

MANY CRITICISE COLLEGE ACTION

Dr. Morgan Explains His Reasons, Which Resulted in Ousting Youth

The disclosure of the "color line" being drawn at Dickinson College caused vast gossip among the students in Carlisle yesterday, and a telegraph reporter found that the bulk of sentiment favored the Jefferson boys, the argument being that they were fine fellows and that anyhow at this time unity is what the country must have to beat the world's enemy.

Among Carlisle citizens the action of Dr. Morgan was the sole topic discussed yesterday and the opinion seemed to be that all "averagers" should be concentrated against Germany and not directed at any race or section and that the Jefferson boys had been the subject of unpleasant publicity at a most unfortunate time.

Dr. Morgan made the following formal statement: "Frank L. Jefferson, of Steelton, Pa., employed by one of the departments in Harrisburg, has for three years had one son in the college and for one year has had two sons in the college. The elder son has made a fine scholastic record, and entered three years ago after full conference with his father and mother, in which the whole race problem was discussed, and he was told that colored men had been here before and had conducted themselves in such a way as to be entirely without trouble in their college associations. This has been justified by the three years in which the family has had representatives in the college. With the opening of the present college year and the inauguration of the Students' Army Training Corps in the college, new problems arose, and the father and I talked the matter over, and after conference with the Committee on Education having the S. A. T. C. in charge and being told to follow our usual custom, we told the boys to stay. This was before the induction was accomplished.

"Later it developed that the men must live together in the intimacy of common barracks, lavatories, mess hall, etc., and in view of this new development which before had not been before us, or at least prominent in my thought, I raised the question with officers in charge, and said that the induction of the boys was entirely with me, but the policy of the government in the camps was of course to segregate the races, and that I should do as I pleased. In the presence of one of the officers I called the elder boy and told him that his conduct in the college had been such a credit to the college and the student body, but that at least two out of three of the Students' Army Corps were strangers to him, having been in the college for nine years, incidentally; but all three of the Frenchmen have been fighting the Huns since August of 1914, when the horde of Huns overran Belgium and swarmed through France toward the Marne and Paris.

Corporal Buchwalder, the heavier of the two men of the Legion with Miss DuBree, has seen many things, too. He said yesterday that he has a daughter the age of Miss DuBree. "It was early in March," he told me, "that I saw the two men of the Legion with Miss DuBree, as printed in the Telegraph yesterday, practically confirmed in every essential particular by Dr. Morgan's own statement. If anybody has raised the color line at Dickinson, it has not been the Harrisburg Telegraph. Dr. Morgan evidently attempts to differentiate between 'sending boys home' and 'dismissing' the Telegraph doubts whether the public will so understand the action of Dr. Morgan. The question naturally arises, why were the boys sent home if the college authorities were willing that they should remain?"

The Telegraph has no objection to Dr. Morgan taking the matter up with the army authorities, feeling that if any injustice has been done the Telegraph is not the guilty party.

Another statement, written and signed by Dr. Morgan, appeared in the night extra edition of the Harrisburg Telegraph yesterday, arriving in Harrisburg too late for the home edition and is re-printed today in fairness to the college authorities. This afternoon Dr. Morgan made the following statement to this newspaper: "Our article yesterday on the colored line of Dickinson College is untrue and contrary to the facts given by your reporter. It raises the question as to whether you wish to embarrass the War Department authorities in their S. A. T. C. movement. A reporter of the Telegraph saw me at eleven yesterday morning and I then put into his hands the facts concerning the Jefferson boys. He knew when he left that they had not been dismissed from Dickinson College and but for the fact that the reporter seemed to know that there had been no dismissal should have told him that there was no color line in Dickinson College.

"There is yet one colored student in the college and the Jefferson boys might be in the college with no objection. I doubted the wisdom of their connection with the S. A. T. C. however, which would entail their association day and night with all the intimacies of barracks life—in bunk, lavatory and mess hall, I yet doubt the wisdom of their connection with the S. A. T. C. but should not note as I did not then dismiss them as I have done in the college ten days ago. These boys could yet become members of the S. A. T. C. but they would be in spite of my judgment in the matter. I did not forbid it.

Heroes of Many a Campaign With Medals of Honor

WINNERS OF WAR CROSSES TELL NOTHING OF DEEDS

Corp. Buchwalder Explains How Coming of the Americans Saved France and Won the War in Allies' Dark Hour

In the eyes of Adjutant Dinet, there is the look of a man who has seen some things which he cannot forget. And there is the look which is given only to men who, like Adjutant Dinet, go fearlessly into the teeth of danger. And the medals on the chest of Adjutant Dinet tell a story that the Adjutant himself will not tell.

Adjutant Dinet, of the Foreign Legion, and Corporals Turcan and Buchwalder, who are shown in the photograph with Evelyn DuBree, daughter of Frank DuBree, 203 Hamilton street, have served over four years for France. The Adjutant has been a Legionnaire for nine years, incidentally; but all three of the Frenchmen have been fighting the Huns since August of 1914, when the horde of Huns overran Belgium and swarmed through France toward the Marne and Paris.

Corporal Buchwalder, the heavier of the two men of the Legion with Miss DuBree, has seen many things, too. He said yesterday that he has a daughter the age of Miss DuBree. "It was early in March," he told me, "that I saw the two men of the Legion with Miss DuBree, as printed in the Telegraph yesterday, practically confirmed in every essential particular by Dr. Morgan's own statement.

If anybody has raised the color line at Dickinson, it has not been the Harrisburg Telegraph. Dr. Morgan evidently attempts to differentiate between 'sending boys home' and 'dismissing' the Telegraph doubts whether the public will so understand the action of Dr. Morgan. The question naturally arises, why were the boys sent home if the college authorities were willing that they should remain?"

The Telegraph has no objection to Dr. Morgan taking the matter up with the army authorities, feeling that if any injustice has been done the Telegraph is not the guilty party.

Another statement, written and signed by Dr. Morgan, appeared in the night extra edition of the Harrisburg Telegraph yesterday, arriving in Harrisburg too late for the home edition and is re-printed today in fairness to the college authorities.

This afternoon Dr. Morgan made the following statement to this newspaper: "Our article yesterday on the colored line of Dickinson College is untrue and contrary to the facts given by your reporter. It raises the question as to whether you wish to embarrass the War Department authorities in their S. A. T. C. movement. A reporter of the Telegraph saw me at eleven yesterday morning and I then put into his hands the facts concerning the Jefferson boys. He knew when he left that they had not been dismissed from Dickinson College and but for the fact that the reporter seemed to know that there had been no dismissal should have told him that there was no color line in Dickinson College.

"There is yet one colored student in the college and the Jefferson boys might be in the college with no objection. I doubted the wisdom of their connection with the S. A. T. C. however, which would entail their association day and night with all the intimacies of barracks life—in bunk, lavatory and mess hall, I yet doubt the wisdom of their connection with the S. A. T. C. but should not note as I did not then dismiss them as I have done in the college ten days ago. These boys could yet become members of the S. A. T. C. but they would be in spite of my judgment in the matter. I did not forbid it.

"In view of this clear statement of facts to your reporter yesterday it seems too much to expect that your paper will now give a fair statement. However, as the United States Army administration may seem to be somewhat involved, I want justice to be done if possible without any appeal to any body connected with the army. I may, however, need to refer the gross exaggeration of yesterday's issue to army authorities, if you want to be fairly you should make correction as publicly as you issued the original story."

The Telegraph's story of the disclosure of the "color line" being drawn at Dickinson College caused vast gossip among the students in Carlisle yesterday, and a telegraph reporter found that the bulk of sentiment favored the Jefferson boys, the argument being that they were fine fellows and that anyhow at this time unity is what the country must have to beat the world's enemy.

take a little rest. Our good friends, the Americans, have come! So we men of the Foreign Legion come out of the trenches for the first time since March and we take a little rest. Now we go back! We have seen your country! We have seen the homes of the brave Americans.

We know that we have won. And once more, in November, it will be with the knowledge that the war soon is over."

That was Corporal Buchwalder's little story as he sat at Liberty Loan headquarters yesterday.

picked up afterwards contained five bullets. The man was taken to a police station, where his name was given as H. J. Boone, a printer. He denied, according to the police, having any harmful intent, saying he merely wanted to shake hands with the President.

After questioning Boone the police announced that they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

take a little rest. Our good friends, the Americans, have come! So we men of the Foreign Legion come out of the trenches for the first time since March and we take a little rest. Now we go back! We have seen your country! We have seen the homes of the brave Americans.

We know that we have won. And once more, in November, it will be with the knowledge that the war soon is over."

That was Corporal Buchwalder's little story as he sat at Liberty Loan headquarters yesterday.

picked up afterwards contained five bullets. The man was taken to a police station, where his name was given as H. J. Boone, a printer. He denied, according to the police, having any harmful intent, saying he merely wanted to shake hands with the President.

After questioning Boone the police announced that they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

W. H. Keller, Teacher, Dies at Mechanicsburg

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Oct. 12.—W. H. Keller, a prominent resident of Mechanicsburg, died at his home, 501 West Main street, early this morning after an illness of six weeks with throat trouble. Mr. Keller previous to his illness taught school for several years and with his wife, Mrs. Keller, conducted the Office Training school at Harrisburg. Mr. Keller was born in South Middleton township and lived in Mechanicsburg for thirty years. He was 55 years old and is survived by his wife, one son, Merle E. Keller, of Mechanicsburg, now employed at the government plant at Marsh Run, and a daughter, Miss Ada M. Keller, at home. Private funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. E. C. B. Castle, of the First United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Chestnut Hill Cemetery.

MRS. CLIFFORD YETTER New Cumberland, Pa., Oct. 12.—Mrs. Clifford Yetter died last night at her home on South 11th street, Philadelphia. She was aged 28 years. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heven, Baltimore, her husband and two daughters, Florence and Beryl Yetter. She was a member of the Lutheran Sunday school. The funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home.

CHARLES W. GARMAN DIES Dauphin, Pa., Oct. 12.—Charles W. Garman, aged 21 years, an employee of the Pennsylvania railroad, died at his home here this morning at 6 o'clock from Spanish influenza. Mr. Garman was a member of Washington Camp P. O. S. of A., and of the Pennsylvania Railroad Relief. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. George Garman, 24 South Eighteenth street, Harrisburg, and three sisters. Private funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

HENRY C. MILLER BURIED Dauphin, Pa., Oct. 12.—Private funeral services for Henry C. Miller, who was treasurer of the Dickson Manufacturing Company, at Harrisburg, were held here this afternoon from the home, High street.

MRS. HELEN M. LUDLUM Mrs. Helen Miller Ludlum, aged 20 years, wife of Edward Ludlum, of 1222 North Fifth street, Philadelphia, died yesterday morning following a short illness of pneumonia at her home in that city. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Miller, 24 South Eighteenth street, Harrisburg, and was a resident of this city until eight years ago when she removed to Philadelphia. She is survived by her husband and two-month-old daughter. Funeral arrangements are not yet completed.

FUNERAL HELD BACK The funeral cortege of the late Margaret McCurdy, of Steelton, which was on its way to the Gettysburg Cemetery at 11 o'clock this morning received an interruption of about half an hour at Front and Chestnut streets in this city, when a limousine containing the wife of a girl's father, Dr. J. A. McCurdy, which formed part of the procession of auto vehicles, skidded, and turning completely over, caused a rear wheel of the machine to break off at its axle. After another automobile had been pressed into service, the procession continued on its way to the cemetery.

ROBERT B. HENSCHEN Robert B. Henschel, son of Professor and Mrs. C. N. Henschel, of Harrisburg, died yesterday morning from pneumonia at Boyertown, where he was manager of the Stouffer Hotel. He was aged 22 years.

A graduate of Technicum High school in 1914, he was the cartoonist on the Tech Tattler. At State College he was cartoonist for Froth, artist on the College for three years, and editor of the State Annual. He was an officer of the cadets at State College, being graduated from that institution last year. Because of his illness he did not enter Army service and therefore went on a farm.

While at State College he was one of the active operators at the Experimental Station there. He is widely known in Harrisburg, having a host of friends here. He is survived by his parents and a sister, Eleanor Henchen. Funeral services will be held Monday.

SERGEANT CHARLES REVIE Death of another Harrisburg soldier from influenza was registered yesterday when word was received here of the death of Charles Revie, aged 28 years, 157 South Eighteenth street, at Camp Lee, Va. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Revie, left for Camp Lee several days ago when they learned of his illness. Revie was drafted in a quota leaving Harrisburg June 27. He was made a sergeant several months ago. He was formerly employed in the Bureau of Education at the Capitol. Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Josephine and Bertha Revie, and a brother, Daniel Revie. The body arrived in Harrisburg last night.

ELMA KIMMEL Elma Kimmel, aged 12 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Kimmel, 114 Summit street, died yesterday morning at her home from Spanish influenza. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. William N. Yates, pastor of the Fourth Street Church of God officiating. She is survived by her parents, a brother, Harold, and a sister, Ethel Kimmel.

MRS. FLORENCE M. BOLLINGER Mrs. Florence M. Bollinger, aged 19 years, died yesterday afternoon from pneumonia. Funeral services will be held at her home, 622 Hamilton street Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. St. Edwin Rupp, pastor of the Otterbein United Brethren Church, officiating. Burial will be made in the East Harrisburg Cemetery. Mrs. Bollinger was a member of Otterbein Church. She is survived by her husband, Edward Bollinger, a week-old daughter, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hipple, a brother Charles and a sister, Anna Berry. She had a host of friends.

BENJAMIN H. BOGGS Benjamin Hoyer Boggs, aged 23 years, died yesterday morning at Camp Lee, where he was stationed with Company D, Telegraph Battalion of the Signal Corps. Death was due to Spanish influenza which developed in the camp. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Benjamin Boggs. His body will be brought to Harrisburg for funeral services. Prior to his leaving for Camp Lee Mr. Boggs trained for several months at Lehigh University.

MRS. MYRTLE MAY LOVE Mrs. Myrtle May Love, wife of Harry W. Love, of Camp Hill, died yesterday morning at the Polyclinic Hospital. Pneumonia resulting from a cold was the cause of death. Surviving Mrs. Love are her husband and son, David Harold Love, and daughters, Lola Mabelle and Janet Evelyn Love. Burial at Lock Haven, on Monday. Mrs. Love had a wide circle of friends in this state and New York city, who will be grieved to learn of her sudden and untimely death. Mr. Love is one of the field secretaries of the State Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania.

MRS. IRA MELLINGER Funeral services for Mrs. Ira Mellinger, aged 29 years, will be held at her husband's home Sunday afternoon. Burial will be made in the Enola Cemetery. Mrs. Mellinger died yesterday afternoon from pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and a daughter, Mary Mellinger.

JAMES B. MARTIN Funeral services for James B. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Martin, Colonial Acres, who died at Camp Taylor, will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. J. Carey will officiate. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery. The body was taken to Harrisburg by Undertaker Sourbier.

ALFRED E. GROSSHOLD Alfred E. Grosshold, Philadelphia, a son of Mrs. S. E. DeWalter, 1111 Locust street, died Wednesday at Hoffman's Island, New York, where he was stationed preparatory to sailing for France. Pneumonia was the cause of death.

YANKEE TROOPS DRIVE AGAINST FIGHTING HUNS

Battle This Morning Especially Violent on Front Northwest of Verdun

With the American Forces Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 12.—General Pershing's forces continued their attacks against the German positions on this front to-day. German opposition proved even more bitter, if possible, than it was yesterday. The fighting this morning was especially violent on the center and on the left center. St. Juvin and Cunel, both of which towns now are in No Man's Land, are still.

London, Oct. 12.—German troops in the region of Douai are retiring behind the Senese canal. British forces have reached a line two miles west of Douai.

With the British Army in France, Friday, Oct. 12.—The enemy yesterday began an attempt to stop up the Anglo-American advance on the main battle front. All the bridges across the river Selle, from Le Cateau southward, were blown up and the Germans seem to have been digging in furiously along the line of the high ground some 2,000 to 4,000 yards east of the river.

With the American Forces Northwest of Verdun, Friday, Oct. 12.—In closing Grand Pre gap it was the French who actually entered Grand Pre station, but it was the American advance east of the Argonne and their capture of Marce and Cheveres that made the occupation possible. The Germans in their retreat from the Argonne destroyed and blocked the main roads by means of mines and felled trees. Little is likely to remain of Grand Pre station, the enemy having shelled it to complete the destruction wrought by fire. All the German counterattacks have been repulsed.

HARRISBURG NOT READY FOR DEFEAT

(Continued From First Page)

First, the people who haven't bought enough bonds.

Second, the people who haven't bought enough bonds. And there are several thousand wage earners in Harrisburg who have not bought bonds, strange as it may seem.

The executive committee has the names of every wage earner in the city. It has a total list of 20,000 people who are able to buy bonds. It has secured it from the federal authorities. This list is now being gone over and the nonbond purchasers are being sought.

In the meantime the city is $1,600,000 shy.

Postal Telegraph Buys One of the largest telegraph companies has bought bonds through the Harrisburg district, at least. It is the Postal Company, Manager Clark Diehl yesterday receiving word that $5,000 has been allotted to the Harrisburg campaign.

Paints Fine Poster On display on top of the Bell Telephone building, Market Square, is a very excellent piece of poster painting from the brush of Calder Metzgar, of this city, well known artist. The poster is a work of art, attracting much attention from folks who pass through the Square.

D. P. & S., $10,000 Included in yesterday's total is that of the Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart store company, totaling $10,000. This is separate from the purchases of the firm's local employees.

When it became known yesterday that Harrisburg seemed likely to fall in its efforts, the New York office wired the local representatives that $1,000 additional bonds be bought here.

TO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION DIED HERR — Verna Herr, wife of Edwin R. Herr, aged 21 years, 4 months and 12 days, died at her late residence, 113 North street, Friday, October 11, at 3:35 A. M.

Funeral Monday, October 14, at 1:30 P. M. at the Harrisburg Cemetery. Private funeral and interment.

LOST — $20.00 bill, between Capitol and Gas Office. Reward if returned to 905 1/2 Capital street.

RUBBER STAMPS SEALS & STENCILS MFG. BY HBS. STENCIL WORKS 130 LOCUST ST. HBG. PA.

ESSENTIAL LOANS If you work, keep house and pay your bills, consult us when you need money. Legal rate loans, $15 to $300, made on personal property, real estate or guaranteed notes. Weekly or monthly payments arranged to suit your convenience.

Co-operative Loan & Investment Co. 204 Chestnut Street BUY MORE LIBERTY BONDS

Three-fourths of the subscriptions received by us for the FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN are for single FIFTY DOLLAR BONDS.

At this rate it would take over 125,000 subscriptions to equal Harrisburg's allotment.

The boys in the trenches are going their limit now and we cannot go "over the top" with $50 bonds.

Double your subscription on Monday and keep the boys from being ashamed of us.

Dauphin Deposit Trust Co. FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM Harrisburg, Pa.

SERVING THE NATION AT HOME AND ABROAD

John W. Burd Corp. R. K. Fleisher A. C. Grosholtz George C. F. Sharp

Weir Paul Murray Lieut. R. W. Gerdes Corp. M. M. Wagner

Mrs. F. Elwood Deysher, of 113 Locust street, this city, has received word of the death of her son, Alfred C. Grosholtz, of pneumonia, following influenza at Hoffman's Island, N. Y., whither he had gone in preparation for embarkation for service overseas.

Young Grosholtz was 24 years old and well known here. He was born in Atlantic City and enlisted in the One Hundred and Eighth Field Artillery at Philadelphia in July, 1917. He received his training at Camp Hancock and was just ready to go abroad with his battery when he became sick less than a week ago.

Corporal Max M. Wagner, Company C, 521st Engineers, A. E. F., has advised his mother, Mrs. Julia Wagner, 179 Ridge Avenue, Steelton, of his safe arrival overseas. The corporal sends his best wishes to all his friends hereabouts.

Mrs. Raymond K. Fleisher, of this city, has received word from her husband, Corporal Raymond K. Fleisher, of the latter's safe arrival in France. He left with the Dauphin county quota July 26. Before sailing for France he was stationed at Camp Lee, Va., with Company M, infantry, leaving September 14 for overseas. The corporal was formerly an employee of the Packard-Motor Car Company's branch in this city.

Another safe arrival overseas is that of John W. Burd, of 1839 Fulton street, who received his preparatory training at Camp Lee, Va. He was formerly a brakeman in the Erie yards.

Advices have reached this city telling of the safe arrival in France

FANATIC WITH PISTOL ARRESTED

(Continued From First Page)

After questioning Boone the police announced that they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

Boone was unarmed when searched at the police station and the police said they did not believe that he had any wrong motive in seeking to reach the President. Norris street, this city, have recovered the revolver that was shot at Boone, as saying, "I guess I went a little too far."

COUNTY OFFICES WERE OPEN The office of the Directors of the Poor was open a short time yesterday in order to afford relief to needy persons in the influenza epidemic. Several calls were made for prompt attention. Several marriage licenses were issued by the deputy recorder, the marriage license office being open until noon.

BUY U. S. S.