MAJOR GRAY WILL BE INVITED HERE FOR RIVER SPEECH

Public Meeting to Be Held in November by Rotary Club to Consider Navigation

Major William B. Gray, who recently voiced the opinion that the deepening and damming of the Susquehanna to make it a navigable stream could be accomplished at comparatively small cost, will be invited by the Harrisburg Rotary Club to address a public meeting on a date to suit him in November at which the project will be discussed at length.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the club last evening in the office of John Heathcote, manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in the Telegraph building. Mr. Heathcote and David S. Howell, just returned from Y. M. C. A. war work at Meppatonia, were the speakers.

Mr. Heathcote said that his company had asked him and his agents in this city to set $200,000 worth of War Savings Stamps this year, and that he was pleased to announce that he had already passed that figure by $7,000 and that the company had asked him to make the total sales for the year $400,000.

Mr. Howell told of the difficulties of the army food problem where the soldiers have to remain under canvas during the heated hours of the summer days in order to escape the heat and the sun. He said the British are building railroads, roads, canals, churches, houses, schools and are rapidly transforming the country. They are evidently there to stay.

The matter of inducing all stores to open at 9 in the morning and close not later than 5.30 in the evening, in order to conserve fuel, was discussed by Dr. Dienes, David Cotterell, Captain George F. Lumb and others, and the Public Affairs Committee was ordered to take the matter of general observance of the new regulations up with the Chamber of Commerce in an effort to bring all merchants into line.

Complications, vari-named and extending over the greater period of the two acts of "Oh, Boy," highly satisfied a mirthful audience at the Orpheus last evening. A full house of appreciative patrons greeted the Harrisburgers with the second production of this lively comedy in this city, that a successful visit might again be made here with the production.

Opening up a little slowly, the first few numbers on the program dragged slightly and received scant commendation from the critical audience. But the musical comedy, especially the selection had been reached by the end of the act, and from that time on the play was a success.

Harry Quayle, as "Briggs," the newlywed, finding himself by many complications continually in "hot water," spends much of his time making explanations and his difficulties bring quantities of side-ache-producing laughter. Jim Gray, as "George," a well-meaning friend, played by Harold Oake, awakened much interest.

Charles Conroy, as "George Budd," the newlywed, finding himself by many complications continually in "hot water," spends much of his time making explanations and his difficulties bring quantities of side-ache-producing laughter.

But Miss Anna Wheaton, as "Jackie Sampson," an actress, gained almost all the attention of the evening. Her performance in "The Evening" was especially good. The evening was spent in a social hour and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Greenawald, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman C. Clark, Mrs. J. E. D. Wood, Mrs. W. P. Clark, Mrs. Bion C. Welker, Miss Margaret Brooks, Miss Mary Umberger, Miss Elizabeth Poffenberger, Miss Ethel Forney, Miss Mary Poffenberger, Charles Shaffer, Paul Gilday and Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Poffenberger. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Elizabeth Poffenberger.

Red Cross Turns Out an Increased Amount of Material For Fighting Army

WANTED—WORKERS! To complete immense quotas facing the Harrisburg chapter of the American Red Cross scores of volunteer workers are needed to contribute their services on working days through the entire winter.

While Harrisburg's brave soldiers are rushing the Hindenburg line, their wives and mothers and their little ones at home are doing Red Cross work as their way of fighting the Hun. This is the evidence presented in the monthly reports of the Shipping Department and the Women's Bureau of the Harrisburg Chapter, American Red Cross, made public this morning.

Included in this grand total of materials shipped are everything from abdominal bands, cotton pads, gauze, and record-keeping material to canvas-covered robes, operating gowns, hospital bedshirts, pajamas, underdrawers, comfort bags, handkerchiefs, hot water bag covers, and many other articles.

The matter of inducing all stores to open at 9 in the morning and close not later than 5.30 in the evening, in order to conserve fuel, was discussed by Dr. Dienes, David Cotterell, Captain George F. Lumb and others, and the Public Affairs Committee was ordered to take the matter of general observance of the new regulations up with the Chamber of Commerce in an effort to bring all merchants into line.

The patriotic spirit and devotion with which American women have so far performed war work is a credit to the history of our country. Mothers, wives and sisters support this burden with a noble fortitude. But those who are already misshapen from the complaints and sufferings which are so common to women, should take the right tonic for the womanly system.
