

DEMOCRATS CARE NOTHING FOR FACT IN THEIR CLAIMS

Statement of Democratic Committee Not in Accord With Official Data

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—The Democratic National Committee issues a statement that under the Democratic party's leadership, the United States now has "approximately two million men overseas, all armed, equipped, and supplied as they should be, with the shipping

Better come to, and buy it now while you can get a Good, Guaranteed Car without being "soaked" for it.

We still have a few Used REOS that have been put into first-class mechanical condition and sold on the same guarantee as a new one.

And, by the way, we have a couple of New REOS that are waiting for some lucky guy. Are you the one?

YANKEE REGIMENT ADOPTS ORPHANS

Company G of the 101st Regiment was stationed back of Verdun. They met on Easter morning and realizing what Verdun had cost the French, they wrote to the American Red Cross: "We have decided to adopt a little boy with blue eyes whose father fell at Verdun."

The American Red Cross replied, sending a picture of a little boy of required specifications, whose mother worked in a munitions factory.

It also neglects to state the fact that when it became evident to all military experts during the German drive of last spring, that our contribution of man power must be increased, the President Wilson and the War Department, in recognition of this crisis, asked that the draft bill be amended so as to increase our overseas army, the Democratic party leaders and the majority of the Democratic members of the House, opposed amending the draft law as the President and the War Department requested.

It is true that our overseas armies are armed, equipped and supplied as they should be, but the Democratic National Committee neglects to state the very important fact that this is because England is clothing them, and England and France are equipping them with artillery of all calibers, and with air craft.

As to the statement that the shipping situation has been met, let the official figures answer.

Of more than 1,500,000 American soldiers transported to Europe up to October 1st, American vessels carried only 786,000; the remainder were carried in vessels loaned this government by Great Britain, France and Italy.

No longer ago than October 14th, Sir Eric Geddes, First Lord of the British Admiralty, in an address in New York, warned this country of a new U-boat drive and said that the greatest need of the hour was for an increase in the output of destroyers.

Had the Democratic party not stood almost as a unit against a bigger navy during the three years immediately preceding the American entrance into the war, the United States would now have a navy that would be sharing equal honor with the British fleet in protecting the high seas from German U-boats, in conveying American soldiers to France and taking care of American exports.

DR. TOPE URGES SENATOR SPROUL

Head of Anti-Saloon League in Philadelphia Calls For His Election as Governor

The Rev. Dr. Homer W. Tope, district superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, yesterday issued a statement in which he said that the question to be put before the next Legislature in Pennsylvania is: Shall the amendment to the Constitution of the United States be ratified?

The only way to have a majority in each House is necessary. The only way to have a majority in each House of the Legislature is to elect them on November 5. The Governor's wishes in such matters have large influence on the members of the Legislature.

Kitchener's Death Work of Czarina

New York, Oct. 25.—In an address last night before the Division of Pictorial Publicity at the Saturday Club, Commissioner Henry W. Mapp, head of the Salvation Army in Russia, who has just returned from that country, made the direct private wire from the apartment of the Czarina in the Winter Palace in Petrograd to Potsdam that all information in regard to the military plans of the Allies received by Russia was conveyed to the German Government.

The sinking of the ship on which Lord Kitchener was lost was accomplished through the treachery of the former empress, according to Mr. Mapp, who telegraphed all information in regard to the Kaiser's proposed visit directly to the Kaiser.

The Czarina, was the great force in Russia, Mr. Mapp said. "All information that Russia received from the Allies regarding their plans was immediately conveyed to her and she sent it to Germany. The Kaiser controlled Russia. The corruption, treachery, and intrigue in the Russian Court was terrible. Munition plans were blown up at the instruction of the Germans and unbelievable damage to the allied cause was effected through the treachery of the former empress. If the revolution had not taken place, the Germans would have been able to lead the allied cause to destruction. Bad as the situation is now, it is not to be compared with the conditions which existed under Czarism. The downfall of the Czar's regime was the greatest possible advantage to the Allies."

Bishop Darlington Says Christian Union Coming; Dines With Archbishop

New York, Oct. 25.—The coming of a Christian Union similar to the one which was formed in 1895 and which was destroyed in 1915, is predicted last night by Bishop Darlington of Harrisburg, Pa., at a dinner here in honor of Archbishop Miletich of Philadelphia, who is in America on a government mission.

The dinner at the metropolitan was the first of the relief committee for Greece of Asia Minor. The metropolitan, in an address, asserted that Greece, above all other nations, appreciates America's entry into the war "to bind the wounds of the suffering Christians because Greeks in Asia Minor for 500 years have suffered under the Turkish yoke."

Reichstag Gets the American Answer

London, Oct. 25.—President Wilson's peace note was received in Berlin in the course of Thursday's sitting of the Reichstag, which immediately adjourned, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. Discussion of the note was taken up in sectional meetings of the Reichstag members.

This is Thomas Montgomery, a Harrisburg boy who has been doing his bit as a member of Company E, 60th Engineer Regiment, in France. Thomas, who has a couple of live brothers who are messengers for the Postal, lives on Delaware street and was employed by the Post office here until he enlisted right after the war began. He was trained at Washington barracks and then sent to various camps.

Best Selling Book To-day:—"How I made all the Republicans Democrats."

The star-gazer says this will be a good day for George Johnson, professor at the Harrisburg Country Club, for a beneficent match handicap, is to be run off for him by as many members as can get on their links. Mr. Johnson has been in this city now for several years and has done much toward promoting the link game in these parts. Appreciating his work, it is expected that a large turnout will put in an appearance.

Lewistown, Oct. 25.—Justice of the peace W. P. Searer shot a fine specimen of the red fox while hunting squirrel on Thursday. The fox was the hide mounted for his parlor. Justice Searer took one of the same species one year ago when Reynard undertook to stalk the same turkey as the justice. He let the festive bird pass by and took the fox. The red fox has become rare and their pelts are selling around the quarter of a century mark to say nothing of the bounty on the scalp.

Millville, N. J., Oct. 25.—Game warden Philiber exhibited a ring-neck pheasant here today and related the most remarkable story of the bird flying in front of a southbound electric train below Clayton and breaking the round glass window of car into a hundred pieces. The motorist picked the bird up from the floor and its only injury apparently was a broken wing. It was turned over to Station Agent C. Wood Smith, warden. The pheasant was killed in the forest at Cumberland.

Vineland, N. J., Oct. 25.—Rudolph Beu, of this place, shot and killed a buck deer near Tuckahoe yesterday that weighed 395 pounds, the largest and finest specimen ever seen here. It was a "blue stanger," having nine snags on each antler, denoting, the hunter said, that it was ten years old. Albert Ranagan and Bowman & Company are showing in their window the home flag of the Hick-a-Thrift Club, of Pine Street Presbyterian Church, which includes 117 twinklers, three of them gold. The heroes were Hicks Arnold, Hoagland, Noggle. According to Dr. Mudge this class tops all similar organizations in the country for number in service. While Benjamin Whitman, its teacher, is abroad with the Y. M. C. A., the class is being handled by J. Harry Messersmith and Eugene E. Miller.

Dover, Del., Oct. 25.—One of the largest, if not the largest, big-mouth bass ever seen in this locality, was caught by State Commissioner of Education of Delaware, Prof. A. R. Spaid, at Silver Lake, north of Dover which weighed seven pounds and ten ounces, measured 23 inches long, 16 inches across and the tail when spread measured seven inches. The mouth opened measured 4 by 4. Prof. Spaid caught the fish in a reel with a medium-sized hook.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—The $16,000 donated to war charities from the world's service receipts will be divided among the Y. M. C. A., National Catholic War Council, Young Women's Christian Association, Salvation Army, American Library Association, and the War Camp Community Service, Secretary of War John Baker advised President Ban Johnson of the American League, to-day.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 25.—Imbued with pep and confidence, Franklin and Marshall's football eleven will leave for Chester to-morrow morning to engage in conflict with the M. C. team in the former's opening game.

The Blue and White eleven, despite the "flue" inroads, should not be taken as a crippled outfit. Strenuous practice for the past two weeks have put the eleven on an edge and crased out some noticeable defects. Several hundred students and followers will accompany the eleven to quarterback; C. Marshall, left halfback; Powers or H. Brown, right halfback, and E. Mellinger fullback.

WAR CONDITIONS ALTER OLD ACT

Attorney General Makes Ruling in Regard to Election Commissioners of Today

Changed conditions will permit the State of Pennsylvania to send election commissioners to camps and naval training stations in the United States on a basis of one commissioner for each 1,200 or 1,500 men instead of one to each regiment as provided in the act of 1864 under which the Governor has appointed commissioners according to an opinion given to Adjutant General Frank D. Beary by Attorney General Francis Shunk Brown. The plan of sending a commissioner to each regiment was followed in 1895 and again in 1915 when the Pennsylvanians were in active service on the Mexican border. Last year conditions were changed owing to the operation of the draft law and the scattering of men through various camps. The number of commissioners to be named this year will depend upon responses from camp commanders to the inquiries of the adjutant general as to the Pennsylvanians under their authority.

Italian Poet Flyer Enthuses the British; Fearless and Untiring

London, Sept. 26.—The air exploits of Gabriele d'Annunzio, the Italian poet, novelist and dramatist, have taken a strong hold on the British public's imagination, and he is acclaimed here as one of the world's foremost figures in aerism. The London papers, which recently have been devoting considerable space to the daring Italian, express surprise that a man of his age and temperament is able to make so remarkable a success as an aviator. Few expected, the Daily "Express" says, that the "dandy Roman poet" would become an aviator after passing the fiftieth birthday.
