

Kaiser Now Knows Our Airmen's Value

John D. Ryan, Chief of the Aerobics Division of the United States Army, at a Liberty Loan rally in the 71st Regiment Armory, said that the Air Service of the United States is in excellent condition, and that the Kaiser has been cognizant of this fact for several months. He told of the valuable service rendered by bombing planes and observers in General Pershing's recent thrust.

"America will win the war," Mr. Ryan said. And to prove his convictions he subscribed to a $25.00 bond. President Wilson sent a message, taking another $1,000 bond. James G. Thompson, former Ambassador to Germany, said:

In the Treatment of Influenza Coughs and Colds and in the Prevention of Pneumonia

One should not overlook a Massachusetts product of great value in such cases, OXIDAZE TABLETS, to be had at most of the drug stores and carried by all leading jobbing houses. Many friends who have used them during the past few years themselves and in their families, with the best results. At this time, when Pneumonia is so prevalent, they call attention to the fact that in the city of Mexico, where these tablets were first tried out on a large scale, Dr. G. Pagenstecher, late director of the Am. Hospital there and a very prominent and greatly esteemed physician, reported as follows in 1910: "I have tried the remedy for two full years, and will say I do not know any better and more efficient cure for Pneumonia than Oxidaze. I have had the chance to cure several cases of suppurative Pneumonia." Years later he reported that his treatment for the prevention and cure of Pneumonia continued successful with Oxidaze Tablets. Dr. Frederick Hiller of the same city reported the same results after ten years' practice with them.

United War Work Representatives Hold Conference in Capitol Park When "Flu" Prevents Indoor Meet

The photograph—which includes many leading industrial, financial and religious leaders from the county—shows the conference of United War Work representatives held at Harrisburg on October 4, 1918.

The conference, attended by representatives from every one of the ten counties in the Sixth Pennsylvania District, was scheduled to be held in the House Caucus Chamber at the State Capitol. But the date of the meeting fell on the day when State Health Commissioner Royer placed his now famous Spanish influenza ban on all indoor meetings. The meeting could not be held in the State House as a result, and so the conference was called together under the stately trees of Capitol Park.

At this conference the organization work for the big ten-county district was practically completed and the quotas for each county were unanimously agreed upon. Take a sharp look and you will find men from this county in the group.

PRESIDENT SUPPORTS UNITED WAR WORK

"The White House, Washington, Sept. 3, 1918.

"My Dear Mr. Foslick:

"The War Department has recognized the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the National Catholic War Council (Knights of Columbus), the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community Service, the American Library Association, and the Salvation Army as accepted instrumentalities through which the men in the ranks are to be assisted in many essential matters of recreation and morale.

"This point of view is sustained by the necessity, which the war has forced upon us, of limiting our expenditures in such a way that two or three comprehensive campaigns shall take the place of a series of independent calls upon the generosity of the country.

"It has been gratifying to find such a fine spirit of co-operation among all the leaders of the organizations I have mentioned. This spirit and the patriotism of all the members and friends of these agencies give me confidence that the united war work campaign will be crowned with abundant success.

COMING OF PEACE MUST NOT WORK TO LABOR'S HURT

Sudden Idleness of Millions, Menace Which Should Be Averted

Washington, Oct. 28.—With peace talk everywhere in the air, the thought of the labor world is being directed toward what may happen when we wake up some morning and find that the war is over. Many are fearing that peace may bring a far greater immediate problem to the country than is now offered by war.

which will add more to the ranks of the unemployed. J. Calvin Brown author of "The Cure for Poverty," "Every American's Business," and other works, says, "In the panic of 1927, when there were only three million unemployed in America, this was sufficient to entirely close up and stop 44 per cent. of all manufacturing in the United States, and to reduce production of the remaining half. During that four years, general business fell off 47 per cent., or $64,000,000,000; wages fell 63 per cent. and unemployment dropped 61 per cent. It is estimated that the loss of wages alone during these four years exceeded $30,000,000,000."

ing that four years, general business fell off 47 per cent., or $64,000,000,000; wages fell 63 per cent. and unemployment dropped 61 per cent. It is estimated that the loss of wages alone during these four years exceeded $30,000,000,000." The Republican Senators are concentrating their efforts to secure an enactment of legislation that will adequately protect the country when peace comes. They do not want the wish to secure the passage of laws which will maintain American industry at or near its present working capacity. One of the methods they are considering is to insure the opening of the new foreign markets for American goods and to secure an outlet for our product. They want ways and means to be provided before peace comes, for they fear that after peace is positively assured, it may be too late.
