TO WIPE OUT ATHLETICS IN SHIPYARDS; TECH, GUIDED BY COACH SMITH, PLAYS GAME

Tech Tamed Tome Terrors; Coach Smith Smiled, Rumor

Talk about Marshal Foch and all the other strategists— how about this foxy coach for Tech High football, one Smith? Too bad, they did not have him over there right now; he would tie the Huns up in a running bowline knot and shoot them to Berlin with a forward pass. When Tech arrived at Port Deposit bright and early last Saturday the yahoos of that burg spread all the coin they could dig up on the home—er—that is, the home team. Treat 'em rough' was the word passed to the home warriors, who began to have some fear as soon as Carl Beck hove in view with his corrugated neck, which suggests an old-fashioned plano leg. When taps sounded it was found that Carl had been fairly active; but for that matter, every Tech player was a hero, with the result that the tally totaled 67-0. Tech is getting so used to these lopsided scores that it will be a blow when some one heads her off. Leave that to Coach Smith.

Mr. Smith is emotional only when some one makes a poor play, this being his cue to bit through a rell-able cigar, while the ruby-red countenance turns violent crimson, his eyes suggesting two violets in a bucket of blood. It is not very harmonious for the athlete who sets Coach Smith on edge in this fashion. The Tech boys have discovered this and so on Saturday they showed vast improvement, of the seven attempted forward passes five being perfected.

Ready For Its Soldiers

Missoula, Mont. — The Bitter Root, Blackfoot, St. Regis, Clark's Fork, Kootenai and Flathead Valleys may become homes for returned soldiers and soldiers and saliors if a movement now on foot to seek aid from Congress in reclaiming logged-off lands for distribution among the warriors proves a success. There are millions of acres fit for agricultural purposes in these valleys.

W. H. Graves, of San Francisco, hydraulic engineer, has been employed by the United States Reclamation Service to make an intensive survey of logged-off lands in district No. 1, of the United States Forest Service, whose headquarters is in Missoula. Mr. Graves has begun work in the district, which includes forests in Montana, Northern Idaho and parts of Washington.

St. Mary's Trimmed Tarsus

The St. Mary's Catholic Club, of Steelton, opened its football season Saturday by defeating the Tarsus School of Gymnestics by a score of 24 to 2. The game was rough and tumble throughout the entire four periods. The crowd was interfering through the whole game and the St. Mary's boys had to use straight football and a few successful forward passes.

pleased to find practice in full swing.

Seventy men are in the squad, and several crews, including eights, fours and twos, take the water daily. John Fitzpatrick is being assisted by Captain Paxton, stroke of last year's varsity, and until a short time ago was helped by Campbell, of the varsity and Chisholm, last year's Freshman captain, both of whom have now left college to enter officers training camps. The material for the Freshman boats appears quite promising and includes Doremus, who rowed last sping on the Cornell Freshman crew; Mine and Creswell, of St. Paul's School, and Page, of Choate.

A regatta is to be held at the close of the season, the chief event of which will probably be a race between crews representing the Students' Army Training Corps and the Princeton Naval Unit.

New Goose Species Found in California

San Francisco, Cal. — A new goose has been discovered in California, According to a paper written by H. S. Swarth and Harold C. Bryant, of the University of California, two well-defined subspecies of the white-frented goose ((Anser albifrons), called by the hunters speckled bellied goose, occur in California during the winter months, where but a sinsle race has been heretofore recognized.

The new "tule goose" or "timber goose" is distinguished from its relative, the common white-fronted goose, by its greater size, its call notes, its browner tints, its yellow eye ring and the possession of a greater number of tail feathers. To any one shandling the birds in the fiesh the difference between the two are obvious beyond dispute.

War, pugilism, theology and tuberculosis are closely interlinked in a letter which comes from the Southland. Down in El Paso, Tex., writing on a letter-head of the Young Men's Christian Association the Rev. Frederick Wedge sat at the correspondence table a few days ago and wrote to Ray Pearson who remarks:

"This Rev. Wedge is the same "Kid" Wedge who in his younger days was a welterweight pugilist and later quit the professional ring to enter the ministry and fight the battle against the two-horned guy. When war was declared by the United States, Parson Wedge entered the new fight for world safety and for many months was located at Camp Grant in this own way. His letter follows:

"El Paso, Tex.—When I left Camp Grant Base Hospital in March, the army physician gave me from two to three months to live, pronouncing wilder to such a thing when men are needed to knock out the Kaiser.

Dr. W. A. Latimore and Dr. R. V. Swanton, of the Thornburg Gun Club, and L. C. Brink, a prominent hunter and oil operator of Bradford, Pa., returned Saturday from their hunting trip to Allam Water, Ontario, bringing back with them two large moose. The one shot by L. C. Brink, had horns with a spread of 55 inches being the largest moose killed this season, if not the largest killed for a long time. The one shot by Dr. Latimore was not so large, but the doctor was not so large, but the doctor was not so large enough for him. Dr. Swanton was not so fortunate, although he saw several but was not close enough to take a shot at them. The hunters report the country to be very wild. The weather was so warm they hunted in their shirt sleeves. It appears they went alltitle too early to accomplish much. There are no ducks in that vicinity, which is one of the game they wanted outside of the moose. They also report a large number of Geer in that section. The flunters had a narrow escape one day when Dr. Swanton's canoe upset while the doctor was trying to catch a duck, throwing him ard his guide into the lake, but continued by both of them were good swemmers, and outside of a good wetting no harm was done. Sumplies Tanks For To Motor Truck

Pennsylvania should save 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline during the months of October and November, for the immediate use of the Army and Navy.

Your Share of This

There are approximately 30,000 commercial cars in operation in the state. If you drivers will stop your motors during idle periods and when your trucks are standing at the curb, you will contribute nearly half the total

or 2,250,000 gallons

Think what that means! What a simple, easy thing it is for you to do! But what vast and far reaching results it has! Surely Pennsylvania can count on her truck drivers to do their share!

Passenger car owners by conservative driving—saving a gallon a week-will add to the saving 3,500,000 gallons.

Regular tourists by giving up their trips this fall will swell the total by another 500,000 gallons.

And Pennsylvania will once more come through with a record at home fully in keeping with the untarnished record of her sons in France.

> This movement means much to truck owners. The conservation of 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline will make a total saving of $1,400,000, thus making more money available for Liberty Bonds.
