

M'ADOO POINTS CONGRESS TO 8 BILLIONS NEED

Secretary of Treasury Warns Body of Danger in Failure to Pass Big Law

By Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 4.—Plans of Congress to adjourn for a month over the November elections drew a warning yesterday from Secretary McAdoo that failure to promptly enact the eight billion-dollar war revenue bill will disorganize and endanger the national finance.

Mr. McAdoo's letter caused the finance committee to take immediate steps to expedite its work of revising the House draft of the revenue measure and upset plans announced in the Senate for adjournment of Congress for a month beginning October 20.

In his letter to Senator Simmons, Mr. McAdoo pointed out that the present war tax bill became operative one year ago to-day and said that essential revenues would be lost as well as time required by the treasury in administering the new law and by the public to familiarize itself with it, by delay on the pending measure.

Letters Spur Lawmakers

Upon receipt of Mr. McAdoo's letter, Chairman Simmons and the Senate committee agreed to work with all possible speed, but the chairman said he did not see how it was possible to report the bill before October 25, even if that. He added that plans of adjournment of Congress on October 20, probably would be reconsidered, if that time it is evident, he explained, that the bill cannot be reported, or passed by the Senate in quick time before the elections, Congress might save time by proceeding with an adjournment to begin just before the elections and end a few days afterward.

Three-Day Recess Planned

The adjournment program was announced in the Senate by Majority Leader Martin, but he said it was framed on the assumption that the revenue bill could not possibly be disposed of before the elections. The Senate adjourned until Monday and House leaders planned to begin to-day a series of three-day recesses until the $7,000,000,000 army emergency appropriation bill is reported, probably about October 14. The Senate also plans similar recesses until the bill the rainy budget is passed.

Influenza Still Holding Country and Army Camps

Washington, Oct. 4.—Further spread of Spanish influenza over the country and in army camps with an increasing death rate was indicated yesterday in reports received by the public health service and at the office of the surgeon general of the army.

New cases developing in army camps totaled 12,004, with reports lacking from Camp Sherman, Ohio; Taylor, Kentucky, and Jackson, S. C., where the disease has reached epidemic proportions. This total was a decrease over that of Wednesday, but 350 new cases of pneumonia were reported as against 37 the day before and deaths were 331 compared with 271 Wednesday. The total number of influenza cases reported in the camps since the epidemic began on September 2, is 113,737. Pneumonia cases total 8,575 and deaths 2,479.

Objectors See Film Then Want to Fight

Washington, Oct. 4.—Fifteen conscientious objectors at Camp Pike underwent a complete change of heart and mind and expressed their willingness to become United States fighting men after a special showing of the Liberty Theater picture, "To Hell With the Kaiser." The special performance took place in the morning in a room at the camp, and was attended by a large number of objectors gathered there.

As a result of the success of this plan all Liberty Theater managers have been instructed by E. L. Hyman, Director of Pictures for the War Department, Commission on Training Camp Activities, to put on such extra morning patriotic performances wherever possible. Some of the pictures to be used for converting objectors into fighters include: "Why America Will Win," "The Brusian Cur," "The Kaiser, the Beast Bruisian Cur," and "The Unbeliever."

Better Than Gasoline and the Caper, Says Jersey Man

New York, Oct. 4.—"A substitute for gasoline, invented by Henry T. Caulett, of Trenton, N. J., has tested here yesterday at the Automobile Club of America, and will be given a road test within a few days. It was said the test showed the substitute developed a relatively higher horsepower than gasoline." Caulett said he could produce the substitute for thirty-five per cent. less than the cost of gasoline.

He Conserves Best Who Buys the Best--The Superior Wear of Quality Clothing Proves It

These are times when the demands of the Government have the right-of-way in all lines of manufacture, especially in the consumption of woolen fabrics for clothing for the "Yanks." Naturally, there is restricted output for noncombatants affecting prices—and qualities where standards are not stabilized.

Avoid the cheap-at-any-price. It is far removed from the policy of conservation. There is plenty of good clothing in the market—and good clothing is the only kind to buy—it may cost a little more but it will prove cheapest in the long run.

Keen men of affairs bring to the selection of their clothes the same demand for good value—quality—that they employ in their business. Such men are quick to see the dignified style and all-around goodness of our
