

Capture of Beirut May Release Harrisburg Family From Hands of the Turks

Friends of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Jr., formerly of this city, and their two children, and Miss Margaret West, niece of Mrs. William Jennings, also of Harrisburg, who have been held captives in Beirut, Syria, for many months, are rejoicing to-day in the news that German and Turkish troops have evacuated that ancient city. The Rev. Mr. Stewart is treasurer of the Syrian Protestant College, while Miss West, whose father, the late Robert West, once professor in the Syrian Protestant College, has been making that institution her home for some time.

Mr. Stewart is a son of the Rev. Dr. George Black Stewart, former pastor of the Market Square Presbyterian Church, who was more than a year in America in August, 1917. Since that date Mrs. West has received no letter from her daughter, the only news from the latter consisting of periodic cables to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions under whose supervision the Syrian Protestant College is conducted. It is not known as yet whether or not the Americans have been able to remain in Beirut, though it is assumed that they are still there. Intelligence of this is daily expected from abroad.

Marsh Run Government Depot Nearly Complete

Finishing touches on the big new quartermaster's depot at Marsh Run, are being put on that important project, said Major Henry McConnell yesterday. The latter is commanding officer in the absence of Major Morava who has been assigned to May's Landing, N. J. Almost all the work yet to be done are on the warehouses though some of these structures are already partly stored with supplies. Receiving and shipping operations have already begun. Only one contracting firm remains on the job, the others have finished their work. This is the Bates & Rogers Company who are engaged in surface work. Most of the officers who have been stationed at Marsh Run during the period of building the depot have been transferred to other posts. Captain Strayer has gone to May's Landing following Major Morava; Captain Owens has gone into active training at Camp Hancock, Ga., and Captain Talbot is shortly to leave. The new barracks for soldiers which were recently begun are nearly finished.

HER TELEGRAM

She stood, a girl of twenty, upon the curb, and hundreds passed her by, nor noticed. That in her hand she held a telegram, and in her eyes—her brown and wondrous eyes—were tears that ebbed and flowed. She sighed, and then with all her shaken strength she lowered her head and sobbed—a faint, inaudible sob that seemed to shake heaven with its restrained intensity. And still they passed her by, nor stopped. To question, in the midday light of noon, of her grief, and the sad burden of misery that was hers. Newsboys, and clerks, and women with rustling skirts—and then a uniform. She lowered her head and the thing that was a sign, a sob—restrained. And mannerly, was sharp and piteous. She stands, a girl of twenty, no longer upon the curb. But one, among the hundreds. That pass the spot, has bought a thousand dollar bond. To match her telegram.

Senate Committee Cuts the Tax on Whisky

Washington, Oct. 10.—The Senate committee on finance has made a material cut in the tax rate for distilled spirits, pruning the levy down from $8 per gallon for spirits withdrawn from bond for beverage purposes to $6.40 a gallon and making a cut of $1.20 a gallon on nonbeverage alcohol similarly withdrawn. Under the bill as passed by the House even nonbeverage alcohol was to have been taxed $4.40 a gallon. The finance committee set this rate at $3.20. On the point of reducing the tax on distilled liquors there was some discussion among the Republican Senators. They made the suggestive charge that back of the movement to reduce the taxes were Democratic fears of partisan reprisal in wet states, of which the Democrats stand in grave fear. The protracted delay in bringing the food stimulation production bill with its "bone dry prohibition" rider to a vote following upon the numerous confusions over it has also charged was a part of the same plan to forestall unfavorable action by the west against the Democrats.

WHY WORRY ABOUT SUGAR Grape-Nuts is not only nearly solid nourishment but is rich in sugar developed from its own grains in the making. This feature, absent in the usual prepared cereal, not only saves the use of sugar but provides food material especially adapted to the cooler weather of autumn. "There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts
