SORE THROAT

Colds, Coughs, Croup and Catarrh Relieved in Two Minutes.

No sooner had we arrived at the lines than we saw two of these big planes just coming back.

And incidentally at about the same time we saw seven Fokkers right over us, who promptly came diving down and opened fire.

The second time the Huns came after us my engine gave a few warning coughs, and with a slowing up over Solson I could see Rheims as plain as if it were right beside me.

Out of "Gas" The expected had happened. I was out of "gas" 5,000 meters up and eighty miles from the home base.

Lucky Boy As luck would have it, this camp was the same one from which the photo planes came that we were to have protected.

From the conversation I soon learned that one of the planes had been attacked and forced to land in Germany.

Such curiosity could only be possessed by an American girl, so I investigated, and sure enough they were Americans from a hospital camp nearby.

Pictures Are Taken

And then she insisted on taking my picture, and wouldn't I speak a good word to the Frenchmen as she was crazy to take a ride in an airplane.

Just let it be known that an airplane ride is the reward of friendship and one sure would get a host of friends.
