

Now—
All Together!

That's the way the boys in khaki went at the Hun.

With every instrument of war at the command of the German army turned loose against them, our boys went on--turned the tide of the great world war--and gave the offensive to the Allied armies.

Nothing stopped them.

Emulate these boys in khaki.

The influenza epidemic has necessitated the cancelling of all meetings and gatherings in the interest of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

But the obstacle will not stop us.

The boys over there have set us an example.

Let's show them we're made of the same stuff they are.

Go to your bank at once--hand in your subscription--and just to make the thing sure--double the amount you had planned to buy.

Let's put this Fourth Liberty Loan across all the quicker because this present obstacle confronts us.

Now, all together!
