditch for tile in one operation. It is expected to lay approximately 20,000 feet of tile. State officials will attend and urge that owners of land which can be drained take it in hand so that it can be used for cultivation next spring.

The state has been divided into five corn districts for the midwinter farm products exhibit to be held by the Department of Agriculture here in January. There will be four classes of corn and an honorary state class in which exhibitors who won a first premium last winter can compete. There will also be a sweep-stake class, a grand champion, a big ear, thirty-ear, boy and girl and county corn contests. Exhibits of small grains such as wheat, rye, clover seed, soy beans, oats and buckwheat are to be arranged as well as a hay exhibit of meadows of timothy, alfalfa, red clover and sweet clover hay.

The districts will be: District No. 1—Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Lancaster, Montgomery, Philadelphia and York counties.

District No. 2—Adams, Berks, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Lebanon, Lehigh, Northampton and Perry counties.

District No. 3—Armstrong, Beaver, Bedford, Blair, Butler, Cambria, Center, Clinton, Columbia, Fulton, Huntingdon, Indiana, Juniata, Lawrence, Lycoming, Mercer, Mifflin, Montour, Northumberland, Schuylkill Snyder, Somerset and Union counties.

District No. 4—Bradford, Cameron, Carbon, Clarion, Clearfield, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Forest, Jefferson, Lackawanna, Luzerne, McKean, Monroe, Pike, Potter, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Venango, Warren, Wayne and Wyoming counties.

District No. 5—Allegheny, Fayette, Greene, Washington and Westmoreland counties.

STEELTON TO HOLD MURDER INQUEST TONIGHT

Dundoff Case to Be Reviewed by Coroner; Self Defense Plea of Defendant

VASIL DUNDOFF

Coroner Eckinger will hold an inquest this evening in the case of Vasil Dundoff, aged 20, who killed James Moore, a negro, when Moore is alleged to have choked his father.

In the quarrel, which occurred last Friday in Dundoff's store at Franklin and Myers streets, Moore is said to have started an argument about his change, while making a purchase.

Becoming enraged when the Dundoffs refused to see his way, Moore is said to have grabbed Dundoff, senior, who was present, and dragging him outside, started to choke the old man who is more than 60 years old.

Yash, hearing his father's cries for help, ran into a rear room and, securing a revolver, shot Moore first in the leg and then in the stomach. The second wound caused his death. The inquest will be held in Wilt's undertaking parlor in South Front street.
