GONE FOR GOOD

Results That Last Are What Appeal to Harrisburg People

Kidney sufferers in Harrisburg want more than temporary relief.

They want results that last—

Results like Mrs. Moore tells about.

Here was a thorough test.

Four years is a long time.

Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test and stood it well.

Why experiment with an untried medicine?

People here in Harrisburg have shown the way.

Read the story of Mrs. L. W. Moore, 935 North Third street. She says: "Ever since an operation a year ago I have had trouble with my kidneys. My back felt weak and pained me almost constantly. My kidneys acted irregularly and caused me much annoyance. I felt all run down and my nerves were in awful condition. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a world of good." (Statement given August 29, 1914.)

LASTING BENEFIT

On January 27, 1916, Mrs. Moore said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney complaint some time ago. For about a year I have been free from all kidney ailments."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Moore had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas by means of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a detergent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peppin pills or artificial digestives.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." G. A. Gorgas.

CAPT. NICODEMUS GETS PROMOTION

Former Governor's Troop Officer Has Been Made Major in Quartermaster Corps

MAJOR EDWIN A. NICODEMUS, Captain Edwin A. Nicodemus, for many years an officer of the Governor's Troop and lately serving in France as an aid on the staff of the commander of the 28th (Keystone) Division, has been promoted to major in the Quartermaster Corps of the United States Army and has been assigned to duty at Camp Meade, Admiral, Md., with the 11th Division. He is an assistant quartermaster on the division staff.

Major Nicodemus sailed with the Pennsylvania Division for France, April 28, 1918, and returning to the country, reached Hoboken, September 17. After a short furlough at his home here, he reported to the Quartermaster General's office at Washington, and was ordered to service at Camp Meade. He was given choice of assignments and preferred the Maryland camp.

Major Nicodemus enlisted as a private in the Governor's Troop of cavalry in the Pennsylvania National Guard in 1891. He was later appointed assistant surgeon with the rank of first lieutenant in the troop, serving as such from August 1, 1901 to May 28, 1910. During the Spanish War, in 1898, he served as first lieutenant of the troop and was in Porto Rico with the expedition to that island. Resuming his place as surgeon on the reorganization of the National Guard after the Spanish War, he remained in that position until 1910, when the formation of the First Pennsylvania Cavalry made changes and he was elected first lieutenant of the troop.

When the call was made for service at the Mexican border in 1916, Lieutenant Nicodemus went to Mount Gretna with the troop and was later assigned to service with the Keystone Division under Major General Clement and Muir. He was sent to France some time before the division sailed. After five months' service in the war zone in France he was ordered back to the United States for duty at one of the cantonments and the assignment to Camp Meade and his promotion have just been announced.

Forrest Hunter and Dr. Hartman Recovering

Marked improvement in the conditions of two well-known residents of Harrisburg who were stricken recently with influenza was announced today from the Keystone Hospital, whose chief, Dr. G. W. Hartman, has been ill with the disease since last Wednesday, and from the home of Forrest Hunter, 215 North Front street, where the latter has been sick for the last two weeks. Both cases were checked in time to avert pneumonia, and they are recovering.

Overwork, it is thought, brought the disease to Dr. Hartman, who took to his bed last Wednesday, but was up and about his duties at the hospital last Saturday afternoon and Sunday, when overexertion caused a relapse.

At the residence of Mr. Hunter it was said that he is progressing nicely.

Over-Religious Frenchman Found by Roy Shelly as Big Shells Fall at Front

Roy Shelly, a Steleton boy with an ambulance corps in France, in a letter to one of his friends here relates a rather humorous experience, even though it does not speak any to well for his knowledge of the French language. "Let me tell you," he writes, "a good joke on myself. In a decent offensive, I was busy post-de-secour. Fritz had been sending over our way quite a number of shells, some of them falling quite close to the car. There was with me on the driver's seat a wounded Frenchman, and as the shells struck rather close to us, he turned to me and remarked rather anxiously: 'Pray, pray,' to which I replied, 'Pray yourself, old fellow. I have been praying for the last half hour.' All the way back to the hospital, every time a shell struck anywhere close to us, he gave me the same injunctions, pray, pray, I began to think he was just a little over-religious, and when we came to the hospital I told some of the boys about him. Then some one that knew more French than I put me wise: 'Pray? He never meant that you should pray. What he meant was 'pres,' pronounced like 'pray,' but meaning 'close, near.' Well, the joke may be on me, but even at that, the Frenchman was a chump to think I did not know they were close, for, boy, believe me, when those shells are dropping near, there is no need to be told about it."

In reference to the fighting, Shelly says "We surely are giving the Huns something to think about. You must hand it to the Yanks. I was never so proud of the fact that I am an American. The French, who are old war veterans, marvel at the ability and the manner in which the Yanks are tackling the Huns. Our boys do not lay much stress on ceremony; they believe in action and plenty of it. And, if for any reason the gun or bayonet fails they fall back on the good old flat fighting. The other day I saw a Boche who had a badly dislocated left shoulder, and whose face showed unmistakable signs of coming into sudden contact with some hard object. A French doctor asked him what had happened to him. The Hun's face was too badly mashed for him to answer very well, but he muttered 'American,' and made several gestures with his right fist. I do not know who the American was that battered him up, but evidently he had some hard first, for he surely did do a good job with that Boche."
