

CITY TO CELEBRATE "CHURCHLESS SUNDAY" BECAUSE OF INFLUENZA QUARENTINE

IN THE RELIGIOUS WORLD

At the general conference session of the United Evangelical Church held at York, recently, the election of the general officers was fraught with great interest.

Many prominent church leaders are represented in the call to prayer. Men and women with a faith that will not shrink from the heaviest of them, are bowing before God.

For those who fight and die for us. For an appreciation of the issues involved in the war.

For the coming of the kingdom of brotherhood and good will and God; for a revival of the faith that there shall be ultimately an end to war and the dawning of the reign of peace.

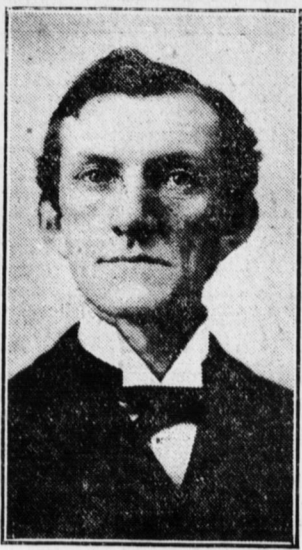

Four months of a new pastorate at the Second Reformed church, have done much to restore the former healthy condition of that congregation.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise splitting the breakfast in a cold, foul tongue, with a head-ache, acid stomach, lame back, and, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the mouth and throat with a disinfectant.

We should drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins.

been developed. During the nearly two years of his absence at the Mexican border, Camp Hancock, Ga., the congregation suffered from the lack of leadership until the first of June this year when the duties of the church leadership were assumed by the newly-elected minister, the Rev. Alfred Nevin Sayres.

The Rev. Mr. Sayres is a native of Lancaster. He was born and reared in that city and educated in its public schools, and a graduate of the Lancaster High school in 1909, and a post-graduate of the Commercial department in 1910.

During this same period he served as an assistant minister in the West Park Presbyterian Church, corner of Third and Market streets, and as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Market and Second streets, in Lancaster, Pa.

Our Rev. Sayres does not come to our city unacquainted, but has a host of friends here outside of, as well as within his parish. He joins with the members of the congregation in inviting all persons having no other church affiliations to enjoy the fellowship of their services.

LUTHERANS UNITE SYNODS

Plan to Merge the Several Branches Into One Organization

On Thursday, November 14, representatives of more than three-quarters of a million of confirmed Lutherans will meet in New York formally to organize the United Lutheran Church in America.

Their first synod was organized in 1748, and new synods have been forming rapidly ever since. A synod represents the congregations of a state or part of a state.

Every one of these synods, and the three general bodies, The General Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in North America, The General Synod of the Lutheran Church in the United States and The United Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the South, have voted singly and severally in favor of this union.

On Tuesday, November 12, each of the three bodies met separately in New York. The General Synod will meet in St. James' Church at Madison avenue and Seventy-third street, the General Council in Holy Trinity church, Central Park West and Sixty-fifth street, the United Synod in the Church of the Advent, Broadway and Ninety-third street.

A complete constitution for the government of the new body and of its boards will be prepared and adopted by all the synods. This constitution is acknowledged by all to reflect the faith, spirit and practice of the Lutheran Church.

LUTHERAN MEN REACH FRANCE

Church Commissioners Will Carry Greetings to Military Leaders Overseas

A cablegram has just been received at the National Lutheran Commission headquarters in New York that its two commissioners recently sent to France have safely arrived in Paris.

The occasion for the visit is the repeated invitation of the Lutheran churches of France to the American Lutherans to send fraternal delegates and plan mutual assistance for war work.

There are a little over 100,000 French Lutherans. The congregations are grouped in the section of Montebellard, near the German boundary in Alsace, and in about thirty French parishes.

With the entry of America into the war the French Lutheran churches have organized to take care of the Lutheran boys coming over with the American Army, not only to bring them the comfort and encouragement of their religion, but to bid them welcome and make them feel at home on a foreign soil.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS NOT A SPENT FORCE, MINISTER SAYS

Big Rally of This Church Organization Is Planned, to Be Held in Harrisburg After "Flu" Epidemic Is Checked

Who said that Christian Endeavor is a spent force, and that the church is getting a grip on the epidemic? Not on your feet that must be one of those pipe dreams which a minister had after he was thrown out of the pulpit by the higher authorities for indecency, or one of those minor mistakes commonly known as unbecoming to a minister.

That catchword, "spent force," was started some years ago when a minister, in a pessimistic mood, who applied it in his address to all church organizations, not only to Christian Endeavor, but to the Sunday school and the church itself.

As for Christian Endeavor, it is as strong now as when that remark was first uttered. The Christian Endeavorers are better organized for greater efficiency each year, and they are having field secretaries who give their whole time to Christian Endeavor.

The denominations, with one or two exceptions, are more and more coming to Christian Endeavor, many having adopted the society, like production and conservation, in Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. work.
