New Chancellor Maximilian to Announce Program at Meeting of Reichstag

By Associated Press. Amsterdam, Oct. 4.—Prince Maximilian of Baden, has been appointed German chancellor, says an official announcement received from Berlin.

Deputies Groeber, Centrist and Scheidemann, majority Social Democrat, have been appointed secretaries of state without portfolios.

The official statement adds that Prince Maximilian also has been named Prussian foreign secretary. He will announce his program at a full meeting of the Reichstag tomorrow.

Official announcement of the appointment of Prince Maximilian of Baden as imperial chancellor confirms German newspaper reports emanating from Berlin.

The official title of the chancellor is president of the Reichstag and leader of the majority Social Democrats. He has been a consistent supporter of Germany's foreign policies and has endeavored to bring about a socialist peace.

The office of Prussian minister of foreign affairs is distinct from that of imperial secretary for foreign affairs which has been held by Admiral Von Hintze who resigned last week with Count Von Hertling.

Women Enemy Aliens to Go to One Camp

Washington.—Women enemy aliens, apprehended in the government's dragnet of the country some time ago, are soon to be interned in special barracks just completed at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

These women were arrested for violation of the espionage laws and are now being held in jails throughout the country.

They will be removed to the Southern camp as quickly as the Spanish influenza epidemic subsides. It is planned to have the interned women guarded entirely by women matrons, to be procured under the civil service regulations, and women physicians will be in attendance.

Because many of the enemy aliens now in custody are women of wealth War Department officials anticipate that some obstacles may be encountered in a disciplinary way.

The barracks which were built largely by German prisoners of war, are large enough to accommodate 100 women, giving a room to each. The barracks are so constructed that additions may be made without difficulty.

Nation to Abandon Cost-Plus System

Washington.—The War Department and other Government agencies will abandon the cost-plus contract system. The policy now being followed on a lump sum or fixed fee basis.

Abandonment of the system will be pleasing to Congress and the public. It has been criticized frequently as wasteful and needlessly extravagant.

In the future some contracts providing for the cost, plus a fixed fee will be made. Before a plus contract for the purchase of supplies for the army is awarded it must be approved by the Board of Review of the particular board making the purchase and also by the Superior Board of Review of the Division of Purchases and Storage.

Estimates roughly made to-day show that building operations on the cost-plus system amounted to $1,000,000,000 for army camps, aviation fields and industrial plants. The profit of the contractors averaged about 10 per cent.

Sixty-one Deaths From Influenza at Camp Colt

Gettysburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—The first military funeral since the outbreak of the Spanish influenza was seen when the body of James W. Stevens was laid in the National cemetery with full military honors.

Stevens was a private at Camp Colt, his home being in Northport, Michigan, but evidently he had no near relatives who gave only the name of a friend to be notified in case of an emergency.

Many bodies have been shipped to homes but Private Stevens was the first to be buried here. Twenty-one deaths have occurred since yesterday noon, which brings the total to sixty-one.

Letter to the Editor

TALL FLOWERS. A trip through the mountains yesterday was very rich in results. We usually think that flowers are scarce at this time but they make quite a gorgeous display. I was in a thick carpet of goldenrod, some of it a foot above my head, again vast clusters of the blue aster and the white bonnet.

There are two items connected with the chestnut that should be remembered—first the worm gets into the chestnut by an egg being deposited in the blossom and second it doesn't require frost to open burrs but on the contrary the burrs open when they are ripe, frost or no frost. About the last flower to bloom is the Witchhazel. The flower looks like tiny pieces of noodles and results in a hard nut which in maturity bursts with such force as to throw the contained seed as far as forty feet, nature's mode of propagation. The most surprising find was a hepatica in full bloom and also quite a number of partridge pine flowers in bloom alongside of the matured red berry.

A walk in the woods at any time of the year is full of surprises to those who look.
