MAIL, MESS AND MONEY FOR HIM

Soldiers Always Look Forward to These Three; "Y" Is Nxt to Home

Raymond H. Suydam, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Suydam, 222 Locust street, one of Steelton's well known boys now in service in France, has written another interesting letter to the folks at home. It was written to his brother Harold, who is a student in the Steelton High school. The letter follows: "Dear Brother:—I sure was glad to receive so many letters from home in the last mail. There are three "Ms" a soldier always looks forward to and they are Mail, Mess and Money. We certainly do get enough to eat but it is coming along the same thing. Two vegetables I leave when I leave the army are string beans and carrots."

"We get nice white bread over here as the government has its own bakeries. We can get milk also for $1.00 a quart but we must pay $1.00 for two tomatoes. We haven't seen corn since we left the States. It grows in the southern part of France, but not around here. We are getting railroad tracks and we work in all kinds of weather. If it rains we put on our gum boots and rain coats and keep on working. The improvement of affairs, however, will in no way warrant any less care being taken by the residents of the town, and will not make the cleanup scheduled for next week any less thorough. Chief Grove will insist upon a thorough cleanup and will confer with the health officer in enforcing the cleanup order in the town. The health officer will in all probability be in the town for a cleanup of the interior of homes in the unsanitary sections of the town."

PRIVATE RECOVERING - John Alleman of Eshart was yesterday notified of the improvement of his son, Private Earl R. Alleman, of the 112th Machine Gun Company, who reports to be in good health and in operation in a base hospital in France.

GEORGE RODOSEVICH - George Rodosevich, of 345 Meyers street, died last night with influenza. He was 28 years old. Burial will be made Sunday in the Baldwin Cemetery.

WILL BUILD GARAGE - A building permit has been issued to Martin Boxyak for the building of a garage on his property at Second and Dupont streets.

FRANK D. CARNEY OPENS OFFICERS IN NEW YORK - Frank D. Carney, well known in Steelton as formerly assistant general manager of the local steel plant, has resigned from his position in Bethlehem as chief metallurgist, and has opened offices in New York city as a consulting metallurgist.

KATIE KADOSVIC - Katie Kadosvic, aged 40, died yesterday of influenza. Funeral will be held Sunday and burial made in the Baldwin Cemetery.

Soft Drink Makers to Get Less Sugar - Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—The food administration has ordered another drastic cut in the supply of sugar. Yesterday manufacturers of soft drinks were notified to reduce their consumption 75 per cent. Manufacturers of soft drinks will also receive only 50 per cent of the amount of sugar they used during the summer.

Studied in Philadelphia - "He received his training in Philadelphia ten years ago. The French government sent five of them to University of Pennsylvania to study the American method of dental work. Now each one has charge of a dental hospital somewhere in France. "His English is fine. He seems to be about 40 years old and is dressed in a military uniform. He was glad to talk with some one who was in the same place where he studied four years. He said he liked the American customs very much."

Railroad Notes - C. T. O'Neil, general superintendent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, has been appointed terminal manager of the railroads at Buffalo.

The employees of the Schuylkill division of the Pennsylvania railroad will be paid in this city for the first half of October, on Monday, October 28.

Speeding eastward over Pennsylvania at 50 miles an hour, Quaker City express ran into a pile of coal near Bellwood and narrowly escaped being wrecked. Only the front truck of the locomotive was derailed. Coal was spilled on the tracks when the hopper of a coal car was jarred open.

H. W. Cathcart, fuel inspector of the Reading division is seriously ill at his home, 913 Pear street, with double pneumonia.

Lewis Berger, a passenger engineer on the Reading railway, running between Cressona and Lykens, dropped dead while riding his locomotive at the Cressona roundhouse.

Noonday Prayer For Red Cross Workers

In accordance with the request received from the national Red Cross Headquarters that local chapters observe the silent minute for prayer at noon every day for the success of the American and Allied armies, the local chapter will observe the silent minute officially as soon as the quarantine will allow them to resume work at the chapter headquarters. In the meanwhile the officers ask that every member observe the minute of prayer in their own homes or wherever they may be at noon. This is a commendable move and it is to be regretted that this order was not issued a long time ago.

Mrs. W. H. Nell has been named chairman of the committee to handle the Christmas boxes for the boys overseas. The rules made by the War and Post Office departments and the Red Cross for the sending of these packages were published in the newspapers some time ago. The packages will be forwarded except in special cases to the rules then established. Cartons will be provided by the local chapter of Red Cross to all persons having the regulation government labels which are in possession of the boys overseas to their relatives here.

Influenza Epidemic Is Rapidly Waning

The influenza epidemic is rapidly waning according to all the reports from physicians and the emergency hospital. Very few new cases were reported by local physicians and only two new patients have been received since Friday morning in the emergency hospital. In the same period of time the emergency hospital reports only one death. With this improvement continuing there is every reason to believe that the first of the month will see the lifting of the quarantine in Steelton. The improvement of affairs, however, will in no way warrant any less care being taken by the residents of the town, and will not make the cleanup scheduled for next week any less thorough. Chief Grove will insist upon a thorough cleanup and will confer with the health officer in enforcing the cleanup order in the town. The health officer will in all probability be in the town for a cleanup of the interior of homes in the unsanitary sections of the town."

Wilson Appeal Reflects Democratic Desperation in Congressional Elections - Washington, Oct. 26.—Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, Republican, said last night concerning the Wilson appeal for votes: "This is not Wilson's war or the Democratic party's war, but the war of the American people. Wilson needs all the help he can get, but he is, after all, only a part of the government. When it comes to negotiations for peace the Senate comes to play equally with him. No treaties can be made without the consent of the Senate, and I have no hesitation in saying for one that the American people will desire greater assurance that we will have no peace except by surrender and no economic arrangements that do not look first and foremost to the protection of American industries, with a Republican Senate than with a pacifist, free trade Democratic majority prevailing in the Senate."

Chamber of Commerce to Urge Fire Prevention - A special committee representing the civic division of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce has been appointed to take charge of arrangements for the proper observation of fire prevention day, one week from today.

United States Fuel Administration Oil Division - WASHINGTON, D. C. M. L. REOUA, General Director. IN YOUR REPLY REFER TO OIL-17-G. October 18, 1918. The Atlantic Refining Company, 3144 Passunk Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa. Gentlemen: My attention has been called to the efforts of your Company in its work in the conservation of gasoline. I am writing to say that I appreciate the effective support that is being given in this connection and hope that each one of its employees will lend their aid and co-operation to furthering the Company's patriotic efforts in this important matter.

Gasoline is a vital war necessity. No army today can fight without it and it is essential that the supply thereof be kept ample on the fighting fronts in France. A direct shortage of gasoline was the cause of the gas-lineless Sundays, and while these Sundays are now discontinued, there is still a shortage and it is being left to the patriotic conscience of the operators of automobiles to comply with the Fuel Administration's request for a continued saving in its use.

All that you do to aid in fostering this conservation movement, even though it may mean that you will sell fewer gallons, will be a direct aid in helping to win the war and your support is heartily appreciated.

Thanking you in the name of Conservation, Yours faithfully, UNITED STATES FUEL ADMINISTRATION OIL DIVISION W. CHAMPLIN ROBINSON, Director of Oil Conservation.

Troop 13's Knot Board

Some months ago at a meeting of a scout troop, it was decided to have each patrol add something of scout interest to the decoration of the scout room. The Cobra patrol had at once a meeting and called into its assistance an employee of the Bell Telephone Company who helped them in arranging the following: That is the knot board consisting of twenty-nine knots which all scouts should know. Now tying knots might be a simple matter for any scout, but to tie them neatly and correctly and then fastening them to a board in a way that any tenderfoot could see how the knots were tied is a difficult job. The first question of a good board arose. It could not be too bulky nor large and it had to have a smooth surface and every knot great honors. This board has placed a big burden on Troop 13 as a scout has a right to say he can't tie these knots. The knots on the board are as follows: Over hand knot, granny knot, square knot, figure eight knot, thief knot, single reef knot, fisherman's bend or anchor knot, whipping or butting, half, slip or running knot, bowline, running oval, timber hitch, timber hitch and half hitch, sheep shank, sheep shank and spare knot, backwall hitch, carrick bend, single carrick bend, handcuff hitch, and a fisher's paw.—By Scribe Fenstermacher.

Gasoline Every Day - The saving of gasoline by Pennsylvania motorists alone during September, by patriotic compliance with the "Gasless Sunday" request, was about 15% of the normal consumption of gasoline in the State. From 2,250,000 to 2,500,000 gallons were saved.

Motorists should continue to save at this rate, because of the vital needs for gasoline to drive airplanes, ambulances, motor trucks, tanks, tractors, submarine chasers and other war engines for early victory.

5,000,000 gallons can be saved during October and November Savings now, by avoidance of all waste, whether due to inefficient operation or unnecessary use of cars, will in all probability permit you to use your car regularly and without further official measures, for all justifiable uses.

"Save a gallon a Week" The lifting of the "Gasless Sunday" request means that the saving must be made every day. Without hardship, we can continue to do our duty every day by saving the same amount that was saved on September Sundays. This can be done by conservative use of cars and by proper attention to every detail of operation.
