COLLEGE OPENS AT GETTYSBURG

War Department Takes Over Institution For Training Students For Army

Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—Gettysburg College opened this morning under favorable conditions, formal exercises in Brua chapel marking the opening of the new school year. The taking over of the college by the War Department, who will govern the institution during the year, resulted in the bringing in of a large number of new men who will in this manner receive their preparation and training for service in the Army. A great number of the upper classes are now in the service, so that the attendance this year would likely have been small in comparison with former years, but an incoming freshman class of three hundred, or more than twice the usual number, gives an enrollment which has never before been equaled. All new applicants have been refused admission since September 18, when the limit of the institution was reached. The Student Army Training Corps will be in charge of First Lieutenant John E. Carney, who has seen active service in France. The four large dormitories will be used for barracks, and a mess hall that will accommodate three hundred and fifty men is being equipped in connection with Stevens Hall.

HAVE VIGOR AND VIM; SANPAN DID IT

My story can be told in a few words says Mrs. Annie Gumbly, 1148 Cumberland street, Harrisburg. I was to all appearance a total wreck; my nerves were all gone up, could not rest at night, it was just one constant tossing about in bed, and sleep would not close my eyes, finally toward morning I would doze off when it was time to get up. I felt fagged out. Had a trembling in my limbs and a weak feeling in my stomach. I just forced myself to get around. I started to take Sanpan and now I have the vigor and vim that I lacked before and Sanpan did it. Sanpan is now being introduced at Keller's Drug Store, 405 Market street, Harrisburg.

ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS

LIGHT - MEDIUM - HEAVY and Polarine

Keep Upkeep Down

CATERPILLAR tractors, gasoline-propelled, now do much of the heavy hauling around shipyards and foundries that formerly required yard-cranes, locomotives and laid tracks. All wheels and moving parts must be lubricated with just the proper oil for these severe hauling conditions. It is a matter of considerable pride that Atlantic Motor Oils are being used very extensively by America's big industries. In every type of motor-driven apparatus, these superior oils do their part in keeping the equipment in first-class running order. You should use these same oils in your trucks and business-cars. They certainly "keep upkeep down." Ask any of these live-wire dealers just which one of the four principal Atlantic oils you should use.
