

MORE HARRISBURG BOYS WOUNDED IN ACTION

War Department Informs Relatives of Serious Injuries Received While Following Flag on Battlefields of France

Word has been received by Mrs. Leroy Landis, Harrisburg, R. F. D. No. 1, from the War Department, that her husband, Private Roy Landis, was wounded in action August 9, Landis was attached to Company D, of the old Eighth Regiment, and trained at Camp Hancock, He sailed for France last May.

The name of Corporal John G. Miller, son of Mrs. Louise Miller, of 614 Granite street, appears on yesterday's casualty list. He enlisted in January 17, 1917, and was sent to Camp Hancock, Miller was wounded in action, August 9, according to a message sent the mother by the War Department.

Similar word from the war authorities reached Mrs. Mary Shatto saying that her son, Corporal James A. Shatto, had been severely wounded in action on a date not given. This soldier was a member of the Eighth Regiment, now a part of the One Hundred and Twelfth Infantry.

Private Romeo Dewar is another name found on the casualty list of yesterday which listed him as missing. He was among the first to leave Carlisle in the selective draft. He went to Camp Meade.

Bleeding Thumbs Result of Women's War Work

Somebody ought to write a poem and call it "The Ballad of the Bleeding Thumbs." It should be dedicated to the volunteer workers in the recent Belgian clothing campaign launched here. When a reporter suggested this to a sparkle-eyed girl who was nursing a bandaged finger, she gazed at him resentfully. "It's just like you men to be teasing us after we've done your work! Here we've taken your places when you refused to volunteer to nail boxes and help pack, and then, when we hit our thumbs with the hammer, you laugh! It's the beauty of you!"

When men didn't offer their services for the packing and shipping of the boxes, the women tackled the job themselves. With the assistance of soldiers from the various nearby governmental operations the work is now being accomplished. While the women were busily hammering nails into a huge package box cover yesterday morning, an aged man came walking by. "Why don't you get me to do this work," he queried. "We asked for men and they didn't respond," he was told. "Then we waded into the work ourselves. And workers tell a tale of the old man's taking the hammer and nails. "He helped us himself," chortled a worker sleepily as she looked accusingly at the unoffending reporter.

Germs Mine Cambrai; British Outwit Enemy

Paris, Oct. 2.—Cambrai has been mined, but the British have fought around the town and thus have foiled the plans of the enemy. The Germans decided on September 1 to burn Cambrai, and forced the civilian population to leave.

WOMEN SHAVE UNKNOWINGLY

When you only remove hair from the surface of the skin the result is the same as shaving. The only common-sense way to remove hair is to attack it under the skin. DeMiracle, the original sanitary liquid, does this by absorption.

THOUSANDS VIEW WAR TROPHIES

counted. Duncannon and Newport had 1,500 each and Millerstown 750.

"The interest being taken by the people in the war trophies is indicative of their general interest in the Liberty Loan—the fighting fourth," declares Mr. McCormick.

Plants Doing Fine

George S. Reinhold, chairman, and John C. Jessup, secretary of the industrial end of the campaign, said today that the team workers are covering plants as they were never covered before. The general inclination on the part of workers everywhere is to double the amount of bonds they bought in the third loan.

Outside Firms Buying Here

Reports are being received from numbers of foreign firms which have Harrisburg branches. One of these is the Emerson-Brantingham Company, which today bought $5,000 worth of bonds. The employees of the company are also buying according to headquarters, the Emerson-Brantingham purchase is a testimonial to the salesmanship of A. H. Armstrong.

Charles M. Stoff, Inc., and the Askin-Marine Company will buy bonds locally, as they did in the third loan.

Meetings Today and Tomorrow

The Liberty Troupers today are covering a lot of territory in the north end of the county. Leaving here at 12:01 this afternoon they have meetings at Millersburg at 12:45, Elizabethtown at 2:30, Lykens 6:30 and Williamsport at 8:30.

Meetings planned for tomorrow include those at the Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart store at 5:30 and at the post office at 7:30, at both of which Capt. Ingram, of the British Red Cross, will speak. The federal building meeting will be for workers in the "Homes" drive, which starts next week. Dr. Haggell talks to-morrow night at 8 at Linglestown.

Little Bank Does Well

The People's National Bank of Duncannon is one of the small banks in the district, but it reported yesterday that after only a few days' work it has sold more than a quarter the quota of bonds allotted it.

Bernard Schmidt yesterday bought Liberty Bonds totalling $5,000.

Charles E. Pass, who is selling bonds to the employes of the Schmidt bakeries, has not yet covered the plants fully, but expects to report within a day or so that all are "hundred percenters."

International Harvester Company notified Donald McCormick that it would buy a large total of bonds through the Harrisburg district.

Middle Division Working

S. H. Smith, W. A. Gager, H. Derrick and T. W. Mick, Harrisburg, are in charge of the Liberty Loan canvass among Middle division employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Mr. Derrick reported this morning that 134 men have been canvassed so far, and while not all bought bonds the total sold has reached $6,700. There are two "hundred per cent crews," as follows:

Crew 19 on Harrisburg side, composed of H. F. Stewart, engineer; G. W. Derrick, fireman; P. M. Hoff, conductor; G. W. Bennett, flagman, and E. C. Miller and J. E. Swales, brakemen.

Crew 21, Millin Local—C. S. Ewing, engineer; C. F. Foust, fireman; E. W. Mickey, conductor; C. A. Simonon, flagman; W. H. Barwick, H. S. Swartz and H. A. Steffan, brakemen.

Campaign Sidelights

The condition of Harold Lindeman, bond salesman, and Liberty Loan worker, who is a patient at Keystone Hospital, suffering from pneumonia, is reported as being serious.

Mike Kornik, San Francisco Hungarian, yesterday bought $1,700 worth of bonds from Harrisburg headquarters.

Corporal McCann, who is speaking at various meetings in the county, got some shrapnel in the arm on the western front, but he imagines he made several Germans pay for it. The war exhibit train comes here October 10.

Two big meetings were held this morning in the Steelton mills of the Bethlehem Company and hundreds of employes were permitted to "take 20" while the meetings were on.

A rousing rally, as Corporal McCann puts it, was held at noon today at the Blough Manufacturing plant.

Dauphin county, outside of Harrisburg, will probably "beat Harrisburg" in the matter of getting over the top with its full quota, in the opinion of Chairman William Jennings.

Chairman Andrew S. Patterson, of the city district, thinks that the homes campaign will be comparatively easy if the people will live up to the intensiveness of the committee workers. This campaign starts next week.
