Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal

The answer has been made by millions—there's only one corn-remover that you can bank on that's absolutely certain, that makes any corn

Corn-Pain is Eased—the Corn is Doomed!

On each peel right off like a banana skin — and that's magic "Gets-It" Tight shoes and dancing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you use a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-remover, not a corn-pain-remover. You don't have to fool with your fingers by using "Gets-It". Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It" — your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "gone" sure as the sun rises.

"Gets-It" — the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Clark's Medicine Store, H. C. Keeney & A. Gergas, Keller's Drug Store, F. K. Kitzmiller.

an address on his findings before the Chamber at luncheon to-morrow.

He was very much impressed with the city as a whole, this being his first visit. Many of the types of houses he found good and not a few of the local developments met with his hearty approval. He saw many houses that might be greatly improved at small expense, but was more deeply interested with entirely new operations, it being his comment that there is plenty of well situated land about the city upon which attractive groups of modern houses might be located which would sell or rent at a price easily within reach of the average workman.

"The whole purpose of the survey," said Mr. Jackson, "is to ascertain just what Harrisburg ought to do to provide good homes at reasonable rents for its working men. We realize that our need in this is great and we hope Mr. Veiller will be able to find a solution for us. Of course we cannot say now what will or will not be done. Mr. Veiller is here in an advisory capacity and to talk for publication now would be to anticipate what he will have to say at the luncheon to-morrow. We have tried to put all necessary information at his disposal."

Mr. Veiller was very much impressed with the Cameron Extension section, which he said is an exceptionally good example of this type of housing.

found by his comrades. Lieutenant Robertson returned safely.

Lieutenant David E. Putnam, a descendant of General Israel Putnam, was credited with twelve aerial victories. He enlisted as an aviator with the Lafayette flying squadron and brought down his first enemy machine on January 19, 1918. He was awarded the French Croix de Guerre on March 23, after having won five victories in the air. He later was decorated with the military medal by the French government.

Lieutenant Putnam was transferred to the American Aerial Corps as first lieutenant early in June. His achievement on June 10 of bringing down five German airplanes in one day has been eclipsed only once during the war. Aviator Rene Fonck, of the French army, having destroyed six machines in one day. Lieutenant Putnam's last aerial victory was reported on September 2.

It was with Sergeant Walter Shaffer's squadron that Lieutenant Putnam first began to fly and the dead ace was often mentioned in the Dauphin boy's letters. The two bunked together for a while and some of Lieutenant Putnam's daring exploits were vividly told in Shaffer's letters. Putnam and Shaffer made many flights together until the former was transferred to the American Army. It was while Putnam was in Shaffer's squadron that he beat down five Boche aviators in one day.

SENATE TO PROBE PALMER'S CHARGE AGAINST BREWERS

Resolution Recites Evidence of Violations of Law Unprecedented in U. S.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Investigation of political and propaganda activities of the brewing interests was ordered to-day by the Senate. It will be directed particularly at charges that the brewers have bought a Washington newspaper controlled by Burdette G. Lewis, commissioner of charities and corrections, who said the plan would have its first tryout in New Jersey.

Prisoners in this state, said the commissioner, will be utilized in work essential to the war and will be drilled under the supervision of an Army officer for incorporation in a separate unit of the military forces.

The plan, the official stated, will eliminate the objections of military officers to the enrollment of felons and misdemeanants with other troops.

Prisoners should "work or fight," declared Mr. Lewis, asserting that the New Jersey plan, if applied to other states, will result in the employment of the country's entire prisoner class in war work at home, non-combatant service in camps here or abroad or actual fighting according to the capabilities of the individuals.

likely to take place in the county. The force of agents designated as the Food Administration's Field Agents.

These agents work in their specified territories, investigating, according to report to headquarters definitely and specifically on violations in the county. The organization reaches to every township and borough and every violator of food regulations is discovered sooner or later.

The personal identity of the food agents is never revealed. In Dauphin county it already has brought many food regulation violators to justice.

Where a delinquency is discovered by the food agents and the transgressor has made an error, it is corrected with the least possible trouble to the delinquent. Serious measures are employed only in cases of defiant and willful infractions of the regulations.

Where an error is discovered by the food agents and can be corrected without disclosing the identity of the unintentional violator, the secret agent brings it to the attention of the local food administration who corrects it secretly without disclosing the identity of the violator.

Each of the sixty-seven counties of the state is organized in the same way with the food investigators, and the system already has achieved splendid results.

The first force was organized in Philadelphia. It began with only a few members, but was augmented from time to time and now it has the entire city under surveillance. In the same manner, Harrisburg is organized and any infraction of food regulations is almost certain to be detected.

The agents are citizens who have volunteered for the patriotic service. They include men and women of every walk in life and nearly every nationality represented in the city's population.

These field agents are under the direction of Houston Dunn, of Philadelphia, who has organized the force and will continue as its chief.

C. W. Sayers, a Lancaster Y. M. C. A. secretary, who went "over the top" with the boys in France, is telling how it felt to go "over the top" in a talk to the Y. M. C. A. to be held in the "Y" building, Thursday evening, October 3. This was announced at the weekly luncheon of the social work committee held in the assembly room of the "Y" building at noon to-day. It is planned to make the event of great interest to the working men.

Plans were also laid for a Halloween party for the men of the association. Bobbing for apples, "spooky" talk and other old-time games will be included on the program of the evening. Popcorn, apples and Halloween refreshments will be served.

NATION PLANS TO TRAIN PRISONERS FOR WAR DUTIES

Scheme Will Have First Trial in New Jersey; to Work or Fight

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 19.—An experiment which may lead to intensive military and manual training of more than 400,000 prisoners in jails throughout the country to prepare them physically, mentally and morally for service in the Army has been approved by the War Department, according to a statement to-day by Burdette G. Lewis, commissioner of charities and corrections, who said the plan would have its first tryout in New Jersey.

Prisoners in this state, said the commissioner, will be utilized in work essential to the war and will be drilled under the supervision of an Army officer for incorporation in a separate unit of the military forces.

CONSERVATION OF FOOD DURING THE WINTER IS URGENT

Administrator McCormick Declares Fresh Beef Will Become Scarce

Donald McCormick, county food administrator, who returned from a conference between county food administrators and State Food Administrator Howard Heinz at Philadelphia yesterday, announced this morning that the regulations governing wheat, sugar and substitutes will remain in force until spring at least.

Beef regulations likely will become more stringent within the very near future, he said. As soon as huge refrigerator plants now being built in France are completed, the best beef products of the United States will be shipped over seas for the use of the armies there. This will necessitate a curtailment of the use of fresh beef in this country.

The limitation of two pounds per person monthly on sugar will remain in force indefinitely. The lack of ships to import sugar, the shortage of sugar beet and cane crops, the destruction of huge refineries in France and Belgium, and the enormous supplies needed for the soldiers, combine to make the economical use of sugar necessary.

Storing Wheat

Wheat is being stored against a future shortage, he said. While the crops of this harvest were bountiful, he said, next year's may not be so, and it is necessary to provide against a shortage. Moreover, he added, the Allies and armies are looking to the nation to send them enough wheat for their sustenance. Every country fighting against Germany has said, is on the four-to-one wheat purchase ration recently put into effect here.

Mr. McCormick issued a request that all householders conserve in their homes by using substitutes with wheat flour when baking.

"Users of wheat who refuse to bake substitutes in with their wheat flour should be frowned down upon and publicly branded as slackers, the same as violators of the gasolineless Sunday order have been," Mr. McCormick said.

Public eating houses still are limited to but two ounces of bread to a patron at one time. Other wheat products, including pie and pastry, however, may be sold in addition to the two ounces of wheat bread to one patron.

Fighting Is Severe

This success drives deeper the wedge south of the Hindenburg positions in the St. Gobain region, and facilitates operations in the direction of Pinon.

The fighting in this region has been most severe during the last few days.

Prisoners now are complaining that they are frequently left in the front line to shift for themselves. Rarely do their officers stand by them when they are attacked, they say. It often happens that machine gun crews are ordered to hold positions and discover some time afterward that the troops behind them have abandoned the field. They attribute the concealment from them of the retreat of the infantry to the fear entertained by officers that they might be tempted to abandon their posts if they knew that they were to be sacrificed.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.
