Local Sewing Clubs Do Splendid Red Cross Work

Red Cross officials are proud in their praise of the work of the Thirtieth Ward Community Sewing Club, which is under the chairmanship of Mrs. S. J. Ebersole, 744 South Twenty-first street. During the period between July 25 and October 3 these busy patriotic workers turned out 108 garments.

Other neighborhood sewing clubs throughout the city are doing excellent work. The instance of the sewing circle under direction of Mrs. H. A. Hoke, 1209 Kitzing street, is also cited. Through Mrs. Hoke's efforts women of the neighborhood gather regularly, doing sewing for the Red Cross.

"Do not let that bring to you the impression that we do not need more sewers," said a Red Cross official. "Every helper, every woman in the city is needed for this important work."

With Fur or Without

The suit question is a perplexing one this year. If you have handsome furs already in your wardrobe, you naturally want a suit with which they can be worn.

On the other hand, the fur-trimmed suits are more attractive and becoming than ever. The lines are graceful, the materials are of splendid quality and the furs cleverly handled to combine style with luxuriousness. Some of the smartest fur-trimmed suits are moderately priced. The only way to settle this suit question is to come in and try on both kinds.
